Gathering Grounds

END OF YEAR REPORT

PREPARED BY
DANIELLE LUCERO, MSW, MPH
RESEARCH COORDINATOR
A LOOK AT THIS YEAR

Gathering Grounds was developed with a very specific purpose: to bring together individuals, communities, and organizations focused on Indigenous public health to share and discuss promising public health practices. We started the year intending to focus on two topics: prevention during times of crises and data infrastructure. In 2020, these two topics became more relevant than ever.

With the need to mobilize and work through the challenges exacerbated by COVID-19, Gathering Grounds became a virtual space to learn, process, and think about solutions as a collective. This report highlights this year’s sessions, as well as other areas where Gathering Grounds has grown. We look forward to continuing our work together to lift up promising practices and learn from each other’s strengths.
THE SEVEN PRINCIPLES

These seven principles guide the Gathering Grounds Indigenous Community of Practice and were identified through a literature review looking at communities of practice around the world that include Indigenous peoples. Seven Directions presented on this work at the Virtual International Indigenous Research Conference in Aotearoa (New Zealand) in November 2020. To watch the video click here.

Seven Emerging Principles

Connectedness   Relational   Peer-Led Indigeneity     Adaptable   Equitable   Valued
In 2020 we hosted eight different sessions, based on community-generated themes.

1. Get to know Gathering Grounds: an introduction to your Community of Practice

2. How is your Tribal or Urban Indian community responding to COVID-19? (first session)

3. How is your Tribal or Urban Indian community responding to COVID-19? (second session)

4. What are the practices/resources/tools that are working for your community?

5. Identifying emerging challenges and opportunities: the collision of the opioid epidemic and the COVID-19 pandemic

6. Indigenized communication during COVID-19 with Native Governance Center

7. Setting up hotspots and mapping the movement of the coronavirus through Northern New Mexico

8. Gathering Grounds meeting for health workers & students - How to engage people in the 2020 election
Our Nations, Our Journeys

At the 2020 ONOJ, held November 9-10, 12-13, we hosted four Gathering Grounds Wellness Sessions. We believe collective wellness helps strengthen our relationships with each other.

ONOJ Day 1

Fight for our Future: Story Slam

ONOJ Day 2

Yoga with Julie
5 pm PST / 6 pm MST / 7 pm CST / 8 pm EST

ONOJ Day 3

Reclaiming our Journey through Holistic Wellness
5 pm PST / 6 pm MST / 7 pm CST / 8 pm EST

ONOJ Day 4

Visual Art as a Tool of Resistance
5 pm PST / 6 pm MST / 7 pm CST / 8 pm EST
OUR COMMUNITY

The Gathering Grounds community consists of public health professionals in various roles from data analysts and research coordinators to nurse consultants and licensed counselors. We have representation from both urban and rural Indigenous communities.

"It feels good thinking of all of us working in our corners of the world to protect our people, using our minds, hearts, and souls."

Gathering Grounds currently has 109 members.
Thank you for being part of Gathering Grounds. We have a number of sessions planned for 2021. Make sure you save these dates, all on the second Tuesday of the month! We look forward to hearing your stories and working together through Gathering Grounds.

January 12, 2021 2021 Gathering Grounds Kick-off Meeting + Wellness Session

February 9, 2021 The Integrated Healthcare Approach for Opioid Use Disorder in Tribal Communities: The didgʷálič Wellness Center Model

March 16, 2021 A Discussion on Indigenous Social Determinants of Health

April 13, 2021 The Peer Support Approach to Opioid Use Disorder in Tribal Communities: The Pascua Yaqui Tribe Model

May 11, 2021 Public Health Accreditation during COVID-19

June 8, 2021 Data Infrastructure across Approaches Addressing Opioid Use Disorder in Tribal Communities

July 13, 2021 A Mid-Year Review of our Collective Efforts - Story Session
Staff & Team Members

Should you have a question about Gathering Grounds or if you would like to submit a topic, do not hesitate to email us.

Christina Oré, DrPH
Senior Advisor
core1@uw.edu

Danielle Lucero, MSW, MPH
Research Coordinator
dlucer04@uw.edu

Sofia Singer
Research Coordinator
spsinger@uw.edu

Gathering Grounds
Indigenous Communities of Practice

Seven Directions
A Center for Indigenous Public Health

University of Washington