Principal's Message

Welcome to the academic year 2020 - 2021 at Global Indian International School. This Student Handbook is for parents, guardians and students from Kindergarten to Class 12.

The school provides a holistic learning environment and facilitates communication and interaction between teachers, students and parents. This manual offers a guideline and a time- specific framework for students. The school aims to focus on preparing the students to best meet the challenges in a proactive manner.

This handbook is intended to provide a brief, concise and understandable overview of some of the most important opportunities and expectations that anchor our programme. It thus serves as a guide for parents and students to the policies and procedures to be followed during the school year. As with any guide, it only serves as a framework for activities planned.

Campus specific details will be available from the respective campus office.

Please review this handbook with your child and feel free to contact the Principal, Vice- Principal, Academic Supervisors, Coordinators, Teachers, or Staff, through telephone, e-mail or school diary, if you have any questions about our programmes, rules or policies. ## School Timing

- Regular school timings Monday – Friday
- Nursery and Kindergarten: 9.00 am to 12.15 pm
- Classes 1 and above: 9.00 am to 3.35 pm

Students should reach school before 9.00 am and should not be on the school premises after 4.00 pm, unless they are authorised and are under the supervision of a teacher/coach.

Students' free activities during break and lunch are restricted to designated areas. Playing in the bus bay is strictly prohibited.

Morning Assembly

- Morning assembly is held on assigned weekdays.
- Students are required to reach the auditorium as soon as they arrive at school on the day of the scheduled assembly.
- Students get an opportunity, on class-wise rotational basis to address their school mates. It gives every child the opportunity to be in the spotlight and to be celebrated as an individual.

Attendance

- Academic achievement improves when attendance is consistent; therefore it is important to be in class each day. The Principal, upon receipt of a written statement from the parent or guardian explaining the reason for the absence, will excuse absences of students in certain cases.
- Students who reach school late must sign in at the Security Desk / Reception upon arrival. Students who leave school early must sign out at the Security Desk / Reception before leaving school. Students will be allowed to leave early only on approval from the Level Coordinator / Class Teacher.
- Students who need pre-planned leave of more than two days require prior approval from the Principal.
- Students taking medical leave should submit their medical certificate, when they start attending school after an illness.
- Students are advised not to come to school if unwell, during their exams.
- Students on medical leave during an assessment will be given grades based on their continual Assessments.

Parent Teacher Meeting (PTM):

- Parent Teacher Meetings are regularly arranged by school to communicate progress of the child.
- Parents can also initiate a meeting with any teacher by appointment through mygiis or the student's school diary.

Feedback and Suggestions:

- The school recognises that there may be conditions in the school campus that are in need of improvement. Feedback can be given online at mygiis.org, mails, telephone calls and meetings.
- The escalation level for any parent regarding feedback or area for improvement is the Campus Principal

Enrolment-related Clarifications:

- For the purpose of seeking timely and fair resolution of disputes or complaints that relate to student's enrolment, the contact persons are as given below.
  - Level 1 – Admissions Manager - response time 48 hours
  - Level 2 - Finance Controller - response time 24 hours.

Health & Safety

There is a sick bay with a trained nurse on duty during the school working hours, to attend to minor injuries / illness of the students. In case the child is having high fever, the nurse will call the parents and ask them to take the child home for further medical assistance. If the child is suffering from any infectious disease, he/she should not be sent to school till the time he/she is medically fit.

Fire safety drill will be conducted to train students and teachers to follow the fire safety plan and familiarize with fire exits and routes to follow, in case of fire.

Courses, Subjects Offered, Assessment and Examination Guidelines

The scope of evaluation at Global Indian International School extends to almost all areas of the student's personality development. It includes both scholastic and co-scholastic areas, and is comprehensive in nature.

Evaluation is continuous and reveals the strengths and areas of improvement of the students frequently, so that the learners have a better opportunity to understand and improve themselves. It also provides feedback to the teachers for modifying their teaching strategies according to individual student needs. In view of getting a complete picture of the child's learning, assessment focuses on the learner's ability to:

- Learn and acquire desired skills related to different subject areas
- Acquire a level of achievement in different subject areas in the requisite measure
- Develop child's individual skills, interests, attitudes and motivation
- Monitor the changes taking place in child's learning, behaviour and progress over a period of time
- Respond to different situations and opportunities both in and out of school
- Apply what is learnt in a variety of environment, circumstances and situations
- Work independently, collaboratively and harmoniously
- Analyse and evaluate
- Be aware of social and environmental issues
- Participate in social and environmental projects
- Retain what is learned over a period of time
- The assessments are done with the purpose to achieve the following objectives:
  - To help develop cognitive, psychomotor and affective skills
  - To lay emphasis on thought process and de-emphasise memorisation
  - To make evaluation an integral part of teaching-learning process
  - To use evaluation for improvement of students achievement and teaching-learning strategies on the basis of regular diagnosis followed by remedial instructions
  - To use evaluation as a quality control device to maintain desired standard of performance
  - To determine social utility, desirability or effectiveness of a programme and take appropriate decisions about the learner, the process of learning and the learning environment
  - To make the process of teaching and learning a learner-centred activity
  - Assessments are done on a regular basis through journals, written work, portfolios, project work, classroom interactions, peer and /or self-assessments, cyclic tests along with many other learning tasks. There are two summative assessments at the end of each of the two semesters.

Annex P : Assessment Policy IBPYP

Philosophy of Assessment

We believe that assessment is an important component of teaching and learning. It is central to the PYP goal of thoughtfully and effectively guiding students through the five essential elements of learning:

- the acquisition of knowledge
- the understanding of concepts
- the mastering of skills
- the development of attitudes
- the decision to take action

Purpose of Assessment

The primary purpose of assessment in our school is to inform learning and teaching. It involves the gathering and analysis of information about student learning to inform teaching practice. It defines what students know, understand and can do at different stages in the learning process.

Effective assessment that achieves this purpose provides valuable information to understand what constitutes learning and how to support it, and is meaningful to all members of the learning community.

