Online - Our New Line Of Products & Services, For A New Era.

Part Of Unique Ideas UK Ltd

Before.

Unique Ideas UK Ltd have been providing our services to the event, corporate & hospitality industries for over 25 years and we've loved every step of the way! In more recent time, our energy has been focused on The Cyclone Game Company, with its successful line of Unique & engaging experiences for hire or purchase. Tried & tested in exhibitions & corporate functions across Europe, we take huge pride in bringing value to our vast array of clients over many years. Whatever the endeavour may be, we thrive on working alongside our clients on integrating our products into their campaigns.

Our Concept, Your Reality.

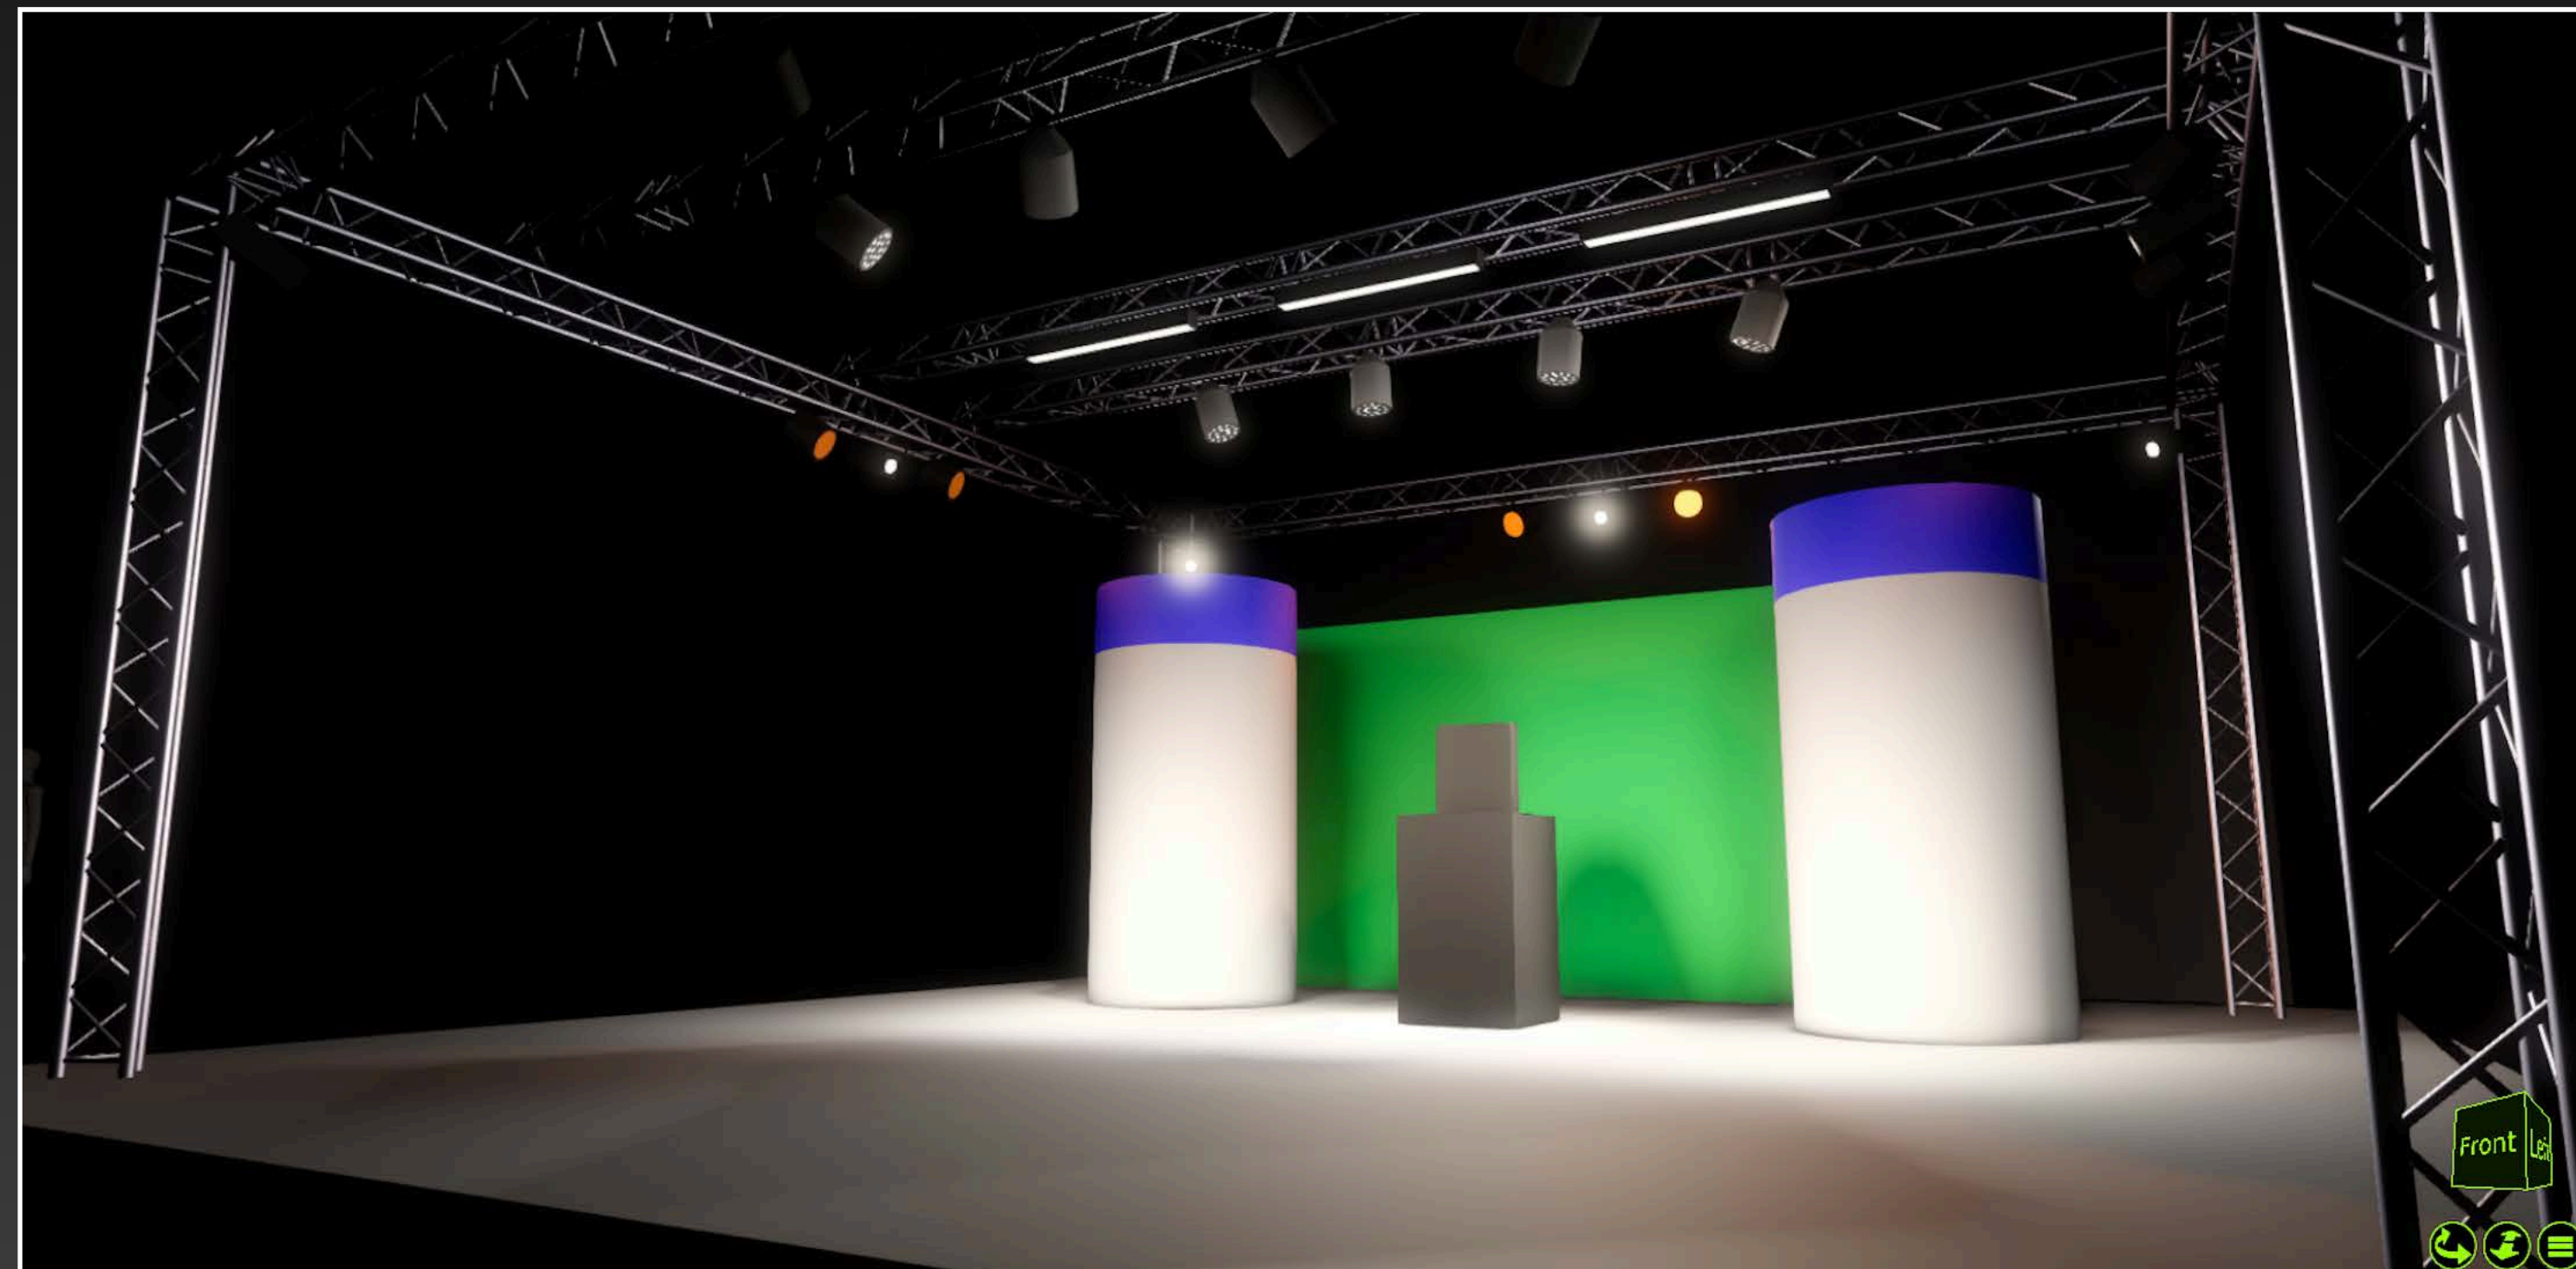

How We're Moving Forward.

- We have reformatted our experiential marketing products for you to experience in your next online meeting.
- Large scale broadcasts, in house seminars or team building exercises.
- The same key features available. Theme the event, brand the products accordingly, integrate into your campaign, format the experience to suit your needs.

Now whilst the exhibition halls are closed & the large events are postponed, our team have been back to the drawing board, working on ways to take our games you've enjoyed at the exhibitions, to the world of virtual meetings & seminars.

Whilst we're all trying to navigate our way through new circumstances, there are still some key factors that haven't changed. Clients, team members, viewers or participants are going to have to be engaged & stimulated to not only take part, but really take away the true benefits & points that are being made throughout online events.

Live In 5...4...3...

The Cyclone Experience

A gaming experience to create any theme virtually, or a presentation venue to accommodate your team.

A series of challenges for contestants to play as individuals or nominate team members.

The selected interactions can be accessed via all major online communication platforms, or send your team to our midlands based hub. The large space has allowed us to create a 'lock in' style venue. Social distance complaint with various office space & facilities.

All games & experiences can have their own zone which can be named by the client & feature brand sponsorship with digital branding to potentially co fund the event.

A Quick Review Of Options.

