Eva Åkerman Börje is a Senior Policy Advisor in the Office of the Director-General of the International Organization for Migration in Geneva. Most recently she was the Senior Policy Advisor to the Special Representative of the UN Secretary General for International Migration in the UN Secretariat in New York.

Before joining the UN, Eva Åkerman Börje was the Director for Global Cooperation on International Migration and Development in the Department for Migration and Asylum Policy at the Swedish Ministry of Justice. Previously she served as the Swedish Ambassador for Cooperation on International Migration 2011–2014 and headed the Secretariat for the Swedish Chairmanship of the Global Forum on Migration and Development (GFMD) 2013–2014. Before that, she held the position of Director in the Department for Migration and Asylum Policy in the Swedish Ministry of Justice, being the focal point for work on the links between migration and development as well as for global cooperation on migration issues and the external dimension of the European Union’s migration policy.

Eva Åkerman Börje has specialized in asylum and migration policy and in European and international co-operation and has designed and negotiated both national and European policy and legislation in these fields. During the last Swedish presidency of the EU, she chaired the High-level Working Group on Asylum and Migration in the Council of Ministers. From 2003 to 2004, she was a Fellow at the Harvard Weatherhead Center for International Affairs and has previously served with the Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs, the European Commission in Brussels and the EFTA Secretariat in Geneva.
