A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Do you have something you would like to say or share? Send it in.

Dear Editor,

I have read extensively in the national press about a toad rescue society TRS which at this time of year endeavours to protect amphibians crossing roads en route to breeding grounds such as Joyce's Pool. Despite enthusiastic volunteers we would need some funding. Could I prevail upon the good officers of the Beaufort Estate either with funds or the help of their Border Patrol team to assist in this matter. I am absolutely convinced that the management of the Beaufort Estate will be absolutely dedicated to the preservation of toads.

Yours sincerely,

Henry

One Life

ONE LIFE tells the true story of Sir Nicholas 'Nicky' Winton, a young London broker played by Johnny Flynn, who, along with Trevor Chadwick (played by Alex Sharp) and Doreen Warinner (played by Romola Garai) of the British Committee for Refugees in Czechoslovakia, rescued 669 children from the Nazis in the months leading up to World War II,. Nicky visited Prague in December 1938 and found families who had fled the rise of the Nazis in Germany and Austria, living in desperate conditions with little or no shelter and food, and under threat of Nazi invasion. He immediately realised it was a race against time. How many children could he and the team rescue before the borders closed? Fifty years later, it's 1988 and Nicky (played by Anthony Hopkins) lives haunted by the fate of the children he wasn't able to bring to safety in England; always blaming himself for not doing more. It's not until a live BBC television show, 'That's Life!', surprises him by introducing him to some surviving children – now adults – that he finally begins to come to terms with the guilt and grief he had carried for five decades.

LEIGHTERTON PRIMARY SCHOOL

One of our Fundamental British Values is democracy, and this is very important to us at Leighterton Primary School.

As we will be used as a Polling Station in May, when there will be an election for the Police Commissioner, we invited Luke Hall MP into our school to find out more about democracy. Luke Hall spoke with the whole school and told us about the Houses of Parliament, The Elizabeth Tower and Big Ben. We talked about The House of Commons and The House of Lords and found out what they were like inside. He told us that any new ideas have to go to the House of Commons and then to the House of Lords before the monarch before they can become law. Once the King signs them off, they become an Act of Parliament. We split the children into two groups and half of the school became the House of Commons while the other half became the House of Lords. Several children talked about issues that were important to them and one of them asked 'The House of Commons' to vote whether fossil fuels could be banned. Our 'House of Commons' agreed to this by voting for this and passed the discussion to our 'House of Lords'. Our 'House of Lords' discussed this but were concerned that people would not be allowed to use petrol in their cars, and amended the discussion so that only the unnecessary use of fossil would be banned. Our 'House of Lords' voted again, and this was agreed with our 'House of Lords' amendments included. Our 'King Charles' heard the reports and agreed with Parliament to make this a 'Leighterton Law'.

We were given the opportunity to ask Luke Hall questions about democracy and he asked us some questions too.

Next month, Mr Robert Wheeler, who is the Returning Officer at Cotswold District Council, will be visiting Leighterton to talk to us about what happens during an election. He is going to show us how people who visit a Polling Station collect a ballot paper and go into a booth to make their selection by putting a X next to the person they wish to vote for. He will also talk about how the voters will put their ballot paper into the ballot box and that this is a secret ballot. We will also find out about the ballot boxes being collected from the Polling Stations and taken to a centre where all of the votes will be counted and the winner declared.

Continued over>

This has made us think about how we are democratic at Leighterton Primary School. Each year, the children in Year 6 are able to put themselves forward as Captains and House Captains. They make a speech to try to persuade their peers to vote for them and then the children vote, using a secret ballot. These ballot papers are counted and our House Captains are elected.

We do have some spaces in just a few of our year groups and if you would like to find out more, please have a look at our website at: www.leighterton.com or contact Claire, in our school office (01666 890273), to arrange a convenient time to come and look round.

Our children enoyed asking Luke Hall MP questions about democracy.

Wiltshire Cricket Taster Day

The children enjoyed a fantastic 'cricket taster day' as part of the Wiltshire Cricket All Stars and Dynamos Roadshow for 5-11 year olds. As voted for by our School Council and their classmates, we'll be running free cricket after school clubs for Y1-6 pupils as one of our summer sports offerings. For more details about children's cricket sessions just get in touch with Sherston Magna Cricket Club.

New Y6 classroom furniture!

A huge thank you to the Friends of Sherston School from Year 6 for their fantastic new Sycamore class furniture!

