Wyoming Ground Water Association Richard A. Stockdale Memorial Scholarship

Wyoming Ground Water Association is dedicated to the development and conservation of groundwater and has been a trade association protecting groundwater since 1965. WGWA aids in referring Wyoming citizens to member drilling and pump contractors, geologists, hydrologists, engineers, governmental employees, industry suppliers, and manufacturers.

To apply, it is necessary for the applicant to follow the steps below, and to complete the enclosed forms as directed. New for 2022, please submit your essay via email. Failure to do so will result in disqualification.

Eligibility: High school seniors or other individuals in a post-secondary education institution may apply. Any application will be accepted; however, a higher priority will be given to those applicants whose parent or other relative is a member of the Wyoming Ground Water Association.

Requirements: Applicant must be a full-time student, have a grade point average of 2.0 or better, ACT score, letter of recommendation, and provide a full transcript from their current educational institution. The winner(s) must also submit a thank you video for presentation at the annual WGWA convention.

Procedure: The applicant must complete the following application in full and submit it to the proper location BEFORE the deadline of January 5, 2022. Any application received after the deadline will not be eligible. Transcripts must accompany application.

Disbursement of Funds: Actual monies will be disbursed as follows: Winning applicants will be notified by March 1st. Proof of enrollment must be submitted by August 1st of each year. Upon receipt and verification by review committee, a check will be mailed to the college or university designated.

The scholarship application is also available on the website at www.wywaterwell.org.

WGWA will be awarding 5 scholarships for $2,500 each for the 2021-2022 school year.
