WELCOME

Welcome to Your 2021 Benefits

Each year you have the opportunity to review your benefit options and make election choices based on your current life situation. Padilla strives to provide a balanced, comprehensive and competitive benefits program that helps employees and their families meet their diverse needs. Along with medical and dental insurance, Padilla offers vision, basic life, short- and long- term disability coverage, as well as additional supplemental options. Padilla pays 100% of the cost of the benefits for its' full-time employees. Part-time employees contribute to the cost of the medical and dental plans.

We encourage you to read this guide before you enroll in your benefit plans.

This is only a summary of your benefits. Certain restrictions and exclusions apply. For exact terms and conditions, please refer to your summary plan description. If information in this summary differs from the legal contract, the legal contract is the ruling document.

Where to Find More Information

Benefit and policy information is available on the Padilla intranet: <https://pulse.padillaco.com/benefits>.

ELIGIBILITY

Employees must be scheduled to work at least 20 hours per week on a regular basis to be eligible or average 30 hours per week or more during the previous 12 months, per ACA Rules for the medical plan. See Human Resources for more details. Interns, project employees and other temporary employees are generally excluded from eligibility.

Eligible dependents may also participate in your benefit plans. Eligible dependents include:

- » Your legal spouse (an ex-spouse with court order is not eligible).
- » Your dependent children, which includes a natural, adopted or stepchild or a child for whom you are a legal guardian up to age 26 for your medical and dental plans, up to age 19 or up to age 25 if a full-time student for your life plans.

MAKING CAREFUL CHOICES

You have the opportunity to elect your benefit plan options when you are hired or move into an eligible position with Padilla. After this event, the annual Open Enrollment period is the only time you can change benefit plans, terminate plans or add/drop dependents during a plan year unless you have a qualified life event change, family status change or other qualified special enrollment changes.

To protect the tax advantages of your benefits, Padilla is required to follow certain IRS rules. These rules affect when you may change your benefits and what changes you may make when you have a qualified family status change.

Notification must be made within 30 days of the event. If you do not notify Human Resources within 30 days following the event, you may not be able to make the changes to your benefit coverage until the annual Open Enrollment period.

The effective date of any changes to your benefits is based on circumstances surrounding the date of the qualifying event. Qualifying events include:

- » Your marriage, divorce, legal separation or annulment.
- » Addition of dependents due to the birth or adoption of a child.
- » Death of a dependent.
- » A change in the employment status of your spouse or dependent, including the termination or commencement of employment.
- » The commencement or return from an unpaid leave of absence.
- » Your dependent loses or gains benefit eligibility under another employer's benefit plan.
- » Your dependent child reaches the age of 26.

ANNUAL NOTICES

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability (HIPAA)

Padilla, in accordance with HIPAA, protects your Protected Health Information (PHI). Padilla will only discuss your PHI with medical providers and third-party administrators when necessary to administer the plan that provides your medical and dental benefits or as mandated by federal law. A full copy of Padilla's notice of privacy practices is available upon request from the Human Resources Department.

Women's Health Act

The Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 requires all health insurance plans that cover mastectomy to also cover the following:

- » Reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed.
- » Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance. Prostheses, and treatment of physical complications at all stages of the mastectomy, including lymph edemas, mastectomy bras and external prostheses, are limited to the lowest cost alternative available that meets the patient's physical needs.

Mental Health Parity Act

According to the Mental Health Parity Act of 1996, updated October 3, 2009, group health plans that choose to offer both medical benefits and mental health or substance abuse benefits must offer such benefits in parity. The MHP Act prohibits imposing more restrictive financial requirements (such as co-pays or deductibles) or treatment limitations (such as day or visit limits) on mental health or substance abuse benefits than those applied to medical or surgical benefits.

Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act

Federal law (Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act of 1996) prohibits the plan from limiting a mother's or newborn's hospital stay to less than 48 hours for a normal delivery or 96 hours for a Cesarean delivery or from requiring the provider to obtain preauthorization for a stay of 48 or 96 hours, as appropriate. However, federal law generally does not prohibit the attending provider, after consultation with the mother, from discharging the mother.

