1. What walls (distinctions, divisions) between different types or classes or groups of people are common in our society?
2. How has a relationship with Christ changed your relationships with people, especially with those who are different from you?
3. How does the changed relationship between Philemon and Onesimus speak to you? Are there any relationships in which you need to let the gospel of Christ shape your attitudes and treatment of others rather than cultural norms?
4. How would you like prayer in living this out in relationships?
