BOOST

PPC (Pay Per Click)

Why PPC?

PPC is one of the most profitable and scalable digital marketing channels offering instant and measurable results.

Unlike SEO which can take time to see results, PPC allows us to appear at the top of the search results almost instantly for any keyword in any location that we desire. The Boxoffice Company can also track every keyword, ad and penny spent which allows for accurate ROI and continued improvement.

Why does it work?

PPC is a simple concept which allows us to define exactly how much we want to pay each time a user clicks on one of our adverts.

Our aim for PPC is to drive users to complete a specific type of action – in most cases this is to buy a ticket, however it may also be to book an event or generate an enquiry.

One of the great advantages of PPC is the ability to segment our audience that will see our campaigns based on factors including: age, gender, location, interests and behaviours. This provides a wealth of information for further optimisation opportunities and results in less wasted spend.
