Best Practices: Accepting Industry Partner Invitations

The SchooLinks Industry Partner Network contains thousands of companies - both local and national. As you start to receive connections, consider these best practices to ensure your are adding the right comapnies to your network.

Follow District Policies

Create a set of guidelines for accepting industry partners requests. Make sure these are written down in a central location that is easily referenced.

Connect With Trusted Industry Partners

Reach out to industry partner invitations you don't recognize and find out what their districts initiatives are.

Control Who Can Accept Requests

Make sure to have a small select team, even just 1 indivudal, for processing all industry partner requests. This will allow there to be unity for all partners coming on board.