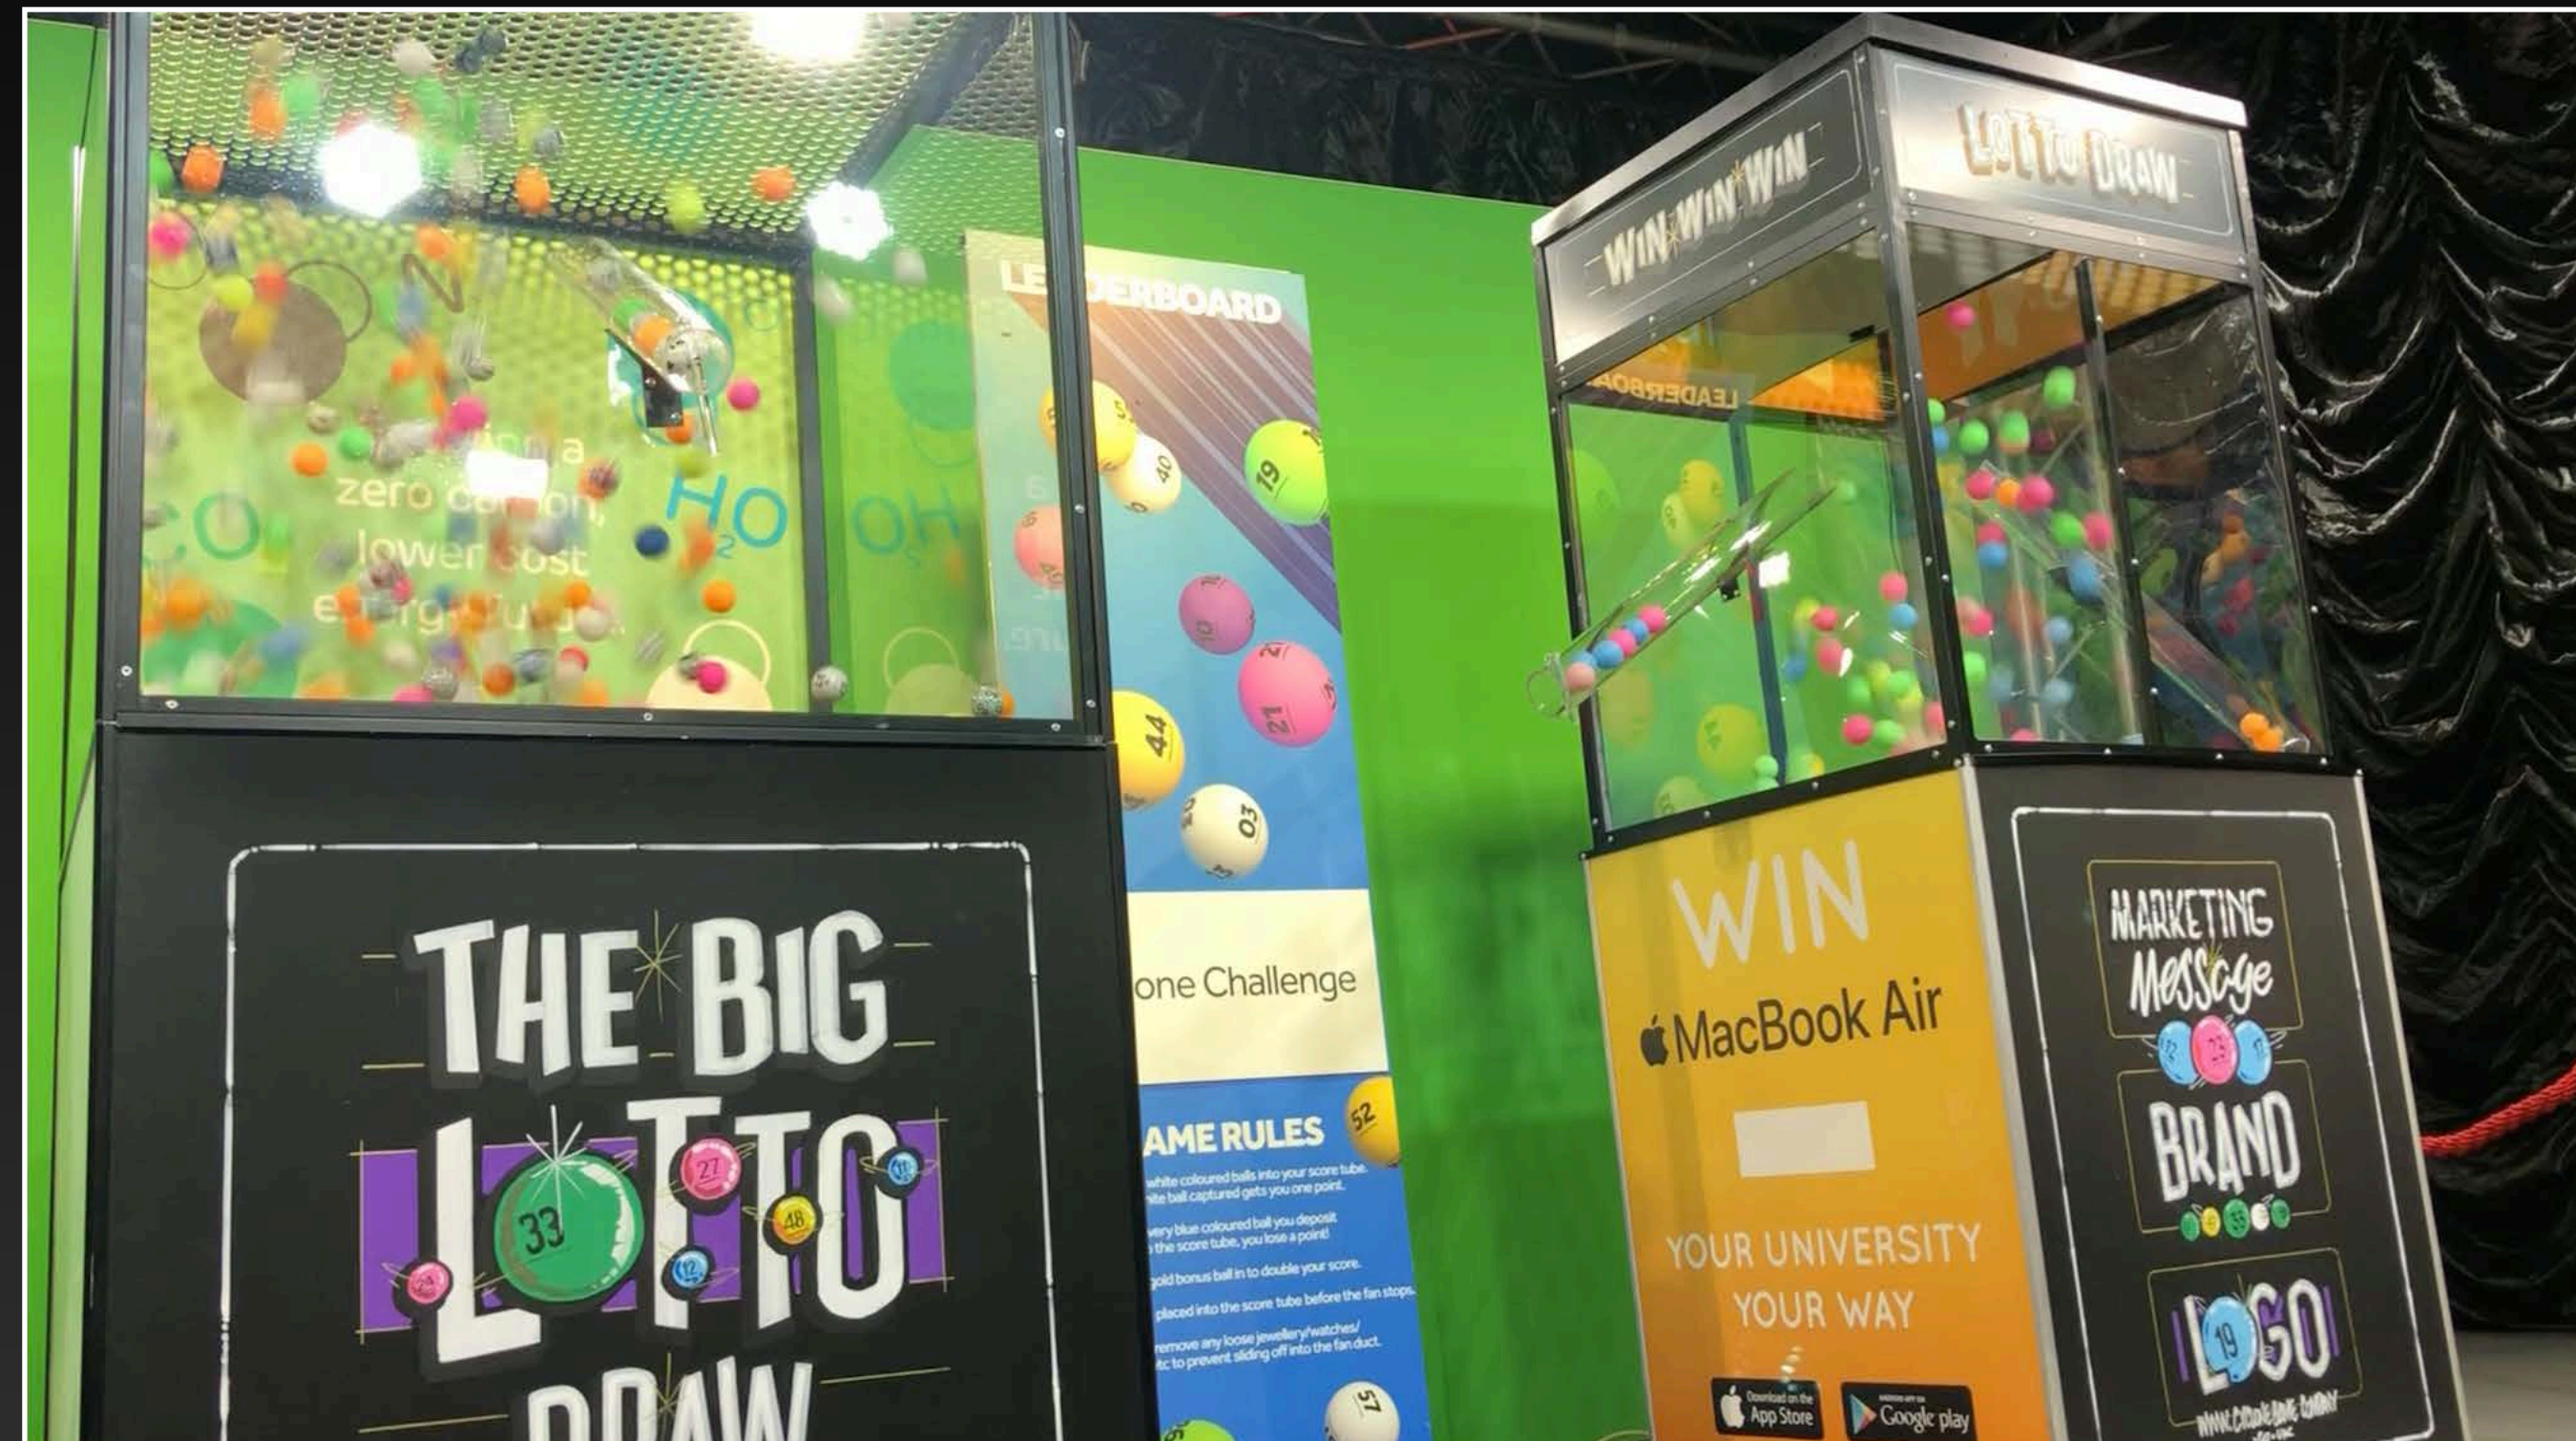

If you're zooming to us to break up your day of meetings, here a snap shot of what you can expect.

The Lotto Draws.

