

DRAW LIKE AN EGYPTIAN

There is nothing quite like Egyptian art. The artists had to follow strict rules. They drew using a square grid and each part of the body would take up its correct number of squares. If someone in the picture was important they were drawn larger than the others!

YOU'LL NEED:

Squared paper, ruler,
pencil, paints, gold
and silver pens.

The head
is always a side view.

The eye is
a front view.

The shoulders
and chest are drawn as seen
from the front.

The rest of the body is drawn
as a side view.

The feet are
very long.