- Students become effective, self-regulated learners who are actively engaged in assessment and act on constructive feedback, reflect on their progress, set goals for their learning and are engaged in making decisions on what they need to do to achieve these goals.
- Teachers become more effective when they continually learn about what students know and can do. They reflect on their practice, adjust their teaching based on data, and offer timely, specific and well considered feedback to support learning.
- Parents become more informed when they understand the learning goals their child is working towards, and the progress their child is making. They extend their child's understanding and development of skills when they support learning. They contribute to their child's joy of learning and growth as a successful learner through sharing insights with the learning community.

- As a school, we become a more impactful learning community as we use assessment as a tool to evaluate the depth of our curriculum and the effectiveness of our teaching. We make decisions about targeting resources and support to the most pressing priorities and professional development needs.

Principles of Assessment

The PYP approach to assessment gives the students a vital role in the assessment process and engages the teachers in considering assessments as fit for purpose.

Characteristics of Highly Effective Assessment:

- Authentic- supports making connections to the real world to promote student engagement
- Clear and specific- includes desired learning goals, success criteria and the process students use to learn
- Varied- uses a wider range of tools and strategies that are fit for purpose in order to build a well- rounded picture of student learning
- Developmental- focuses on an individual student's progress rather than their performance in relation to others
- Collaborative- engages both teachers and students in the assessment development and evaluation process
- Interactive- encompasses ongoing and iterative dialogues about learning
- Feedback to feed forward- provides feedback on current learning to inform what is needed to support future learning and raises students' motivation.

What to Assess?

The significant content identified by the school supports the outcome of students becoming internationally minded. Teachers, then, plan multiple opportunities for their students to develop knowledge, conceptual understandings and skills to support self-regulatory learning.

The PYP approach to assessment recognizes the importance of:

- Monitoring and documenting the process of inquiry through careful observations of the inquiry process, teachers monitor students' ability to make connections across subjects and to apply skills to construct new knowledge

- Monitoring, documenting and measuring conceptual understandings- on how concepts are recalled, explained and transferred through a range of learning experiences
- Monitoring and documenting approaches to learning skills for growth over time.

How to assess?

Assessment provides evidence to inform learning and teaching. Both students and teachers are continually asking themselves the questions “Am I making progress? How do I know?”. They gather evidence of learning to answer these questions.

Types of Assessment

We believe that effective PYP assessment practice holistically integrates assessment for, of, and as learning to support effective learning and teaching.

Assessment for Learning (Formative Assessment)

Formative assessments are the tools to gather the feedback about Student learning, achievements and understanding about the concept. Formative assessment is integrated into the daily learning process. It provides Teachers and Students with information about how the learning is developing. It helps the Teacher to plan the next stage of learning.

All Student work will be assessed and used to provide feedback. A variety of assessment tasks are set to ensure that each Student gets some opportunity to attempt tasks in their chosen/preferred style. Tasks also vary – individual tasks, pair work, group tasks, sharing, presentations, projects (research and investigative), experiments are some examples of formative assessments. The assessments also include homework checks, questioning, teacher observation of student work, discussions etc. Students will be encouraged to do peer assessments as well as self- assessments for certain tasks.

The assessments directly relate to the unit objectives. They will usually involve Teachers assessing individuals against an agreed rubric.

Assessment of Learning (Summative Assessment)

Summative assessment occurs at the end of a teaching and learning cycle. Students are given the opportunity to demonstrate what they have learnt by applying their knowledge in new and authentic contexts. It's goal is to certify and to report on learning progress. It is generally conducted at the end of a unit, year level or developmental stage or programme. One summative assessment is conducted at the end of each unit. Students are often encouraged to self- evaluate.

Assessment as learning

As part of the formative process, Assessments as learning helps students to take responsibility of their own learning and monitoring of future goals. Students reflect on their own work on a regular basis, usually through self and peer assessment and decide what their learning will be. Through this process, students are able to learn about themselves as learners and become aware of how they learn- become metacognitive (knowledge of one's own thought process). It's goal is to support students in learning how to become a self-regulated lifelong learner.

Assessments in the classroom will include-

- Using representative examples of student work or performance to provide information about student learning
- Collective evidence of students' understanding and thinking
- Documenting learning processes of groups and individuals
- Engaging students in reflecting on their learning
- Students assessing work produced by themselves and by others
- Developing clear rubrics/ checklist and other such tools Identifying exemplar student work
- Keeping records of test/task results.

PYP assessment has four dimensions: monitoring, documenting, measuring and reporting on learning. Each of these aspects has its own function, but all aim to provide evidence to inform learning and teaching. The PYP chooses to put emphasis on monitoring and documenting learning as these dimensions are critical in providing actionable feedback for the learner.

Monitoring learning

Monitoring of learning aims to check the progress of learning against personal learning goals and success criteria. It occurs daily through a variety of strategies: observation, questioning, reflection, discussing learning with peers and teachers, and well considered feedback to feed forward for next steps in learning. Tools used for monitoring include open-ended tasks, written or oral assessment, and a learning portfolio.

Documenting learning

The documenting of learning is the compilation of the evidences of learning. Documentation can be physical or digital, and can be displayed or recorded in a variety of media forms. Documentation of learning is shared with others to make learning visible and apparent. It reveals insights into learning and provides opportunities to reconnect with learning goals and success criteria.

Teachers use a range of methods to document student learning as a means of assessing student understanding (This may include, but is not limited to videos, audio, photographs and graphic representations.):

- Learning logs or journals: These are used to record feedback and reflections of ongoing learning
- Learning stories: Narratives that document an instance when the learner shows knowledge, conceptual understandings or skills
- Portfolios: a collection of artifacts that can also contribute to reporting

Teachers may also use written records of student conversations, comments, explanations as well as annotated pieces of student work that may form part of a student's portfolio.

Portfolios- Schools have a responsibility to show evidence of student learning. As an example, portfolios are one method of collecting and storing information that can be used to document and assess student progress and achievement.

A portfolio is a record of student's involvement in learning which is designed to demonstrate success, growth, higher-order thinking, creativity, assessment strategies, and reflection. It provides a picture of each student's progress and development over a period of time both as individual and group learners.