World Book Day

We had a wonderful day celebrating World Book Day. The children enjoyed 'secret reader' story time with all the staff, 'book buddy' activities, our 'big book swap' and lots of other literary themed fun throughout the day. A big thank you to our Literacy Lead, Mr Moran for organising the day, and to Judith Parkyn Photography for capturing this special event for us.

YOUR MIND & BODY MATTERS

Did you know... Happiness is a combination of how satisfied we are with our life and how good we feel on a day to day basis.

It varies of course from person to person, but approximately 50% of our happiness is determined by genetics, 40% by our thoughts, actions and behaviours and only 10% by circumstance (e.g. rich or poor, healthy or unhealthy, married or single). So our actions really can make a difference!

Generating happiness... The way our brain generates emotions, such as happiness, is very complex and is yet to be fully investigated, It involves a complicated set of structures in the brain. The brain structures involved produce an opium like substance called dopamine that makes us feel good, especially when something is better than expected. In this way our brain teaches us to engage again in whatever behaviour lead to that stimulus. Humans have learned to short circuit the neuronal reward system with cigarettes, alcohol and drugs, all of which activate the dopamine receptors in the brain's pleasure centre - and signalise reward. The stimuli of these rewards is about 10 times more intense than food so these drugs are powerful motivators but of course we are now seeing this in processed food which is why we can form obsessions with all of them.

To most people, health and physical integrity are a basic prerequisite for a happy life but not everyone who is healthy is happy and not everyone who is sick is miserable. The reason, is our sensitivity to change. Our choices and our satisfaction are driven by the comparisons we make. Blows of fate, for instance temporarily affect happiness but as people become accustomed to a new situation its impact diminishes. This applies to both positive and negative events or life changes.

Yet happiness seems to have a substantial impact on our health. Happy people are less often affected by heart attacks, autoimmune disorders, diabetes, cancer and depression - the opposite of happiness!

Happy people are more likely to follow good self-care and have better social networks, both reliable indicators of good physical health.

The happiness formula... Positive emotions like pride, gratitude and joy aren't short-lived. They affect our wellbeing for the long term. Research shows that if we can have three times more positive emotions than negative ones, we can become more resilient and effective in our lives.

Research shows: Most laughter is not about humour, it's about bonding and relationships between people.

Laughter has power, it can lighten up the atmosphere, bring a group of people together and help people to feel good about themselves and make a challenging day so much easier.

Even tears are changed by a good laugh, sad tears can be turned to tears of joy and hilarity.

Humour is infectious. The sound of laughter is far more contagious than any cough, sniffle or sneeze.

Apríl 1984 AS 'TWAS 40 years ago

Didmarton as it is recorded in the 'DYDDI digest'

(This magazine has been published every month since No. 1 in October 1975.)

The April 1984 edition of the Dyddi digest, No.103, edited by Alan Kershaw, filled eight pages and the only advert was for some locally grown tomato plants. The announcements and titles throughout the magazine indicate a thriving community life: 'Gloucestershire Medal for Courage' (seeking nominations), Art Club, Didmarton Ladies Club, Parish Council, Playgroup, Leighterton School, Whist Drive, Coffee Morning, Bingo, Byelaws, 'Windmill Hill' (a poem by budding author, Jon Walker, aged 10), Birthdays, 100-Club Winners, 'Wanted', Cubs, Playing Field, a 'Thank You', Sale of Home & Garden Produce, Reading Room hire charges (£2 per hour), Didmarton & Leighterton Conservatives, Swimming Club, The DCC, Didmarton Spring Show, Gardening Club, Dance & Exercise Classes and a letter from 'A Patriot' wanting everyone to wear a rose on April 23rd.

The Art Club would be visiting The Royal Academy, The Ladies were to discuss 'microwaves, mixers and food processors' and Leighterton School was holding a Car Boot Sale, indoors if raining. (?)

"Byelaws - Three new ones were introduced into the Cotswold RDC area on 1st February. They regulate the practices of Acupuncture, Ear-piercing and Electrolysis and Tattooing ... it will be comforting to know that you are now entitled to similar standards of hygiene that were compulsory for the milking of dairy cattle in 1949!"

The Swimming Club used the pool at Westonbirt School and was open to all residents provided they registered in advance with 'head steward', Mark Wallington. Life-saving was provided by volunteers and swimmers paid 40p a session.

For Saturday 7th April, 1984 the Gardening Club was organising the Didmarton Spring Show which was a mixture of produce, arts and crafts and some stalls, e.g. Tombola, held in The Reading Room. Proceeds were to go to organising the Summer Show. Two days later the club had a visiting speaker and it was planning an outing, in July, to Bicton Gardens near Budleigh Salterton.

