Studio Wayne is interested in working with practitioners who have experience stage managing productions. Student directors are still encouraged to apply! We are happy to mentor you in your growth as a stage manager.

Stage Manager's experience working with Studio Wayne or the Wayne Theatre

The creatives at the Wayne Theatre believe in creating a collaborative theatrical experience. Understanding that process is helpful and will certainly help your application but is not required. That said, we love to share our process and collaborate with new artists. Artists new to Studio Wayne and the Wayne theatre are encouraged to apply!

Stage Manager's experience working with young artists.

Experience working with children is a must! Studio Wayne provides educational experiences for students of all ages. Our Studio Wayne productions are reserved for artists who are between the ages of 8 and 18. We value our young artists and want to make sure that we are pairing them with a director who values them for the artist that they are while also being able to work with them at a level with which they are comfortable.
