

GET HELP MANAGING THE IMPACT OF CANCER IN THE WORKPLACE

Continued employment benefits everyone in the workplace after a diagnosis of cancer

- ✓ 14.5 million people in the US are cancer survivors. (American Cancer Society, 2014)
- ✓ 44% of those newly diagnosed with cancer are of "working age." (American Cancer Society, 2015)
- ✓ 73% of cancer survivors say they want to work. (Cancer and Careers/Harris Interactive Survey 2015)
- ✓ $7.5 billion is lost annually in productivity due to cancer-related disabilities.

(Journal of Occupational and Environmental Medicine, news release, Dec. 7, 2012)

PREPARE

Understand your role as a manager. Know the law and learn about accommodations.

SUPPORT

Get help managing diagnosed and caregiving employees.

ACT

Get help creating a transition plan for your employee.

Workplace Transitions is a free resource created to help you and your company (whether small or large) manage cancer in the workplace. It was designed to enhance the quality of life for people facing cancer and to improve employee retention, morale, and productivity. It offers guidance for managers, free resources for employees and managers, and support for companies of all sizes.

This eToolkit is designed to complement your company's existing policies and procedures. Knowing what your company already provides is important to your success.

GET HELP TODAY @
WorkplaceTransitions.org