Articles had been written by: Margery Hills, Heather Woollacott, Jean Riley, Yvonne McColl, Mike Braine, Lou Simmons & Dorothy Barlow, Doreen Smith, Gladys Hawes, Louise Price, Alan Kershaw, and Lin Gentry.

Next Meeting & AGM Tuesday 2nd April Speaker is Mandy Bradshaw 'Four Seasons Cotswold Style

Cuttings

There was a fantastic turnout for our March meeting. Around 65 members were treated to an impassioned profile of the influential 20thC garden designer, Rosemary Verey. Margie Hoffnung has the added advantage of speaking from first-hand experience; she was Verey's assistant for a decade, had researched her career meticulously and her illustrated talk revealed original design plans, jottings from her famous notebooks, examples of her work and fascinating anecdotes. Verey's formal style may be less popular nowadays but Margie acknowledged her lasting contribution and influence on a new generation of garden designers. It made for a fascinating evening!

The famous Laburnum Walk at Rosemary Verey's former home, Barnsley House

Our April Meeting is also our AGM. Before the business side get going, guest speaker, Mandy Bradshaw will describe 'Four Seasons Cotswold-Style'. With over 20 years of journalism to draw on, Mandy will provide glimpses of the beautiful gardens of the Cotswolds, proving that, with the right planting, a garden can sparkle all year. Lots of inspiration to draw on......

Clippings

Club meetings will remain throughout 2024 on the first Tuesday of each month at the British School Room, Cliff Road, 7.00pm for 7.30pm start. Refreshments, plant ID, plant sales, raffle, gardeners' question time, and jobs to do for the month.

New members from Sherston and surrounding villages are always welcome. The cost remains the same as last year: £15 single, £25 joint, U18's free. For membership form and full programme contact our Secretary: sherstongarden-ingclub@gmail.com Furthermore, all new members who join between January and March 2024 will have valid membership until April 2025.

Community

Blooming Sherston may be going through a 'dormant period' but will spring to life when fences are eventually installed on verges into and out of the village. Look out for flowering shrubs and bulbs.

The Post Office trough continues to reflect the changing seasons with a fanfare of tulips in April and May.

J.J'S GARDENING BLOG

Let us look forward to spring flowers and no dramatic weather. There has been a good show of daffodils, large and smaller ones. Herbaceous plants are putting their noses above ground. Lots of promise of what is to come. But take care, the weather can have a sting in its tail. If you have put some pots out on a sunny spring day remember to fetch them in under cover at night. The hellebores have lasted in flower for a long time, if you didn't remove their scruffy leaves earlier, now is the time to do it, and it really tidies them up. Also make a note of one's you need to buy and root out seedlings that are disappointing or you have too many of boringly coloured ones.

If you have an area that needs lightening up, perhaps think of euphorbia. Lots to choose from and easy to grow. But with a white sap which some people are allergic too, but a zingy colour.

Camasias and fritilliaries will follow on.

Plan what to put in your pots. Get your orders in. Support local nurseries who may have annuals in all of one colour available. In other words not a mix of colours in one seed tray. Single colours can have more impact. But that is just a consideration! Do you need an evergreen to highlight something in front of it.

Wash flower pots, so you start the season disease free. Anything that needs keeping in shape, now is the time, and it really spruces things up. Mow the lawn and trim the edges. Buy some epimediums, from delicate ones to those about six to eight inches tall. Corydalis, lovely blue flowers, ferny foliage, light shade.

COINCIDENCE

Life is full of coincidences and most people have experienced this phenonium in their life. I thought that it would be fun to share these in the DD.

Our coincidence was on a wonderful three week holiday we had in New Zealand. We had travelled around the South island and we were catching the ferry to the North island. We went to the top of the boat and sat at the front to watch the spectacular scenery, when, a young couple came and sat with us,

. Getting chatting, we asked them where they were from, Cheltenham was their reply. They asked us where we were from and we said it was a very small village and we doubted if they would have heard of it. Didmarton we said. Ah, we had a meal in the Kings Arms last week they said, and we met that mad French chef, Cirile. (some of will remember him!)

What are the chances of that!

Why don't you share your coincidences with us?

The twins named Jim

In 1979, a set of twins was reunited at age 39. They had been separated at four-weeks-old, and for 37 years, hardly knew of each other's existence. So when they met, there were a few surprises: both boys had been named Jim by their adoptive parents, both loved math and carpentry, and both pursued careers in security. Even eerier, they each married women named Linda, divorced, and remarried women named Betty, writes People. As for their kid's names? James Allan and James Alan.

