Dear Parents and Carers,

Virtual Parent Consolation

I would like to thank you for your patience with our new virtual system, and for embracing our new way of running a parent consultation this year.

For the majority of our school families there were no issues with the system, but I do apologise to the small number who were unable to access it. Appointments have been re-booked where this has happened.

We followed advice from the provider and other schools – who had used this approach – about the length of the appointments. For many 5 minutes was long enough, but we realise there were times when it was too short. I think we became more efficient with our time as we used the system and should we use it again this is certainly something we would take into account.

As ever we do welcome feedback, so please do feel free to let me know how you found it.

Kind regards

Gina Marsland
