Conference Schedule and Guide

GROWING
THROUGH IT

November 12-14, 2023 | Memphis, TN

Our mission is to support, empower, and connect Tennessee Principals

www.tnprin.org

President's Welcome

Dear Conference Attendee,

Welcome to the 2023 Tennessee Principals Conference at the beautiful Peabody Hotel! It is so good to be back in Memphis, TN. We know you have traveled from all over the state and we are so happy to see you.

Many things have changed in the Principalship for us in recent years. Instead of just having to “go” through things, we are making the choice to GROW through things. With that in mind, we know the speakers and sessions will move you forward as we support, empower, and connect to principals in Tennessee.

Over the past few years we have certainly faced challenges, but a growth mindset helps us see the opportunities these adversities have afforded us. A shift in focus to “growing through what we are going through” brings a foothold for us to step into a new space of growth and revitalization. Our goals for this conference will include bringing light to your path and a connection to others that brings new energy.

Over the past year we have searched for the perfect people to bring you messages that will serve as catalysts to your goals. Our keynote speakers include Ms. Erica Battle, Dr. Vincent J. Hunter, Dr. Adam Drummond, Dr. Jasmine Kullar, and Dr. Myke Collins. Breakout sessions have been chosen and planned based on our theme and the feedback you gave on our conference last year. Finally, our Exhibit Hall is filled with vendors who are passionate about supporting school leaders with the most up-to-date resources. They have traveled here from all across the country to meet with you!

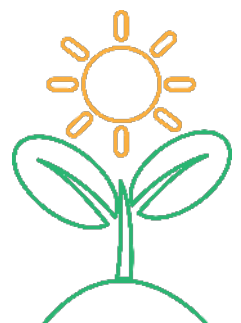

Our Tennessee Principals Association 2023 Conference Leadership Team, Mrs. Darla Young-Berry, Mr. Patrick Certion, Mrs. Shannon Cotton, Dr. Ann-Marie Gleason, Dr. Brian Partin and myself have worked all year to make this conference impactful and outstanding. Again, welcome to Memphis! My hope is that you reconnect with old friends and make some new ones while you're here. Our jobs can be isolating and make us feel like we are on islands at times. Thank goodness we all have each other!

Sincerely,

Janice Irvin

Keynote Speakers

Superintendent Tutonial Williams

TPA is proud to welcome Tutonial (Toni) Williams to kick-off our annual conference with greetings from our host city and local district. Ms. Williams is the Memphis-Shelby County Schools (MSCS) Interim Superintendent and Chief Financial Officer. She has successfully managed the fiscal operations of the second largest employer in Shelby County and the largest public school district in Tennessee.

Erica Battle

As an Emerging Visionary in Social and Emotional Wellbeing of adolescents, Ms. Battle understands the gap between students who excel and students who don't. To bridge this gap, Erica penned her first book entitled, Who Are You? A guide to Help Adolescents Navigate through the Social and Emotional Issues of Life. This book inspires early and middle-aged teens to be self-aware, personally motivated and committed to educational excellence.

Dr. Vincent J. Hunter

With over 24 years of experience as a Mathematics Teacher, principal, and now Executive Principal of the Whitehaven Empowerment Zone, Dr. Hunter serves as a Principal Mentor for Shelby County Schools' Urban Education Executive Leadership Program, New Leaders New Schools, and Christian Brothers University. As an educational practitioner, Dr. Hunter has adopted one primary principle: Every Child has Worth and Dignity.

Dr. Adam Drummond

Dr. Drummond has served the educational community in many roles, as a teacher, district professional, learning coordinator, university adjunct professor, school principal, and most importantly, as a life-long learner. He believes that to affect the change needed for successful 21st-century learning, we need to commit to growth at all levels of leadership; that means teachers, coaches, principals, superintendents, as well as students.

Dr. Jasmine Kullar

Jasmine K. Kullar, EdD, is a chief school leadership officer overseeing over 100 schools in a large metropolitan school district in Georgia. She is also a faculty member in the College of Professional Studies Educational Leadership Department at a postsecondary institution outside of Atlanta, where she has been involved with the national University Principal Preparation Initiative (UPPI) in redesigning university educational leadership programs.

Get Ready to Grow!

