Cabernet Sauvignon Columbia Valley

TASTING NOTES

Savory notes of fennel and sage are backed by deep aromas of mountain blackberry, black raspberry, and cassis. Woven into this complex profile are notes of wet limestone and gravel. The palate follows suit, with black raspberry and black currant balancing sage and anise flavors. The dark fruit finish is complemented by balanced tannins, a mineral streak, and a touch of cedar.

WINEMAKER'S NOTES

With all these great vineyard sites to choose from, we were able to have the lots harvested from late-September into early-November. We took this opportunity to blend the perfectly ripe and balanced fruit with great acidity and tannin structure into a very complex yet approachable Cabernet. Most of the lots were fermented in our pump-under method using PDM yeast with the exception of the Goose Ridge and Rivercrest Cabernets as these lots we used our upright stainless-steel upright tanks using PDM yeast. The wine finished malolactic fermentation in a mixture of stainless-steel tank and French Oak barrels and then was aged for 22 months; 12% new, 38% 2nd use with the final 50% in 3rd fill French Oak barrels.