GENERAL NOTICE - COBRA CONTINUATION

General Notice of COBRA Continuation Coverage Rights Required by Federal Law for You and Your Dependents

Federal law enables you and/or your dependents to continue health insurance if coverage would cease due to a reduction of your work hours or your employment termination (other than for gross misconduct), if elected, within 60 days of the event. Federal law also enables your dependents to continue to qualify as a dependent. Continuation must be elected in accordance with the rules of your Employer's group health plan(s) and is subject to federal law, regulations and interpretations. When coverage ends, members may be able to continue coverage under state law, federal law or both. The continuation required by federal law does not apply to any benefits for loss of life, dismemberment or loss of income. However, under Minnesota law, eligible employees may continue their life insurance benefits for up to 18 months.

Qualifying Events for Continuation Coverage Under Federal Law

If the coverage of a qualified beneficiary would ordinarily terminate due to one of the following qualifying events, then the qualified beneficiary is entitled to continue coverage. The qualified beneficiary is entitled to elect within 60 days of event the same coverage she or he had on the day before the qualifying event.

The qualifying events with respect to an employee who is a qualified beneficiary are:

1. Termination of the employee for any reason other than gross misconduct.
2. Reduction in the employee's employment hours resulting in a loss of eligibility.

With respect to an employee's spouse or dependent child who is a qualified beneficiary, the qualifying events for continued coverage are:

1. Termination of the employee for any reason other than gross misconduct.
2. Reduction in the employee's employment hours.
3. Death of the employee.
4. Divorce or legal separation from the employee.
5. Loss of eligibility by an enrolled dependent who is a child.
6. Employee entitlement to Medicare benefits.
7. The enrolling group files for bankruptcy, under Title 11, United States Code. This is also a qualifying event for any retired employee and his or her enrolled dependents if there is a substantial elimination of coverage within one year before or after the date the bankruptcy was filed.

COBRA COVERAGE ADMINISTRATION

COBRA continuation is a temporary continuation of coverage. Padilla contracts Discovery Benefits to administer COBRA. Once Discovery Benefits receives notice that a qualifying event has occurred, COBRA continuation coverage will be offered to each of the qualified beneficiaries. Each qualified beneficiary has an independent right to elect COBRA continuation. Covered employees may elect COBRA on behalf of their spouses and other dependents. When the qualifying event is an employee death, divorce or legal separation, COBRA continuation lasts up to 36 months. The State of Minnesota continuation extends coverage until it would otherwise terminate or enrollment in other group coverage for the death of employee or divorce. See Human Resources for additional coverage information.

If an employee reaches the end of his or her employment, or his or her hours are reduced, or the employee became entitled to Medicare benefits less than 18 months before the qualifying event, COBRA continuation coverage for qualified beneficiaries, other than the employee, lasts until 36 months after the Medicare entitlement date. For example, if a covered employee becomes entitled to Medicare eight months before the date on which his employment terminates, COBRA for his spouse and children can last up to 36 months after the date of Medicare entitlement, which is equal to 28 months after the date of the qualifying event (36 months minus 8 months).

Otherwise, when the qualifying event is the end of employment or reduction of the employee's employment hours, COBRA continuation generally lasts only up to 18 months. Below we discuss two ways in which this 18-month period of COBRA can be extended.

Disability Extension of 18-Month Period of Continuation

If you or anyone in your family covered under the plan is determined by the Social Security Administration to be disabled, you and your entire family may be entitled to receive up to an additional 11 months of COBRA for a maximum of 29 months. The disability would have to have started at some time before the 60th day of COBRA continuation coverage and must last at least until the end of the 18-month continuation coverage period.

COBRA COVERAGE ADMINISTRATION

Second Qualifying Event Extension of 18-Month Period of Continuation

If your family experiences a second qualifying event while receiving 18 months of COBRA and notice of the event is given to the plan, the spouse and dependent children in your family can get up to 18 months additional COBRA coverage for a maximum of 36 months. This extension may be available to the spouse and any dependent children receiving continuation coverage if the employee or former employee dies, becomes entitled to Medicare benefits, gets divorced, or if the dependent child stops being eligible under the plan as a dependent child. This only applies if the event would have caused the spouse or dependent child to lose coverage under the plan had the first qualifying event not occurred.