Dr. Michael "Myke" Collins

A life-long Memphian, Myke serves as an Executive Director for Memphis-Shelby County Schools. He works closely with the Chief of Staff and the Superintendent. Myke is an instructional leader, educator, and advocate for children and families. He works to ensure Memphis and the metro can be a contender on the economic empowerment stage by coaching and developing school leaders to ensure the academic success of all students. Myke sits on several committees, is a mentor of principals and leaders, an academic and a performance strategist.

Dr. Kevin Armstrong

Kevin spent ten years as a classroom teacher, six years as an assistant principal and is currently in his twelfth year as Executive Principal of DuPont Hadley Middle School. He has received numerous awards throughout his career, including being accepted into the Principals Leadership Academy. Kevin also served as a principal mentor at the Governors' Academy of School Leaders program.

Dr. Armstrong was one of two nationwide fellows for NAESP's Center for Middle Level Leadership. He was elected as NAESP Vice President for 2022-23, will serve as NAESP President-Elect for 2023-24, and NAESP President in 2024-25.

An Overview of Keynote Addresses

ERICA BATTLE: Act for IMPACT: Growing through Transformation

Equip yourself with the knowledge, tools, and strategies to lead with impact. Discover how to invigorate and empower your teaching staff, which will create a ripple effect that inspires students to achieve their best. Recognize the potential in every educator and learn to harness it for the greater good of the entire school community. Highlighting the importance of every student, the keynote will unravel techniques to create a nurturing environment where each child thrives. "Act for IMPACT" is not just a keynote; it's a call to action. Take the helm, steer with purpose, and orchestrate change in the realm of education.

DR. VINCENT J. HUNTER: Why Are We Losing So Many Effective Teachers And Administrators?

"Principal attrition is higher in public schools than it was 5 years ago, and veteran public-school leaders with more years of experience leave the profession at higher rates than those with less experience," said NCES Commissioner Peggy G. Carr. "Principals are critical supports for a school's teachers and learners, and the country needs leaders in every school who are committed to the success of each student."

In August 2023, according to Statista, about 51,000 teachers and other educational staff quit their jobs in the United States. The number of quits among staff in the educational services industry reached its highest point since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic in April 2022. Data from the Tennessee Department of Education shows 67 percent of Tennessee schools started the 2022-2023 school year with vacancies, with an average of 20 openings per district. The question for local, state, as well as national leaders, and especially those here today is "why?"

DR. ADAM DRUMMOND: The Time to Rise is Now

Instructional change agents must emerge unapologetically bold into the era of innovation. Here's the deal. Standards change. Assessments come and go. Initiatives could be here today and gone tomorrow. But, the one constant is ... YOU. You are the great differentiator in the life of a student. Great, so what does that mean? It means everything. Relationships are the great connections to learning. If kids like you they will work for you. Join this session with Adam who will give specific ways to build a strong relational culture in your classroom, school, or district. If you don't like your kids, there's no way they are going like you. If they don't like you, they aren't going to reach their potential. Period. No if, ands, or buts about it.

DR. JASMINE KULLAR: Connecting Through Leadership

This session will explore how learning lessons through a variety of experiences need to result in change. We will discuss the need for change and strategies for how best to lead change as a school leader. Many of the obstacles that prevent us from successfully leading change sometimes have to do with how we communicate. Effective communication is essential in applying what you learn into practice. It is essential to leading change and being a successful school leader.

DR. MICHAEL COLLINS: Luncheon Speaker

As educators, you hold a vital role in shaping the minds and futures of our youth, and your dedication to this noble profession is commendable. This gathering is not just an opportunity to network and share best practices, but also an occasion to celebrate the remarkable achievements of principals across the state. Your tireless efforts to create safe, inclusive, and high-performing learning environments are indeed making a difference in the lives of countless students.

I encourage you to continue championing the values of inclusion and integrity within your schools, fostering an environment where every student feels seen, heard, and valued. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the Tennessee Principals Association for inviting me to address you. Together, let us strive for educational excellence, shaping a brighter future for the young minds entrusted to our care.

