ITALIAN WINE REGIONS

PIEDMONT

BAROLO – Known as the "King of Italian Wines" these are complex red wines based on the Nebbiolo grape with aromas of plums, licorice, leather and roses with a rich palate of cherry, blackberry and truffles

MOSCATO d'ASTI - Semi-sweet, lightly sparkling white wine made from the Moscato Bianco grape with floral aromas and vibrant flavors of peach, grape and apricot

TRENTINO-ALTO ADIGE & FRIULI-VENEZIA GIULIA

PINOT GRIGIO – The most popular Italian white wine made from the Pinot Grigio grape and it's mainly produced in these north-eastern regions and the wine is known for racing acidity, flowery fragrance and notes of lemon, green apple, pear and a crisp finish

VENETO

PROSECCO – Sparkling white wine made from the Glera grape with intense aromatics and delivers ripe pear, apple and citrus on the palate with a hint of almond flavor

AMARONE – Rich red wine made with partially dried grapes including Corvina, Rondinella and Molinara that offers concentrated flavors of cherries, plums, raisins and dark chocolate with a smoky finish

TUSCANY

CHIANTI – Sangiovese is the dominant grape and it's typically a light-bodied red wine with aromas of roses and flavors of cherries and fairly high acidity which makes the wine food friendly

SUPER TUSCANS – Signature red wine from a Tuscany producer that may include a powerful blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Sangiovese, Merlot, Syrah and Cabernet Franc

CAMPANIA

WHITE WINE – Greco di Tufo is the region's most prestigious white wine made from the Greco grape found on volcanic soils which lends a mineral and perfume complexity with flavors of lemon, pears and toasted almond

RED WINE – Taurasi is considered the premier red wine in Southern Italy made from the Aglianico grape on high elevation vineyards which impart layers of raspberries, plums and dark cherries with an earthy finish

ITALY

TERMINOLOGY: Using the map on Page 16 will help guide you through the larger wine regions of Italy. Our Sommelier has added additional information, and terminology to guide you through some of the smaller regions of Italy, or to explain the flavor profile of any particular Italian wine. For instance, when you see "Baby Amarone" it just means it is a lighter style of the same wine as Amarone.
