

Short-Term Missions

Short-Term Mission trips are great ways to move a man along the wide to deep journey. The man in the early part of his spiritual journey will experience what it means to be a part of a productive team. period of comradery and will engage in a project gaining a sense of accomplishment and experience helping the less fortunate. He will be a part of a team assisting missionaries on the field. He will gain a deeper appreciation of how God has blessed him and through that, a deeper faith.

Teams have done prayer walks, put roofs on churches, street evangelism, construct benches, assist with projects for nationals, as well as veterinary, medical and dental support.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance encourages short-term missions. These are managed through The Alliance Envision Office under International Ministries. See the @Life article that explains more about short-term missions.

Is God calling you to lead a short-term work team to one of our mission fields? Here are some basic steps. Contact the C&MA National Office at 1-719-599-5999 and ask for the Envision Office. If you already have an invitation from the field and a project to accomplish, and dates, describe the project, learn the cost for travel, shots, passport, etc. Once the wheels are greased, invite people to join the team. This is a simple process but must be done right to bless and be blessed.

Coaching Weekend. Coaching weekends are designed to equip group leaders for a successful mission trip. The weekend includes training on planning a short-term mission trip, review the Go Prepared video, receive country specific information, opportunities to connect with leaders of other groups, tips on traveling overseas and being in another culture. For more information on coaching weekends. Again, contact the Envision Office for details.