Breakout Sessions: Monday, November 13 (10:30 am-11:15 am)

- Session Title: Restoring A School Community from The Ground Up (All)
Presenter: Fred Hewitt, Principal of DuPont Tyler Middle School, Metro Nashville Public Schools
Location: Bert Parker Room
Description: Discipline vs. Restorative Practices vs. Punishment
This session will be focused on implementation of restorative practices as a support to discipline. Actual school level results will be utilized. Session will focus on mindset of a restorative focused school. Data presented will be focused on attendance, academics, and behavior.
- Session Title: Building a Culture of Feedback & Learning for All (Elementary and Middle)
Presenters: Dr. Kyle Loudermilk and Dr. Melissa Seaver, John Sevier Middle School, Kingsport City Schools
Location: Louis XVI Room
Description: How can administrators guarantee that educators within their school are obtaining valuable, practical feedback that enhances teaching methodologies and performance? This session dives into how John Sevier Middle School has introduced a streamlined, consistent, and tiered framework for giving educators and instructional aides actionable feedback.
- Session Title: Strategies for Working with and Among Difficult People (All)
Presenter: Dr. Reginald R. Williams, Sr., Principal of Overton High School, Memphis Shelby County Schools
Location: Cockrell Room
Description: Great leaders should keep their lawn manicured, keep their weeds down to a minimum, keep their trees and shrubbery pruned. This should be done so you can easily spot snakes not in your yard but in your organization. The same applies on your job, business, in your church or civic organization. All of us must work with and among difficult people.
- Session Title: Cracking the Code: Literacy is Everyone's Job (Elementary)
Presenter: Dr. Adam Drummond
Location: Brinkley Room
Description: It's time to unlock the power of reading. Let's slow the pendulum down! The Science of Reading has taken the country by storm as the new best way to teach literacy. Join this session to learn how to maximize your time for high quality instruction. Understand the myths and facts of teaching literacy. Deepen your learning through questions answered throughout the time. Leave with a plan to kick your year off right.

Breakout Sessions: Monday, November 13 (11:45 am-12:30 pm)

- Session Title: It Takes a Village: Small Schools Making Big Moves (Elementary)
Presenters: Dr. Robyn Beard and LaShonda Churchwell, Alex Green Elementary, Metro Nashville Public Schools
Location: Bert Parker Room
Description: Redefining and Rebuilding: What's After Priority? This session addresses the journey from being designated a "priority school" to exiting priority status and becoming a recognized school of excellence. As the principal of a priority school, Dr. Beard decided that they would no longer be defined as a "priority school," but instead they would define SCHOOL as the PRIORITY! The school collectively went on a mission to improve their reputation and as a result grew beyond its capacity and received various recognitions, some WHILE IN PRIORITY. This session provides practical tips to move beyond the stigma of low performing to a highly desirable school with a waiting list.
- Session Title: Empowering Those We Lead Through Delegation and Mentorship (High School)
Presenter: John S. Bush, Principal of Southwind High School, Memphis Shelby County Schools
Location: Louis XVI Room
Description: This session will provide a detailed example of how Vice Principals and Assistant Principals have opportunities to lead instruction and operations through their daily practice. During this session school leaders will learn about the various team members that are needed to support a school instructionally, social emotionally and community outreach. Leading instruction includes meeting and planning with the instructional coaches and developing PLCs around these meetings. Operations include weekly meetings with the financial secretary about payroll, chart of accounts, and the cost of personnel against the budget.
- Session Title: Fill My Cup: A Principal's Guide to Resilience (All)
Presenter: Sharonda Rose, Principal of Rivercrest Elementary, Bartlett City Schools
Location: Cockrell Room
Description: Caring for your staff and yourself, using tried and true tested examples that will fill your cup. Principals will walk away with various ways, activities, and ideas to keep your cups full. Practical ideas to take back and use with your staff will be shared. This will include modeling activities that will be good for your soul.

Sharonda Rose entered her 5th year as principal of Rivercrest Elementary in Bartlett TN. Rivercrest is a 2021-2022 TN Reward School, 2023 TN STEAM Designated School, and 2022-2023 Level 5 School.
- Session Title: Increasing Teacher Capacity to Foster Resilience, Growth, & Transformation (All)
Presenter: Erica Battle
Location: Brinkley Room
Description: This session is specifically designed for school leaders passionate about creating environments where students don't just survive, they THRIVE. Participants in this interactive session will delve into evidence-based strategies, collaborate in hands-on activities, and engage in introspective discussions. The goal of this session is to equip leaders with the knowledge and tools to ignite a sense of urgency among educators and achieve unprecedented student growth.