Measuring learning

The measuring of learning aims to capture what a student has learned at a particular 'point of time.' Not all learning can be, or needs to be, measured. Each measurement tool used provides further data to support a larger picture of student achievement and progress in learning.

Analysing learning

Teachers use multiple data points to evaluate student progress. The aim is to organize, aggregate and disaggregate data to derive information to support evidence- based decision-making.

Teachers use a range of assessment tools and strategies to compile the most comprehensive picture of student progress and achievement over time. This includes the participation of the student within the process, which builds their assessment capability. Each tool and strategy chosen provides the learning community with accurate and accessible data on each student's learning.

These include, but are not limited to-

- Rubrics - An established set of criteria for rating students in all areas. The descriptors tell the assessor what characteristics or signs to look for in students' work and then how to rate that work on a predetermined scale.
- Exemplars - Samples of students' work that serve as concrete standards against which other samples are judged.
- Checklists - These are lists of information, data, attributes or elements that should be present.
- Anecdotal records- Anecdotal records are brief written notes based on observations of students.
- Continuums - These are visual representations of developmental stages of learning. They show a progression of achievement or identify where a student is in a process.

Reporting learning

Reporting on learning informs the learning community and reflects the question "How well are we doing?" It describes the progress and achievement of the students' learning, identifies areas for growth and contributes to the efficacy of the programme.

Grading System

At GIIS, for PYP Grades 1-5 we follow letter grades as this is descriptive of a level of achievement based on a set of criteria assessed against rubrics for each task set. Hence, assessments are criteria based; they reflect levels of achievement rather than percentages or marks. Student achievement for each learning area is reported using the following descriptors:

A*– Exemplary (A student exceeding grade level benchmarks)

A– Proficient (A student meeting grade level benchmarks)

B - Progressing (A student approaching grade level benchmarks)

C - Beginning (A student developing an understanding of grade level benchmarks)

N/A- Not Applicable (for example students who are new joiners or missed assessment for any reasons)

The following are some of the ways we report on learning:

- Parent/ teacher/ student conferences- are scheduled throughout the year to share teachers' observations, acquire parental feedback, and gain student agreement to enhance student performance and progress on future assessments. Students are expected to participate at these conferences. Teachers use this occasion to provide constructive suggestions on how the student might improve their performance against the assessment criteria.
- Student- led conferences- are usually held towards the end of the school year. This conference will give students an opportunity to share their learning with their parents and showcase individual pieces of work and their learning journey through their portfolio.
- Reports- Written reports are sent to parents at the end of each term, summarizing the student's progress in each subject, and the student's progress, with regards to attitude and behavior, both in and out of class.
- Learning progressions
- The 5th Grade Student Exhibition- The 5th grade students collaboratively develop and present their own central idea reflecting a topic both local and global in nature that they are motivated to explore. Students engage in a cycle of inquiry by developing ideas to explore, researching, proposing solutions, taking action, reflecting, and presenting their learning process. This is an opportunity for the students to exhibit the attributes of the learner profile which they have been developing throughout the Primary Years Programme.

Giving and receiving feedback

Feedback has been identified as one of the most effective teaching practices and should, therefore, be the core of assessment. Effective teacher feedback offers opportunities for reflection and action. It encourages learning adjustment, promotes continuous improvement and celebrates success. It helps students develop strategies to self-adjust and has a powerful influence on engagement and self-efficacy towards learning.

Feedback on knowledge, conceptual understandings and approaches to learning supports students moving towards their desired learning goals.

Philosophy of Assessment

We believe that assessment is an important component of teaching and learning. It is central to the PYP goal of thoughtfully and effectively guiding students through the five essential elements of learning:

- the acquisition of knowledge
- the understanding of concepts

- the mastering of skills
- the development of attitudes
- the decision to take action

Purpose of Assessment

The primary purpose of assessment in our school is to inform learning and teaching. It involves the gathering and analysis of information about student learning to inform teaching practice. It defines what students know, understand and can do at different stages in the learning process.

Effective assessment that achieves this purpose provides valuable information to understand what constitutes learning and how to support it, and is meaningful to all members of the learning community.

- Students become effective, self-regulated learners who are actively engaged in assessment and act on constructive feedback, reflect on their progress, set goals for their learning and are engaged in making decisions on what they need to do to achieve these goals.
- Teachers become more effective when they continually learn about what students know and can do. They reflect on their practice, adjust their teaching based on data, and offer timely, specific and well considered feedback to support learning.
- Parents become more informed when they understand the learning goals their child is working towards, and the progress their child is making. They extend their child's understanding and development of skills when they support learning. They contribute to their child's joy of learning and growth as a successful learner through sharing insights with the learning community.
- As a school, we become a more impactful learning community as we use assessment as a tool to evaluate the depth of our curriculum and the effectiveness of our teaching. We make decisions about targeting resources and support to the most pressing priorities and professional development needs.

Principles of Assessment

The PYP approach to assessment gives the students a vital role in the assessment process and engages the teachers in considering assessments as fit for purpose.

Characteristics of Highly Effective Assessment:

- Authentic- supports making connections to the real world to promote student engagement
- Clear and specific- includes desired learning goals, success criteria and the process students use to learn
- Varied- uses a wider range of tools and strategies that are fit for purpose in order to build a well- rounded picture of student learning
- Developmental- focuses on an individual student's progress rather than their performance in relation to others
- Collaborative- engages both teachers and students in the assessment development and evaluation process
- Interactive- encompasses ongoing and iterative dialogues about learning
- Feedback to feed forward- provides feedback on current learning to inform what is needed to support future learning and raises students' motivation.

What to Assess?

The significant content identified by the school supports the outcome of students becoming internationally minded. Teachers, then, plan multiple opportunities for their students to develop knowledge, conceptual understandings and skills to support self-regulatory learning.

The PYP approach to assessment recognizes the importance of:

- monitoring and documenting the process of inquiry through careful observations of the inquiry process, teachers monitor students' ability to make connections across subjects and to apply skills to construct new knowledge
- monitoring, documenting and measuring conceptual understandings- on how concepts are recalled, explained and transferred through a range of learning experiences
- Monitoring and documenting approaches to learning skills for growth over time.

