Subject: AUDIO EQUIPMENT

In response to a formal enquiry regarding the use of audio equipment by players, USPSA's Rules Committee has issued the following guidance:

The FIPFA Rules Committee has decided against allowing visual technology for individual players (video cameras on back of chair, etc.). Regarding audio technology, USPSA has determined that only that equipment which increases the voice volume of a player so that he/she can communicate with teammates is allowed. Private audio technology between teammates on the field of play, with coaches, or anyone else is prohibited.

Referees are instructed to adhere to this requirement immediately.

Happy whistling,
