Best practices for Renters

- When not engaged in gameplay or scrimmaging, organizations should promote social distancing for participants as much as is practical by implementing training and drills that promote social distancing, and having players practice social distancing when resting or holding team meetings.

- Practices should be staggered as much as practical (ie some start on the hour while others start on the half hour), and there should be at least 15 minutes allotted between Practices. These measures are to try to reduce the amount of people in the building and surrounding area at one time.

Additional Volleyball/Basketball Guidelines

- Locker rooms are closed. All players should arrive dressed and ready to play

Spectators (Practices):

- For practices, spectators are limited to no more than 12 per court. Parents should drop children off at the gym door, and wait outside they gym either by the viewing area or outside the facility.

I the undersigned agree to follow all the guidelines outlined above and to help promote these guidelines for all persons related to the activities of my rental, including, but not limited to participants, spectators, employees, volunteers, coaches, and umpires/referees.