How to assess?

Assessment provides evidence to inform learning and teaching. Both students and teachers are continually asking themselves the questions "Am I making progress? How do I know?". They gather evidence of learning to answer these questions.

Types of Assessment

We believe that effective PYP assessment practice holistically integrates assessment for, of, and as learning to support effective learning and teaching.

Assessment for Learning (Formative Assessment)

Formative assessments are the tools to gather the feedback about Student learning, achievements and understanding about the concept. Formative assessment is integrated into the daily learning process. It provides Teachers and Students with information about how the learning is developing. It helps the Teacher to plan the next stage of learning.

All Student work will be assessed and used to provide feedback. A variety of assessment tasks are set to ensure that each Student gets some opportunity to attempt tasks in their chosen/preferred style. Tasks also vary – individual tasks, pair work, group tasks, sharing, presentations, projects (research and investigative), experiments are some examples of formative assessments. The assessments also include homework checks, questioning, teacher observation of student work, discussions etc. Students will be encouraged to do peer assessments as well as self- assessments for certain tasks.

The assessments directly relate to the unit objectives. They will usually involve Teachers assessing individuals against an agreed rubric.

Assessment of Learning (Summative Assessment)

Summative assessment occurs at the end of a teaching and learning cycle. Students are given the opportunity to demonstrate what they have learnt by applying their knowledge in new and authentic contexts. It's goal is to certify and to report on learning progress. It is generally conducted at the end of a unit, year level or developmental stage or programme. One summative assessment is conducted at the end of each unit. Students are often encouraged to self- evaluate.

Assessment as learning

As part of the formative process, Assessments as learning helps students to take responsibility of their own learning and monitoring of future goals. Students reflect on their own work on a regular basis, usually through self and peer assessment and decide what their learning will be. Through this process, students are able to learn about themselves as learners and become aware of how they learn- become metacognitive (knowledge of one's own thought process). It's goal is to support students in learning how to become a self-regulated lifelong learner.

Assessments in the classroom will include-

- Using representative examples of student work or performance to provide information about student learning

- Collective evidence of students' understanding and thinking
- Documenting learning processes of groups and individuals
- Engaging students in reflecting on their learning
- Students assessing work produced by themselves and by others
- Developing clear rubrics/ checklist and other such tools Identifying exemplar student work
- Keeping records of test/task results.

PYP assessment has four dimensions: monitoring, documenting, measuring and reporting on learning. Each of these aspects has its own function, but all aim to provide evidence to inform learning and teaching. The PYP chooses to put emphasis on monitoring and documenting learning as these dimensions are critical in providing actionable feedback for the learner.

Monitoring learning

Monitoring of learning aims to check the progress of learning against personal learning goals and success criteria. It occurs daily through a variety of strategies: observation, questioning, reflection, discussing learning with peers and teachers, and well considered feedback to feed forward for next steps in learning. Tools used for monitoring include open-ended tasks, written or oral assessment, and a learning portfolio.

Documenting learning

The documenting of learning is the compilation of the evidences of learning. Documentation can be physical or digital, and can be displayed or recorded in a variety of media forms. Documentation of learning is shared with others to make learning visible and apparent. It reveals insights into learning and provides opportunities to reconnect with learning goals and success criteria.

Teachers use a range of methods to document student learning as a means of assessing student understanding (This may include, but is not limited to videos, audio, photographs and graphic representations.):

- Learning logs or journals: These are used to record feedback and reflections of ongoing learning
- Learning stories: Narratives that document an instance when the learner shows knowledge, conceptual understandings or skills
- Portfolios: a collection of artifacts that can also contribute to reporting

Teachers may also use written records of student conversations, comments, explanations as well as annotated pieces of student work that may form part of a student's portfolio.

Portfolios- Schools have a responsibility to show evidence of student learning. As an example, portfolios are one method of collecting and storing information that can be used to document and assess student progress and achievement.

A portfolio is a record of student's involvement in learning which is designed to demonstrate success, growth, higher-order thinking, creativity, assessment strategies, and reflection. It provides a picture of each student's progress and development over a period of time both as individual and group learners.

Measuring learning

The measuring of learning aims to capture what a student has learned at a particular 'point of time.' Not all learning can be, or needs to be, measured. Each measurement tool used provides further data to support a larger picture of student achievement and progress in learning.

Analysing learning

Teachers use multiple data points to evaluate student progress. The aim is to organize, aggregate and disaggregate data to derive information to support evidence- based decision-making.

Teachers use a range of assessment tools and strategies to compile the most comprehensive picture of student progress and achievement over time. This includes the participation of the student within the process, which builds their assessment capability. Each tool and strategy chosen provides the learning community with accurate and accessible data on each student's learning.

These include, but are not limited to-

- Rubrics- An established set of criteria for rating students in all areas The descriptors tell the assessor what characteristics or signs to look for in students' work and then how to rate that work on a predetermined scale.
- Exemplars- Samples of students' work that serve as concrete standards against which other samples are judged.

- Checklists- These are lists of information, data, attributes or elements that should be present.
- Anecdotal records- Anecdotal records are brief written notes based on observations of students.
- Continuums- These are visual representations of developmental stages of learning. They show a progression of achievement or identify where a student is in a process.

Reporting learning

Reporting on learning informs the learning community and reflects the question “How well are we doing?” It describes the progress and achievement of the students’ learning, identifies areas for growth and contributes to the efficacy of the programme.

Grading System

At GHS, for PYP Grades 1-5 we follow letter grades as this is descriptive of a level of achievement based on a set of criteria assessed against rubrics for each task set. Hence, assessments are criteria based; they reflect levels of achievement rather than percentages or marks. Student achievement for each learning area is reported using the following descriptors:

A*– Exemplary (A student exceeding grade level benchmarks)

A– Proficient (A student meeting grade level benchmarks)

B - Progressing (A student approaching grade level benchmarks)

C - Beginning (A student developing an understanding of grade level benchmarks)

N/A- Not Applicable (for example students who are new joiners or missed assessment for any reasons)

The following are some of the ways we report on learning:

- parent/ teacher/ student conferences- are scheduled throughout the year to share teachers’ observations, acquire parental feedback, and gain student agreement to enhance student performance and progress on future assessments. Students are expected to participate at these conferences. Teachers use this occasion to provide constructive suggestions on how the student might improve their performance against the assessment criteria.

