Every day trip includes at least one meal onboard.

Sleeper journeys range from one to seven nights and are available across the world. Dress for the occasion

While there is a dress code onboard all of our luxury trains, it's not quite as strict as you may think. Jeans and trainers are not allowed by any means, but smart attire is up to you to interpret.

Sleeper journeys do usually include a formal dinner or two depending on the journey, so it is advised for ladies to pack a dress and gentlemen a suit and tie.

One can never be too over-dressed for a luxury train journey.

A typical day trip

Be sure to get to the platform early so you can see your magnificent train arrive at the station, an ideal photo opportunity. You're then welcomed onboard with a class of champagne and shown to your seats. The train then embarks on your journey taking the most scenic route possible so there is always something to see. Converse with your party or socialise with other fellow passengers as you eagerly await your meal.

If you have chosen a dining experience, your train will take you on a tour of the glorious British countryside while you enjoy your meal onboard. These journeys usually take around four to six hours. If you have chosen an excursion, the train will take you to the nearest station where a transfer will be waiting. You'll enjoy time at leisure at your chosen location before returning to the train to enjoy another meal on your return journey.

Life onboard a sleeper

Every sleeper journey is unique however they all share the same glamorous lifestyle onboard. After a welcome drinks reception you are shown to your cabin where you have time to unwind, relax or explore the train if you wish. Head to the observation car to see the sights or head to the bar car for a glass of your favourite beverage and to converse with fellow passengers. All meals are served in one of the many restaurant cars.

Depending on your journey, you may embark on daily excursions. You will be taken to the nearest station where you disembark the train and be taken on a guided tour of a stately home, garden or distillery. After a day of adventure, you return to the train for dinner and time to spend in the evening as you wish. Listen to musicians in the bar car and enjoy a cocktail before a restful night's sleep and another day of exploring and adventure the following day.

Common questions

When will my tickets be sent to me?

Your tickets will be emailed to you usually around five days before departure.

Why do you not send physical paper tickets?

Many of the train operators no longer use paper tickets, so we are unable to have these sent to you. This is mainly to reduce any issues with postage but also to collectively reduce our paper use and impact on the environment.

Do you offer physical gift cards, vouchers or certificates?

In order to keep our prices as low as possible for our customers and to do our part for the environment, all of our tickets and gift vouchers are sent to you digitally. This makes everything as quick and as convenient as possible for you without having to wait for your tickets or vouchers to arrive by post. If you wish to give a journey or one of our gift vouchers as a gift, we recommend including a little note inside a card or being creative with how you surprise your recipient.

We therefore unfortunately do not offer physically printed gift cards, certificates or vouchers.

How do your gift vouchers work?

You can choose to buy a gift voucher for a particular train or give your recipient the choice of any train or journey on the LuxuryTrainTickets.com website. Once you have purchased a gift voucher, you will be emailed a voucher code. This code acts as credit, so once your recipient has found a journey they wish to take, they simply enter the voucher code in the checkout instead of paying by credit or debit card.

If your recipient wants to add to the amount you have given them, they can do so.

What is the dress code?

This can vary depending on the train and journey, but generally passengers are required to dress smartly, meaning no trainers, jeans or t-shirts. For sleeper journeys, such as those onboard the Venice Simplon Orient Express, Royal Scotsman or Grand Hibernian, it is recommended that formal evening wear is worn for the evening dinners. A dress for ladies and a suit with tie for gentlemen is generally recommended. Journeys that visit racecourses may have their own stricter dress codes; these will be outlined on that particular journey page.

Do you offer discounts?

We pride ourselves on being one of the most affordable luxury trains companies in the world. As an authorised ticketing agent, we are able to offer our trains from many different operators all in one place and at an affordable price. This makes finding your luxury train journey easier as you can compare journeys across many different trains as well as more affordable as we are able to be more flexible with our pricing. While most of our journeys already include some sort of discount, if you find a similar journey elsewhere we will match or even beat the price where possible.

How much is a child ticket?

All our tickets are based on one person, whether that be an adult or a child.

Do your trains have wheelchair access?

As you may be able to appreciate, most of our trains were built in the 1920's and 1930's and therefore aren't the most wheelchair friendly. Once onboard, tables and chairs cannot be moved unfortunately either, which is why only collapsible wheel chairs are permitted on day trips.

Are you a train operator?

LuxuryTrainTickets.com is an authorised ticketing agent. We compile luxury train journeys from multiple operators to offer you the very best choice of luxury trains. By booking through LuxuryTrainTickets.com, you benefit from more flexible bookings, additional extras such as complimentary birthday cakes for celebratory journey and of course our complimentary concierge service. We are official partners with the luxury train operators we choose and therefore we are able to pass on the savings they offer us on to our customers.

What is your cancellation policy?

Our cancellation policy varies slightly between our operators, this is because each operator has a slightly different cancellation policy themselves. Rest assured that you will be protected by the same terms as if you were booking direct with any accredited luxury train operator.