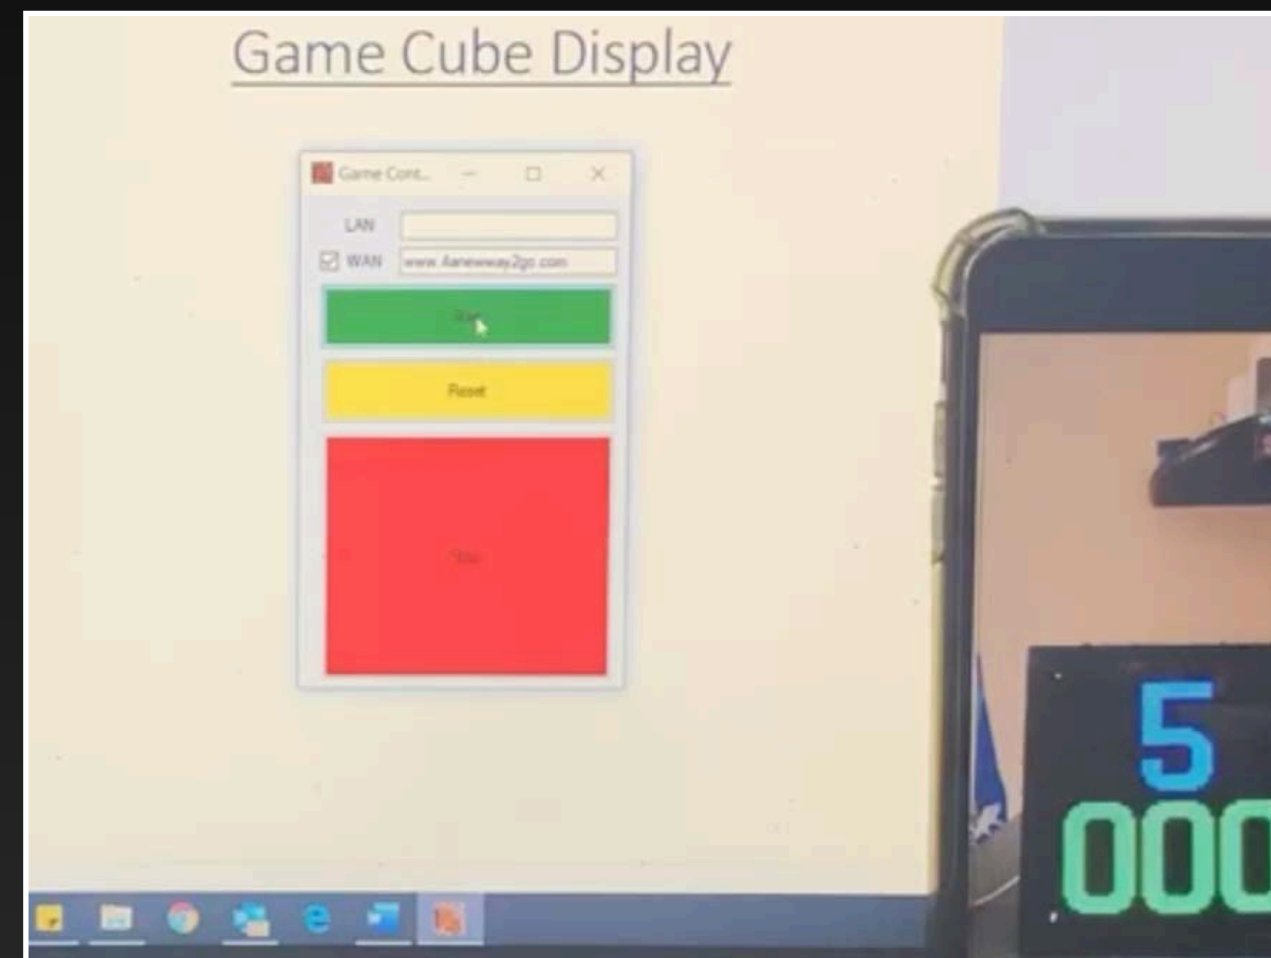

Choose between The Big Lotto Draw (capacity 1500 balls, perfect for large scale meetings or seminars taking place over the week) or the compact lotto (split into 2 sections, 1 containing numbered balls 1-200 & the other 26 letters, adding an extra dimension.

Invited guests are allocated a lucky number on registration or 'arrival.' Draws take place with a live presenter & contestants go through if their ball is called. Multiple draws could take place, depending on your meeting arrangements.

This will help ensure instant engagement & help retain interest throughout the procedure.

Take Control From Your PC

Our Fast paced reaction games miss being in the exhibition halls, generally causing controversy & bringing out the worst in people.

Our developers have created a programme contestants can simply download to their PC that enables them to take control from their desktop.

Battle on Stop The Clock for the closest time to the target, go top of our virtual leaderboard for bragging rights & hope no one betters your score.

Cyber attack - Clear the threats in the fastest time to prevent malware. Don't lose all your lives though, or you're out!

All experiences can be themed accordingly, depending on the objective.

Got Your Number?

Set The Time, Get Your Code & Cross Your Fingers!

Prize Draws, Data Codes, Cracking Vaults.

Take advantage of our very own random code generator.

We know most people are using a particular code generator at the moment, but you're not most people.