- Student- led conferences- are usually held towards the end of the school year. This conference will give students an opportunity to share their learning with their parents and showcase individual pieces of work and their learning journey through their portfolio.
- Reports- Written reports are sent to parents at the end of each term, summarizing the student's progress in each subject, and the student's progress, with regards to attitude and behavior, both in and out of class.
- Learning progressions
- The 5th Grade Student Exhibition- The 5th grade students collaboratively develop and present their own central idea reflecting a topic both local and global in nature that they are motivated to explore. Students engage in a cycle of inquiry by developing ideas to explore, researching, proposing solutions, taking action, reflecting, and presenting their learning process. This is an opportunity for the students to exhibit the attributes of the learner profile which they have been developing throughout the Primary Years Programme.

Giving and receiving feedback

Feedback has been identified as one of the most effective teaching practices and should, therefore, be for the core of assessment. Effective teacher feedback offers opportunities for reflection and action. It encourages learning adjustment, promotes continuous improvement and celebrates success. It helps students develop strategies to self-adjust and has a powerful influence on engagement and self-efficacy towards learning.

Feedback on knowledge, conceptual understandings and approaches to learning supports students moving towards their desired learning goals.

GIIS IBDP ASSESSMENT IBDP ASSESSMENT POLICY

Philosophy of Assessment

Assessment is an important part of the instructional cycle. It provides information about student learning and development, as well as a framework for planning, collaboration, and self-reflection. Assessment is a term used to cover all the various methods by which student achievement can be evaluated. Assessment instruments may include tests, examinations, extended practical work, projects, portfolios and oral work.

A distinction is often made between summative assessment, aimed at determining the level of achievement of a student generally at the end of a course of study, and formative assessment, aimed at identifying the learning needs of students and forming part of the learning process itself.

Formative and summative assessment

Formal assessment of the DP includes some multiple-choice tests for a few subjects and examination papers for most subjects, intended to be taken at the end of the two-year course. A variety of other tasks like essays, research essays, written assignments, oral interviews, scientific and mathematical investigations, fieldwork projects and artistic performances are spread over different subjects and completed by students at various times under various conditions during their course.

The main purpose of the formative assessment is to provide detailed feedback to teachers and their students on the nature of students' strengths and weaknesses. Method of assessment involving direct interaction between teacher and student is particularly helpful here. The teacher is seen as a facilitator rather than a director of learning, and should make use of assessment tasks and instruments to help the students in improving skills and understanding rather than accurately measuring the level of each student's achievement.

Features of Formative Assessment

- Is diagnostic and remedial
- Makes provision for effective feedback
- Provides a platform for the active involvement of students in their own learning
- Enables teachers to adjust teaching to take account of the results of assessment
- Recognizes the profound influence assessment has on the motivation and self-esteem of students, both of which are crucial influences on learning
- Recognizes the need for students to be able to assess themselves and understand how to improve
- Builds on students' prior knowledge and experience in designing what is taught
- Incorporates varied learning styles to decide how and what to teach
- Encourages students to understand the criteria that will be used to judge their work
- Offers an opportunity to students to improve their work after they get the feedback
- Helps students to support their peer group and vice-versa
- The various techniques used for formative assessments are
  - a. Examinations (cyclic tests)
  2. Assignments
  3. Quizzes and competitions
  4. Projects
  5. Debates
  6. Presentations
  7. Group discussions
  8. Club activities

9. Experiments

j. Research

Features of Summative Assessment

Summative assessment is used for quite different purposes, including the provision of information about student achievement, the certification and selection of students, an accountability mechanism to evaluate teachers and schools, and a driving force for curriculum reform.

Although the primary role of DP assessment is generally perceived to be that of certification of achievement, leading in most cases to a selection process for university admission, the other uses of summative assessment are also significant. DP assessment is a major tool for reinforcing the teaching of the curricular goals of the programme. Summative assessment methods are the most traditional way of evaluating student work – objective type, short answer, long answer etc.

Validity and reliability

According to the standard definition, the validity of an assessment is the extent to which it actually measures what it is stated to measure. The term reliability is used to define the accuracy of measurement resulting from an assessment, and how likely it is that the same result would be produced in slightly different circumstances. An assessment is reliable if a student would gain the same result were he/she to repeat the assessment on different occasions, and give the same result if different markers marked the assessment. Validity and reliability are widely regarded as essential characteristics of any assessment system, particularly a high- stakes one where the outcome is of great importance to the student or the teacher.

In formative assessment, pre-eminence can be given to validity, while in summative assessment equal attention must be paid to both validity and reliability.

Diploma Programme assessment - aims and approaches

Assessment of the DP is high - stakes, criterion-related performance assessment. It is based on the following aims:

- DP assessment should support the curricular and philosophical goals of the programme, through the encouragement of good classroom practice and appropriate student learning
- The published results of DP assessment (that is, subject grades) must have a sufficiently high level of reliability, appropriate to a high - stakes university entrance qualification
- DP assessment must reflect the international-mindedness of the programme wherever possible, must avoid cultural bias, and must make appropriate allowance for students working in their second language
- DP assessment must pay appropriate attention to the higher-order cognitive skills (synthesis, reflection, evaluation, critical thinking) as well as the more fundamental cognitive skills (knowledge, understanding and application)
- Assessment for each subject must include a suitable range of tasks and instruments / components that ensure all objectives for the subject are assessed
- The principal means of assessing student achievement and determining subject grades should be the professional judgment of experienced senior examiners, supported by statistical information

Range of assessment tasks and assessment instruments

A multiple-choice question, a short-response question, an extended-response question, an essay, a project, a single piece of work from a portfolio, and a research assignment are all examples of assessment tasks. An assessment instrument/component is made up of one or more tasks that are collected together, for the sake of thematic or content continuity, or for convenience. Examination papers, portfolio of work, project or research assignment are examples of assessment instruments, or components.

