myFC receives order for 2,000 JAQ Hybrid chargers from South Africa

Stockholm, February 18 2019

myFC has signed a non-exclusive distribution agreement for the company's fuel cell-based power bank JAQ Hybrid with Trenditrade 21, a franchisee in the Nashua Group. Trenditrade 21 also places an initial order of 2,000 units of JAQ Hybrid and their associated fuel cards.

The Nashua Group delivers smart office solutions to large parts of Sub-Saharan Africa. The agreement with one of its franchisees Trenditrade 21 is myFC's first in Africa, and a breakthrough in markets that are experiencing rapid growth and where the mobile phone has a central role in society and in people's lives.

"It is a breakthrough for us to receive our first order in Sub-Saharan Africa. These are markets where the demand for solution to mobility challenges is high – such as lack of or under-dimensioned infrastructure for charging mobile phones. The region was early to adopt mobile digital services such as e payments, and the gap between user needs and what the infrastructure can cater for is only increasing," says Björn Westerholm, CEO of myFC.

The delivery of 2,000 JAQ Hybrid chargers is planned to begin in Q2 2019, and includes myFC's new generation of fuel cards, containing twice the energy compared to the previous card.

"I welcome Trenditrade 21 on board. The need for this type of solution on the market or the effect of our new fuel cards can't be overestimated. The Nashua Group is an important partner in the region and this cooperation will be very exciting for myFC. I feel confident regarding further sales of the JAQ Hybrid in Sub-Saharan Africa," says Ville Lejon-Avrin, Sales Manager at myFC.

The value of the initial order is not expected to exceed one million SEK.
