

New mental models

Think about your current landscape. Look for areas where old mental models are no longer viable.

What’s a familiar business habit or practice that no longer seems to be working?

How is the landscape changing in your industry?
Where are areas where you need new mental models?