

PBLI Project

From the Director – Dr. Katherine Tatar, M.D.

I wanted to formalize regarding the PBLI Project from NEOMED. You should identify a clinical question (happens every day on med team!) and attempt to search the literature to answer that question. You should then present your findings to your team (either med team or subspecialty team). This can be during formal rounds or during the afternoon with your residents. The presentation should present the results, but also analyze the applicability and quality of the study as outlined by NEOMED. You will then upload your questions and article citation as required by NEOMED.

If you have any questions about this process please let me know!

Of note, we will continue the student presentations outlined by Staci at orientation. These begin today! This is a separate, non-NEOMED, requirement.