Stephen Hawking's death

As Stephen Hawking himself would tell you, time is relative. But that doesn't quite explain why his death occurred on what many consider a fairly significant day: Einstein's 139th birthday, Galileo's 300th death-day, and Pi Day (March 14, when the date reads 3.14).

WINE-ING ON

Do you think you know your wine? See how you get on with the questions below set by Sopworth's Jane Olive. Those who plan to take part in the Sopworth quiz, take heart, similar questions may well present themselves!

- 1. Which grape variety is the most widely grown in the world?
- 2. How many grape varieties are there in the world? 3000 / 5000 / 8000
- 3. In which country is the grape Zinfandel most commonly found?
- 4. What is a wine barrel maker called?
- 5. From which grape is Chablis made?
- 6. From which grape is Sancerre made?
- 7. In which region is Chianti made?
- 8. From which grape variety is Barolo made?
- 9. What is the principle grape used in red Rioja?
- 10. What is Spanish sparkling wine commonly known as?

VICAR'S LETTER

Dear All,

I have been a Daily Telegraph Reader for probably around 40 years now, and the other day I rang and discussed cancelling my subscription. The half-truths reported and articles against an institution I love, has really annoyed me.

The drum being beaten is threefold: The Church of England is guilty of 1) 'epistemic abuse' of government asylum policy, by holding industrial scale baptisms for asylum seekers; 2) giving £1 billion in reparations for slavery but ignore the financial issues of struggling parishes and 3) undermining the Government's plan to send refugees to Rwanda.

All this criticism is unjustified. There is no 'epistemic abuse' of the Asylum system. The Times newspaper investigated the former Home Secretary's claim and discovered that in 2022 there were just 26 Baptisms of Asylum seekers out of a total of something like 900,000! And 15 or so of those were rejected by the Home Office. The incoming Home Secretary admitted that there is no evidence of 'systemic abuse' of the system, as The Telegraph broadcasted.

The claim to give £1bn in slavery reparations is wrong. The church commissioners have agreed to give £10 million a year for the next ten years. That is it. The calls by some people to give £1bn would not be met by the Church Commissioners nor by congregations. Any funds would have to be raised.

Finally, Rwanda - As we all know, it is the role of the Upper Chamber to question, advise and sieve the government's bills, not to stop them. That Bishops point out our moral obligation to stay within international law, does not seem to be evidence of anything other than having a moral compass. That is surely the purpose of the Upper House?

These amplified criticisms really sadden me. And it worries me because people believe what they read. I just wish everyone who cared about the church, could read the Church Times which explains the true situation that lies behind these headlines.

Whether I go through with cancelling my subscription we will have to see. But please take what you read in the papers, with a bucket load of salt!

Have a happy April,

Richard

DIDMARTON CONGRETIONAL CHURCH

The 'Living' Lord Jesus Christ

Easter reveals the wonder of who Jesus is and what he can do for you!

He speaks clearly to us today saying:- "I am he that liveth and was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore and have the keys of death and hell" (Rev 1v8).

This is the glorious message which the events of Easter bring to us, bringing joy, peace and hope for the future for we who believe in him.

It is vitally important that we sincerely believe in Jesus the lamb of God, Slain for the sin of the world, for our future depends on it.

The resurrection of Jesus from death on the cross gives evidence that he is the only way of salvation for it proves the uniqueness of our Living Lord, having broken the chains of sin and death and now lives and reigns eternally. As he said "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man comes to the Father but by me!"

We must avoid the sceptics who comes to us as wolves in sheep's clothing saying we can have faith in another or no faith at all as long as we believe it, these are the lies of Satan sowing doubt in people's hearts, do not believe them, for God says "There is no other name given among men by which we must be saved" (Acts 4v12). Jesus alone has the keys of death and hell, only he can open the gate of heaven that we might enter God's kingdom, or to consign to hell those who have trusted their own good deeds or no faith at all or faith in some other.

Jesus said "I am the resurrection and the life, he who believes in me though he were dead yet shall he live, and whoever lives and believes in me shall never die"

Have you truly believed and committed your life to Him? We need to come to Jesus as a repentant sinner seeker his mercy and forgiveness, recognising the price he paid to redeem us. Will you fall beneath his feet in repentance and faith, and experience the blessing of our living saviours Easter gift of eternal life as he comes to live in you bringing rejoicing for time and eternity.

May Easter joy be yours in Jesus.
