Net Health® Announces Integration with Alinea

Net Health Continues Expansion into Senior Living Marketplace via New Partnership with Alinea

Agreement highlights company's commitment to expanding footprint in growing market.

PITTSBURGH, PA – Oct. 3, 2022 – Net Health recently entered into an exclusive partnership with Alinea for its proprietary software platform, Net Health® Therapy for Senior Living. Under the partnership, Alinea's workflow automation and patient and family engagement capabilities have been integrated into Net Health's platform, providing one of the most comprehensive technology solutions for senior living rehabilitation providers.

Net Health is one of the nation's largest providers of specialty electronic health record (EHRs) platforms and analytic technologies. Net Health's solutions are currently used in more than 16,000 Skilled Nursing and Senior Living facilities, serving the largest providers in the market.

Alinea is a powerful highly configurable platform for rehabilitation providers serving senior living facilities that streamlines workflows and engages patients, powers of attorney, and family members, including digitized intake and co-pay collection. The partnership further expands Net Health clients' capacity to seamlessly serve the senior living community.

There are currently more than 810,000 people residing in assisted living facilities in the U.S. It's estimated that the nation will need nearly 1 million new senior living units by 2040.¹ Ensuring patients at those facilities have access to quality rehabilitation programs is a necessary and important service. In-house and contracted rehab therapists will use the Alinea and Net Health technologies to provide critical functions, including operational, clinical, billing and revenue cycle management.

“We see a real need in the growing senior living marketplace to support the engagement of remote family members who make important decisions, on behalf of their loved ones,” said Josh Pickus, CEO of Net Health. “This partnership is a win for both our companies and thousands of senior living facilities looking for targeted solutions that meet the challenges of today.”

Net Health’s technology enables rehab therapists working in senior living facilities to drive more efficient operations, focus more on clients’ needs and optimize their revenue cycle. The Alinea + Net Health® partnership further expands those capabilities by streamlining other critical functions and allowing therapy teams to effortlessly connect with all relevant external parties – for example, patients, families and those with powers of attorney – through a single automated process.

“When we started developing our technology, we saw the growing strain and frustration of manual processes and disjointed systems. Precious time and money were wasted toggling between incompatible applications and communicating back and forth via emails, phone calls, faxes, texts, and mail, all of which detracted from providing the best care possible,” said Carol Vance, Alinea CEO. “We listened closely and created solutions that allow our clients to streamline and accelerate critical workflows, while ensuring compliance, optimizing quality, and increasing revenue. Expanding our capabilities further through Net Health will give us exceptional positioning in the market and help our organizations continue to meet our goals for growth.”

PATIENT ONBOARDING & REVENUE CYCLE MANAGEMENT

As your front line drives your bottom line, Alinea ensures patient onboarding is both efficient and compliant, with Advanced Analytics to prove it!

By eliminating the hassle and high cost of paper based and manual processes, Alinea takes the administrative burden off your therapists and drives efficiency for centralized staff. Alinea also streamlines benefit verification processes, simplifies the complexity of prior authorizations, and directly increases collection of copayments and other patient balances. All while freeing your therapists to do more of what they love, thereby enhancing patient outcomes and staff retention!

PATIENT & FAMILY ENGAGEMENT

Gain consents in minutes instead of weeks! Alinea offers the convenience and connectivity expected today, while decreasing your workload and expanding client loyalty.

Award-winning Family Link also keeps families abreast of therapy progress and effortlessly highlights the great work your therapists are already doing. It's a proven tipping point to differentiate your services and expand Senior Communities served.

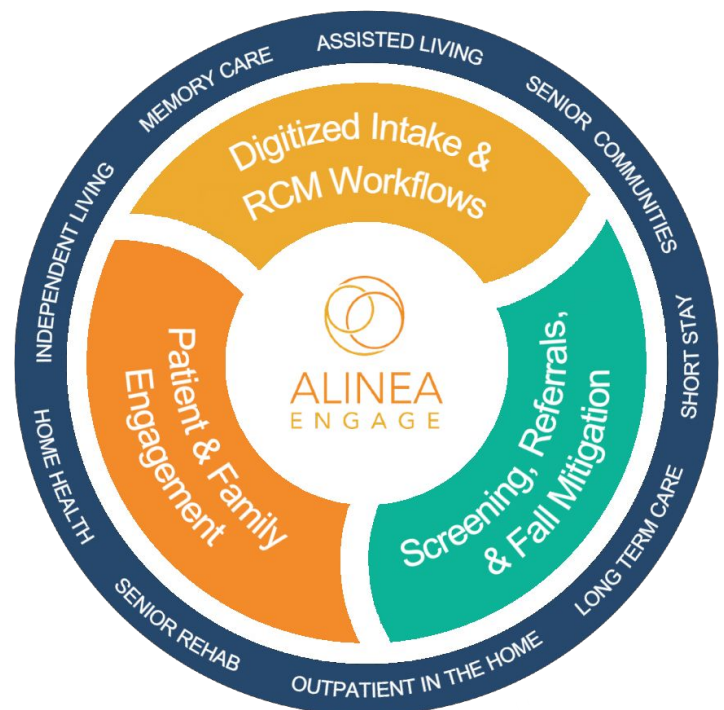

With success metrics far above industry averages, let Alinea engagement be your secret weapon against rising costs.

REFERRALS & SCREENING

Track, manage, and rapidly respond to referrals, even gaining vital insight on referrals that fail to convert.

Efficiently monitor the needs of all residents - not just patients on caseload - ensuring care is delivered at the first sign of need.

With Alinea, bridge gaps on the continuum of care and differentiate your value to Senior Communities.
