Harm Reduction Approach

Indigenous Centered Praxis
- Include culturally-grounded care.
- Link to community-centered prevention groups.
- Build in cultural activities.
- Share meals or other culturally meaningful moments of connection.

Relationships
- Ensure meaningful access to care.
- Build partnerships within and external to American Indian or Alaska Native community.
- Consider systems integration to ensure harm reduction is realized (e.g., courts, housing, etc.)
- Identify ways to reduce financial burdens to obtain treatment.
- Include administrative practices needed to maintain quality and scope of services needed.
- Implement training and community education efforts to reduce discriminatory practices and address stigma.

Capacity Development
- Review assessment measures to ensure fit.
- Develop a patient tracking system that will allow practitioners to extract longitudinal data to see how individual patients do over time.
- Provide descriptions of how patient information will be protected and who has access.
- Include qualitative assessments of program participants to tell the story.