The construct being assessed for each subject is defined by the objectives given at the beginning of each subject guide. The nature of what is to be assessed is thus precisely defined for students, teachers, parents / carers and examiners. The majority of assessment components are examination papers, made up of a wide variety of question types to suit the requirements of the subject. Question types include multiple-choice questions (used in only a small number of papers), short-response questions, structured problem-solving questions, open-ended problem-solving questions, essay questions, data-analysis questions, case studies and commentaries on supplied texts. The examinations are taken under controlled conditions, with student responses being marked externally by independent examiners.

There are other tasks/components undertaken by students, with the guidance of their teachers, over an extended period, which are also externally marked by examiners. These include language A1 world literature assignments, language A2 written tasks, music investigations, theory of knowledge essays and extended essays. The assessment focus for all of these is on the quality of a finished written product, which makes them suitable for external assessment.

A third type of assessment component is internal assessment, that is, student work marked by the teacher subject to external moderation. Internal assessment can often provide individual students with the opportunity to select their own topic or issue, following a particular interest and giving students greater control over their own learning. This flexibility of approach makes internal assessment a valuable addition to students' education, improving the validity not only of the assessment process, but also of the learning experience as a whole.

There are some significant difficulties relating to internal assessment, such as ensuring reliability and authenticity, and preventing a too heavy workload.

IB Diploma Programme assessment policy

1. All assessment in Diploma Programme subjects should relate directly to the course of study and its objectives via a policy, as far as it is practical, of discrete testing within each assessment environment (written papers/internal assessment and so on). A full range of assessment techniques should be used that reflect the international breadth of the IBO. The same assessment methodology should apply to related subjects but any substantial difference in the nature of higher level and standard level in a subject should be mirrored in their respective assessment models.
2. Diploma Programme assessment and grading procedures should ensure parity of treatment for all candidates irrespective of school, subject, response language or examination session. All grading and assessment judgments should be based on evidence and should not be subject to any form of bias.
3. All courses should normally have either three or four separate assessment components. Where appropriate, these components will include internal (school based) assessment as well as external assessment. No individual assessment component should normally be worth less than 20% or more than 50% of the overall assessment, and internally assessed components should in total contribute no more than 50% of the overall assessment. The balance between internal and external assessment must be such as to ensure that all the objectives of the course are adequately and appropriately assessed.

4. The duration of written examinations must not exceed five hours in total at higher level and three hours at standard level. No single written examination paper should be longer than three hours. Wherever possible, examination paper durations should be less than the prescribed maximum, as long as the examinations still provide for valid and reliable assessment. This restriction on duration is particularly relevant in those subjects where internal assessment or other externally marked components form a significant part of the overall assessment model.

5. The marking of teachers and examiners will be moderated using a mark/re-mark model followed by a statistical comparison to generate a moderation equation. There will be no cross-component moderation. All such re-marking will be based on identical assessment criteria to the original marking and will be based on sample work sent to an examiner acting as moderator.

6. Internal assessment should primarily address those skills and areas of understanding that are less appropriately addressed through external examination papers; it should not be treated as another means for candidates to demonstrate, in a different context, what they could also do in an examination. There should be no undue duplication of skills assessed in both internal assessment and external examination.

7. Internal assessment should not be used as a tool for monitoring syllabus coverage, but should be focused on assessing student learning of particular skills. Where necessary, breadth of syllabus coverage should be assessed within external examinations.

8. Internal assessment tasks should not duplicate the kind of work that is carried out for extended essays in the same subject.

9. Wherever possible, internal assessment tasks should become an integral part of normal classroom teaching (and/or homework) for that subject. They should not be “add-on” activities. The work carried out for internal assessment is meant to be part of each student’s learning experience.

10. For internal assessment marks to make a reliable contribution to a candidate’s subject grade, the work that contributes at least half of the total internal assessment mark must be susceptible to moderation. This is a minimum, it being preferable wherever possible for all of the work that gives rise to the internal assessment mark to be available for moderation.

11. Where different internally assessed tasks are carried out over a prolonged period within a Diploma Programme course (to make up a portfolio of work, for example) allowance must be made for student improvement over this period. Thus, the final internal assessment mark should reflect a student’s best level of performance during the course and not be merely an average of performance over the whole course.

12. Although the internal assessment may contribute from 20% to 50% towards any single subject result, the higher values in this range should only be used where there are particular grounds for giving a high weighting to internally assessed work.

13. Internally assessed work must be produced under conditions that are well documented and common to all schools for each course. In particular, the role of collaborative work, the degree of assistance that teachers can provide, the extent to which students can use external resources, and the permitted amount of redrafting of work, must be fully described.

14. The quantity of internally assessed work specified for a course must be no more than the minimum needed to satisfy its aims. Defined word limits should be given where possible for internally assessed tasks. The maximum word limit should be no more than is necessary to complete the task

Theory of Knowledge

The assessment model in theory of knowledge (TOK) has two components, both of which should be completed within the 100 hours designated for the course.

Both the essay and the presentation are assessed using global impression marking. The essay contributes 67% of the final mark and the presentation contributes 33% of the final mark.

Part 1 Essay on a prescribed title One essay on a title chosen from a list of six titles prescribed by the IB for each examination session. The prescribed titles will be issued on the OCC in the September prior to submission for May session schools, and in the March prior to submission for November session schools. The maximum length for the essay is 1,600 words . All essays are externally assessed by the IB.	10 marks

The teacher must record his/her observations of the presentation on the TK/PPD. A sample of TK/PPDs is selected and moderated by the IB.	10 marks

Extended Essay

The extended essay is an in-depth study of a focused topic chosen from the list of available Diploma Programme subjects for the session in question. The extended essay is a piece of independent research on a topic chosen by the student in consultation with a supervisor in the school. It is presented as a formal piece of sustained academic writing containing no more than 4,000 words accompanied by a reflection form of no more than 500 words. It is the result of approximately 40 hours of work by the student. Students are supported by a supervision process recommended to be 3–5 hours, which includes three mandatory reflection sessions.