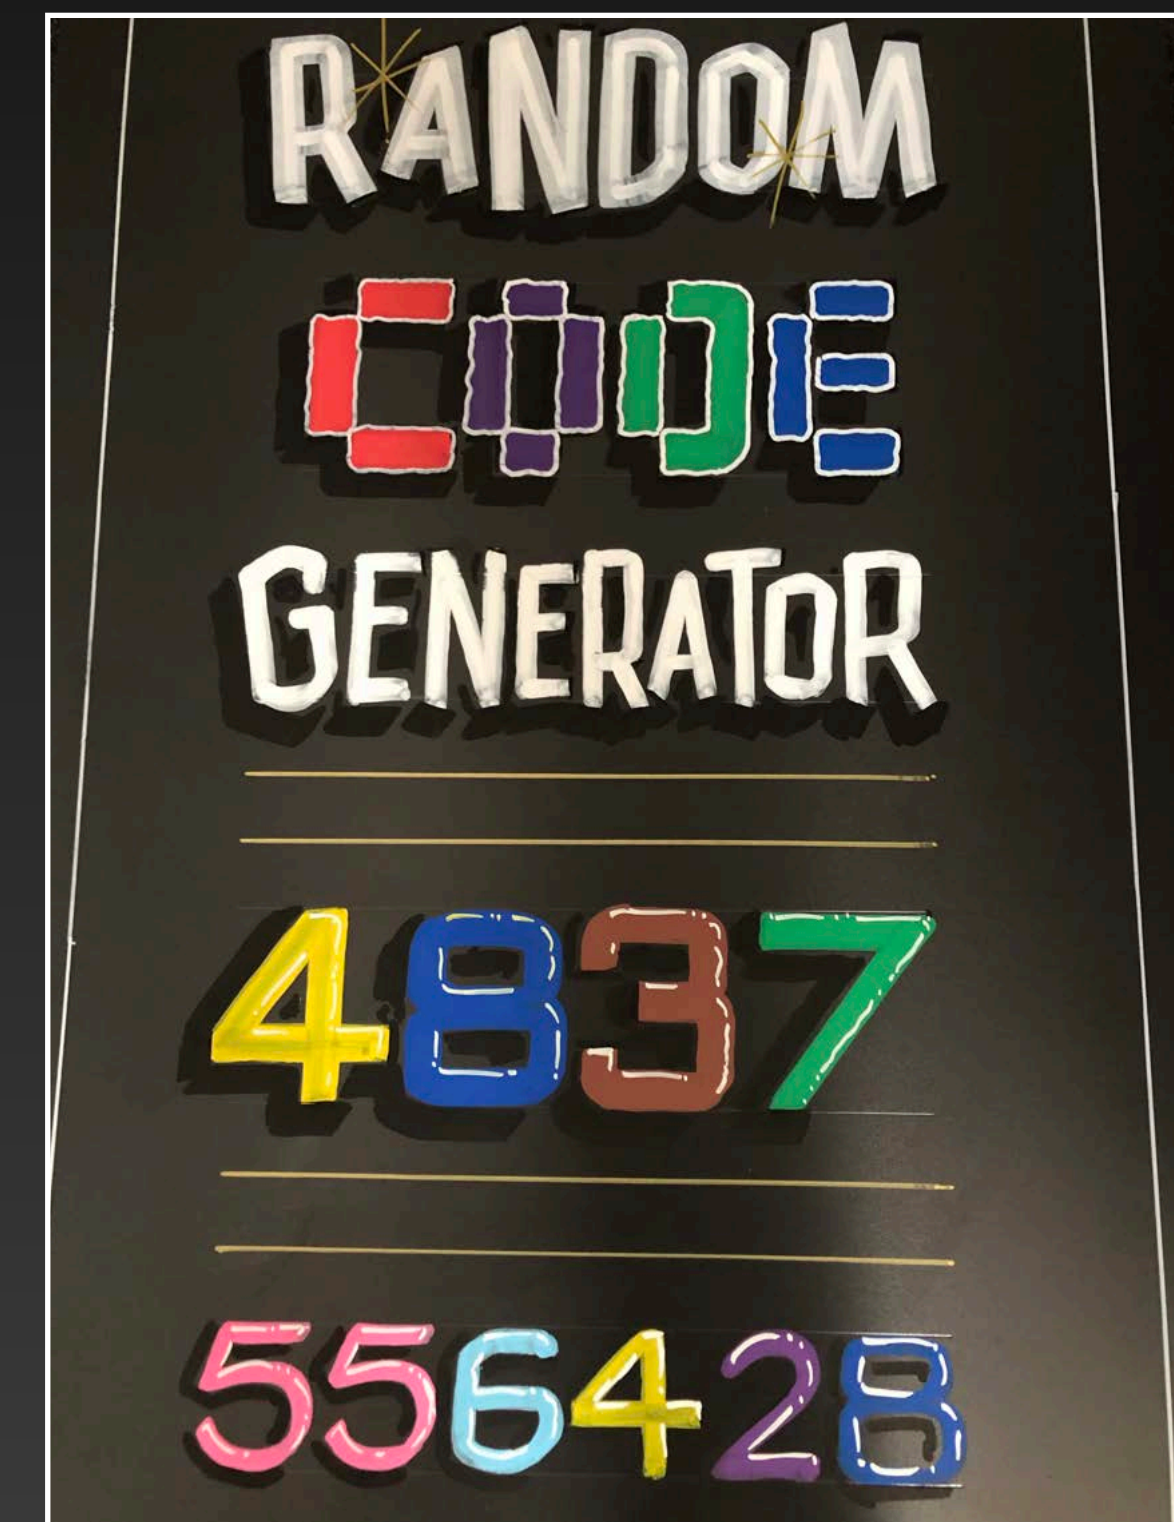

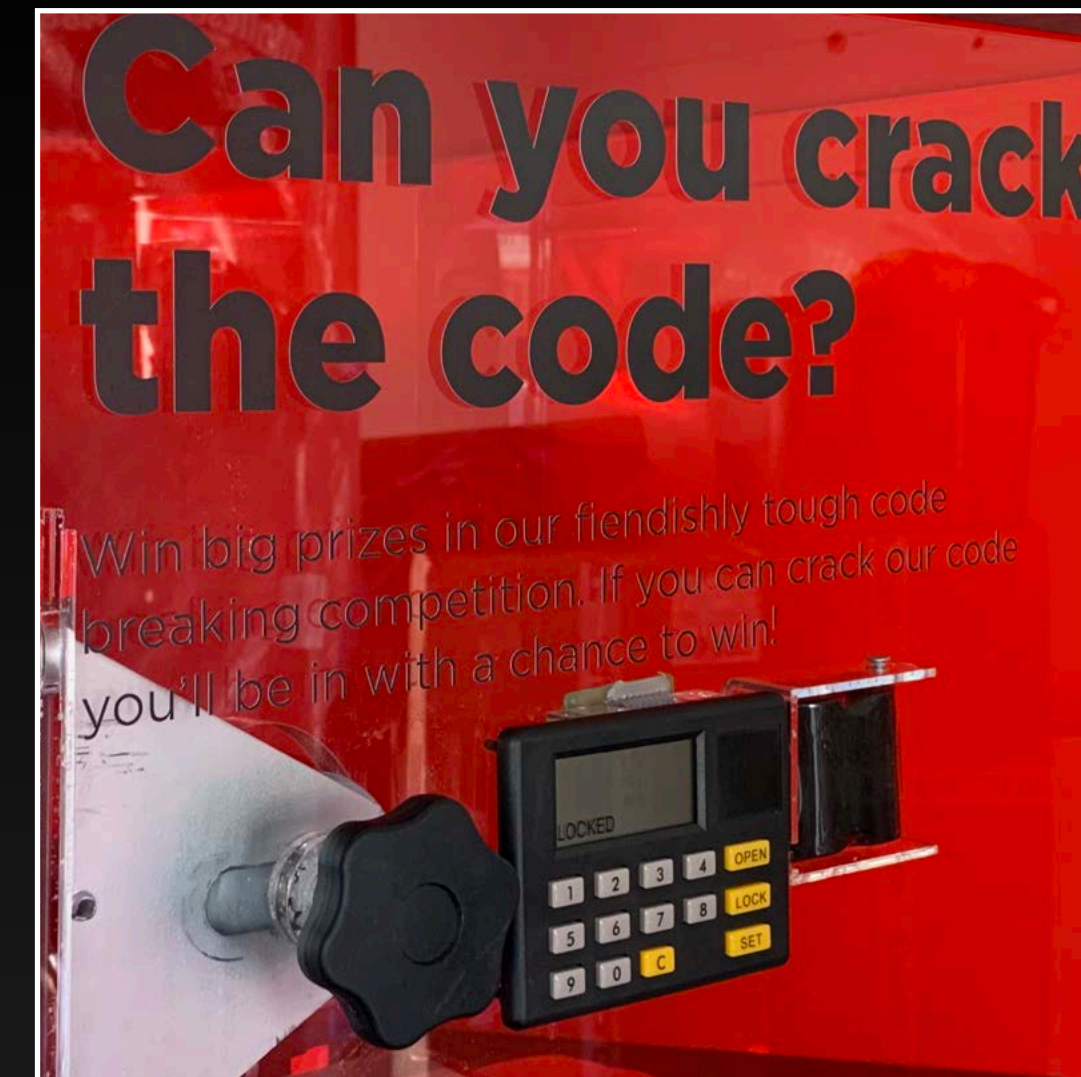

Add a personal touch, let participants guess the next number the generator has to offer, last man standing or allocate a random code to each person to use later in the competition... it may just come in handy!

Our vault is full of prizes & incentives, but can you crack it? Give away clues, year company was founded, units sold last quarter etc to lead people to the magic numbers.

Completely interchangeable. Format works with large or small crowds & guaranteed to retain attention.

As always, give us a call to discuss anything in further detail.

Summary.

Thanks For Playing

We're here to help bring some fun & excitement into your next online meetings, presentations or seminars. An immersive, competitive experience that cannot be found anywhere else.

Tell us about your business and team members & let us plan the show accordingly. Broadcasting to a large number of people - you want something visually stimulating & engaging. There's a range of options to suit your requirements.

Set the scene. This isn't the same, basic online lock-in game. Our virtual hub allows us to change the scene & the experience to match your objective.

To find out more, or just to throw your ideas at us. We want to bring a new dimension to your next virtual endeavours.