If You Have Questions

Questions concerning your Plan and COBRA continuation rights should be addressed to your Human Resources Department or Discovery Benefits. For more information about your rights under ERISA, including COBRA, HIPAA and other laws affecting group health plans, you can contact your local U.S. Dept. of Labor or visit the EBSA (Employee Benefits Security Administration) website at www.dol.gov/ebsa.

Keep Us Informed of Address Changes

To protect your family's rights, you should keep Padilla and Discovery Benefits informed of any changes in the addresses of your family members.

HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT (HSA)

If you and your eligible dependents participate in Padilla's qualified HDHP (High Deductible Health Plan) and

1. You are not enrolled in other health coverage including you or your spouse's FSA; and
2. Are not enrolled in Medicare

Then you are eligible for an HSA, which allows you to use tax-free dollars to reimburse yourself for a wide variety of medical care expenses, as described in section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, incurred by you, your spouse and your eligible dependents.

The maximum contribution regardless of the source for 2021 cannot exceed $3,600 for single coverage and $7,200 for single + one or family coverage per year. These amounts continue to be indexed for cost of living and may fluctuate annually. If you are aged 55+, you can contribute an additional $1,000/yr.

Rules and Regulations of an HSA

Certain contributions may be deductible for purposes of federal income taxation. Withdrawals (including interest and earnings on your contributions) are not subject to federal income taxation provided they are used for "qualified medical expenses." Exemption from state income tax varies from state to state. Currently contributions to HSA are taxed in Alabama, California and New Jersey, and earnings from HSA are taxed in New Hampshire and Tennessee.

Unlike a healthcare flexible spending account in a cafeteria (Section 125) plan, there is no "use it or lose it" rule. You will not lose the balance in your HSA at the end of the year; any money in the account may be saved for future qualified medical expenses. Thus, in addition to providing certain tax benefits (tax-free earnings and federal income tax deductions) HSAs can be a valuable retirement savings tool.

FSA AND TRANSIT BENEFIT

Dependent Care FSA - Discovery Benefits

Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account allows you to use tax-free dollars to reimburse yourself for dependent care expenses. The annual amount you elect to contribute will be divided into 24 equal amounts and deducted from your paycheck before federal and, in most cases, state and local income taxes, are withheld.

Expenses for dependent care services for children under age 13, a disabled spouse, or incapacitated parent are eligible for reimbursement from your Dependent Care FSA as long as you incur them while you and your spouse work or attend school full time.

The maximum contribution is $5,000 per year; $2,500 if filing separately.

Rules and Regulations of a Flexible Spending Account

Plan your annual Dependent Care FSA contribution amounts carefully. The election you make when you enroll is binding for the entire plan year - January 1 to December 31 unless you have a qualifying status change.

Additionally, the IRS imposes some rules and restrictions on the way you can use the plan:

- » You must incur eligible expenses during the plan year in which your election was made. You will have until March 31 of the following year to submit your claims for reimbursement.

If you incur fewer expenses than you expected, you forfeit any money remaining in your account at the end of the year. You cannot roll money over from one plan year to the next.

Transit Spending Account - Discovery Benefits

You can use pre-tax dollars to pay for your commute (up to $270/month for transit and up to $270/month for “qualified parking”). Discovery Benefits is our administrator for the commuter benefits which covers all types of commuting - subway, bus, train/rail, ferry, vanpool, and parking. For more information, please contact Human Resources.

RETIREMENT PLAN

401(k) Profit Sharing Plan

Padilla provides employees the opportunity to save for their own retirement under the 401(k) Profit Sharing plan. We encourage all regular, benefit-eligible employees to participate and take an early and active role in their retirement planning. You can participate in the 401(k) plan immediately upon employment. You may contribute up to 50% of your earnings to the annual established IRS limits. In addition, employees over 50 may also be eligible for additional “catch up” contributions as defined by the IRS each year. For 2021 the maximum basic limit is $19,500 and the catch-up contribution limit is an additional $6,500. Once you enroll, Padilla contributes 3% of your earnings each payroll check issued.

You are always vested in your own contribution, and are immediately vested in any Padilla 401(k) contribution.

Additional information including eligibility requirements are contained in the 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan Summary Plan Description.

Padilla’s 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan is administered by John Hancock. You may update or change your deferral percentage, investment mix or your beneficiaries by going to <https://myplan.johnhancock.com>.