The third and final mandatory reflection session is the viva voce, which is a concluding interview with the supervising teacher.

The IB Board Examinations

The examinations for each session take place over a period of approximately three weeks in May and November. Examinations are scheduled to avoid more than six hours of examining in a single day where possible, under normal circumstances. Friday afternoons are kept free from examinations as a means of extending at least some consideration to those schools whose working week is not Monday to Friday. The normal pattern for the examinations relating to a particular course is to schedule the two or three papers consecutively, starting one afternoon and finishing the next morning. The publication from IBO addressing the concerns of candidates with special assessment needs provides information to schools on how to put in place special assessment arrangements for candidates with individual needs, such as a specific learning difficulty, a behavioural difficulty, a physical, sensory or medical condition, or a mental health problem. GIIS is a May session school and hence students give their board examination in May. The students giving Tamil B SL finish their respective papers in November itself.

Publication of results

Diploma and certificate results are published to schools and university admission systems on 5 January and 5 July each year for the two examination sessions. The results are sent electronically, as are many other administrative processes relating to the examination system, such as candidate registration and most mark entry. Candidates are issued with a numeric grade from 1 to 7 for each subject entered and candidates following the full Diploma Programme will also receive letter grades for TOK and the extended essay, together with a total diploma points score.

From the May 2015 session the following failing conditions are applicable

- CAS requirements have not been met
- Candidate's total points are fewer than 24
- An N has been given for theory of knowledge, extended essay or for a contributing subject
- A grade E has been awarded for one or both of theory of knowledge and the extended essay
- There is a grade 1 awarded in a subject/level
- Grade 2 has been awarded three or more times (HL or SL)
- Grade 3 or below has been awarded four or more times (HL or SL)
- Candidate has gained fewer than 12 points on HL subjects (for candidates who register for four HL subjects, the three highest grades count)
- Candidate has gained fewer than 9 points on SL subjects (candidates who register for two SL subjects must gain at least 5 points at SL)
- The matrix for TOK and EE is updated as follows

ToK/EE	A	B	C	D	E
A	3	3	2	2	Failing condition
B	3	2	2	1
C	2	2	1	0

GIIS POLICY ON ACADEMIC HONESTY

Introduction

The principle of academic honesty is the cornerstone of a school community. Both the GIIS mission and vision and the attributes of the International Baccalaureate (IB) learner profile inform the policies and procedures in this document. As stated in the IB learner profile “Principled” is where learners strive to “act with integrity and honesty” as we question, inquire and act (IB learner profile in review: Report and recommendation (April 2013), page 21)

Philosophy

At GIIS, we believe that Academic honesty is an essential aspect of teaching and learning in IB programmes, where action is based on inquiry and reflection. In teaching, learning and assessment, academic honesty serves to promote personal integrity and respect for others and the integrity of their work. Upholding academic honesty helps to ensure that all students have an equal opportunity to demonstrate the knowledge and skills that they acquire during their studies.

Rationale

All students enrolled in the IB Programmes must understand the basic meaning and significance of concepts that relate to academic honesty, especially intellectual property and authenticity. However, a conceptual understanding alone is not sufficient, they must have the knowledge and practical skills to apply such concepts to their work.

Thus, all members of the school community have a responsibility to ensure that they are familiar with generally accepted standards and requirements of academic honesty. This document aims to facilitate the understanding and implementation of correct academic procedures.

Responsibilities relating to academic honesty

It is the school’s responsibility to:

- Structure the curriculum in a manner that allows students to develop the habits of academic honesty over time
- Ensure that students adhere to the basic principles of academic honesty, as appropriate for their age level
- Ensure that all members of the school community understand the value of academic honesty
- Ensure that incidents of academic dishonesty are dealt with in a manner appropriate to the assessment practices of the IB programme in question

- Promote a consistent approach to citation by the use of one common system (MLA)

It is the teacher's responsibility to:

- Show academic honesty in their own work
- Support students in developing the skills and attitudes required for completing assignments in an academically honest manner
- Use a common digital reliability system 'Turnitin' for all summative tasks in DP as part of regular routine for students
- Deal with incidents of academic dishonesty in an appropriate manner and refer incidents for further action if necessary

It is the librarian's responsibility to:

- Promote academic honesty within the school
- Act as a liaison for both teachers and students to provide ethical guidance regarding citations and common formats promoted by the school (MLA)
- Provide access to Turnitin to teachers and assistance to students
- Ensure current publications regarding ethical use of information are available to teachers and students (IBO, MLA or otherwise)

It is the parents' responsibility to:

- Establish effective communication with the school so that they understand the requirements of the programme and what is expected of students
- Encourage students to ask their teachers for advice if they are having difficulties with their work
- Support their child but be sure he or she is the one responsible for the work done
- Encourage students to plan each assignment and support them with scheduling of their work

It is the students' responsibility to:

- Take charge of their own work and be responsible for the consequences of any breaches of the standard of academic honesty
- Speak to teachers regularly about their work and show drafts of it at various stages in the production process
- Ask teachers for advice if they are, at any time unsure of what they have done in relation to referencing

Academic Honesty in the Primary and Secondary school

All aspects of Academic Honesty are communicated to the students and their parents during their orientation for induction into the diverse curricula offered by the School beginning from the PYP, IGCSE and IBDP. Not adhering to Academic Honesty Policy may jeopardize the IB Diploma Certificate and results of IGCSE. At all times, it is ensured that tools of education and monitoring are in place so that the students are being trained to cite the resources they are referring to while they are preparing their assignments.

IB defines academic honesty as, “a set of values and skills that promote personal integrity and good practice in teaching, learning and assessment. It is influenced and shaped by a variety of factors including peer pressure, culture, parental expectations, and role modelling and taught skills.” GIIS promotes good practices and provides assistance in understanding and following academic honesty. The principle of academic honesty should be viewed positively by students and become a natural part of their academic study. This is not a study skill that is confined to the completion of the IB Diploma Programme; it should remain with IB students throughout higher education and beyond.

Basic guidelines for PYP

At the PYP stage, the habit of quoting and acknowledging the work presented is encouraged. In the PYP, all teachers enable students to understand the need for academic honesty through various engagements and examples on a regular basis. Students are encouraged to cite the source of the research work that they bring during the units. The same is reinforced at the middle and senior secondary school. Special emphasis during PYP Exhibition shall be communicated to all students for ethical use of information during the exhibition process.

Basic Guidelines for IBDP

The Diploma Programme at GIIS requires academic rigor and active involvement of students in all aspects of the curriculum. The students are expected to behave and learn in an ethical way and observe the following practices:

- Students know that the purpose of an assessment, summative or formative, is to show what they know, understand, and can do and must provide their own work
- If collaboration has not been specified as permissible, the assignment must be individual honest effort
- Students must understand what constitutes academic honesty and must also recognize that any behavior or activity that gives them unfair advantage goes against the school's and IB's philosophies
- Students must be aware that teachers have the right to refuse the work they do not believe in the authenticity of the work

Thus, academic dishonesty or any form of malpractice refers to behaviour that results in, or may result in any other candidate gaining an unfair advantage in one or more assessment component. This includes:

- Plagiarism: is defined as the representation of the ideas or work of another person as the candidate's own

- Collusion: is defined as supporting malpractice by another candidate, as in allowing one's work to be copied or submitted for assessment by another
- Duplication of work: is defined as the presentation of the same work for different assessment components and/or diploma requirements
- Any other behaviour that gains an unfair advantage for a candidate or that affects the results of another candidate (for example, taking unauthorized material into an examination room, misconduct during an examination, falsifying a CAS record, disclosure of information about the content of an examination paper within 24 hours after a written examination)

Proactive Approach

The students know that the deliberate cheating is wrong in any circumstance, at the same time they are trained to use academic material appropriately, such as, the use of quotations, downloading pages, or adapting material while working on major papers or projects.

School takes anticipatory measures by educating the students and parents the great value of the ethical qualities of personal integrity and academic honesty. Academic honesty is expected from all members of the school community - students, faculty, administration and parents.

The following proactive steps help the students understand and demonstrate Academic Honesty in their work. In the orientation session conducted in the beginning of the IBDP Programme the DPC briefs the parents and students the importance of academic honesty at GIIS

- Individual subject teachers explain the basic meaning and significance of academic integrity as a fundamental element at GIIS and ensure that the students understand the importance of acknowledging the ideas and work of others
- A copy of the Citation and Referencing guidelines is given to students to educate them the appropriate referencing techniques
- Teachers demonstrate with exemplars what is expected in the task in relation to academic honesty and use of turnitin
- Teachers set clear expectations for assignments and provide guidance to candidates on how to correctly cite the sources they have consulted
- Teachers also discuss the benefits of submitting assignments that are correctly referenced and also devote time to teach and practice these skills – making them “second nature”
- Calendars for assignments are properly planned
- Regular meetings are held with faculty members to verify that all parties have a clear understanding of IB expectations

Consequences of Violations of Academic Honesty

Internal Sanctions

When the investigating teacher identifies any deviation from academic honesty, the following consequences will follow -

- The first Unintentional transgression results in a verbal cautioning, and the subject teacher draws the student's attention to the need to adhere and respect the requirements of academic honesty
- The second time, if a teacher has reason to believe that part or the whole of a candidate's draft work is plagiarised, it may lead to suspension of the student from school for a limited period of time. The parents are informed and the work submitted by the student is not accepted
- If suspected plagiarism is detected before a candidate signs the cover sheet, the issue is resolved within the school and not brought to the attention of the IB

External Sanctions

- If the candidate is found guilty of malpractice in the production of one or several assignments required for a component, the candidate is not eligible for a mark based on his or her performance in the remaining assignments for the component; no grades will be awarded for the subject.

Upholding academic honesty also helps to ensure that all students have an equal opportunity to demonstrate the knowledge and skills they acquire during their studies.

Scholastic Grades

For Kindergarten to Class 5

Schools are not permitted to retain students in these classes according to CBSE /IB PYP stipulations. However, if a student is found struggling with the curriculum and consistently does not show any improvement at all, it is advisable to hold personal meetings with the parents to counsel them about their child.

The sole objective of the first counselling session, which should take place after the first semester, is to give the child an opportunity to work harder to perform better.

After regular monitoring of the performance of such children, counselling should be repeated in February. In case the child scores below D in more than half of the subjects, it is indicative of the fact that the child will not be able to cope with the rigors of the next class. The parents are expected to make a written request to the school to retain the child in the existing class.

If the duration of leave exceeds two (2) days, the parent is required to e- mail the School Principal.
  - Diary note for absence will not be accepted, as it cannot be filed with the leave records by the class teacher.
  - Phone calls will not be accepted for leave requests.

Please note that as per regulatory requirements, failure to comply with 90% attendance prerequisite and continuous absence of seven (7) or more days without a valid reason by students on 'Student Pass' may lead to cancellation of their Student Pass by the ICA, as the school will be regularly reporting attendance details to ICA.

What is suspension?

Suspension is the temporary removal of a child from school for violation of school policies and or school rules. It is a warning sign of unacceptable behaviour that needs to be addressed immediately. School suspension must be taken seriously and here's what parents and students need to know:

Suspension is a serious disciplinary action in which a student is removed from the regular classroom for a day or longer. Only the Principal has the authority to suspend a student. When an incident report is raised by a teacher / staff to the Discipline Committee, it is brought to the notice of the Principal.

The reasons include (but not limited to) the following acts by a student whether during the school hours or after and whether inside the school premises or outside. ## Types of suspension

In-school Suspension (ISS)

ISS is usually for less serious acts. The decision taken is based on the nature, frequency of occurrence and severity of the act. Students serve the suspension in a special classroom, supervised by school staff. They are denied participation in school activities. The school will provide the student with suitable work to do which will be marked by a teacher. In-school suspension is recorded (ISS-R) in the student's data file in the case of students from Class 6 to 12 and is not recorded (ISS-N) in the case of primary students. Out-of-school Suspension (OSS)

A student is not allowed in the campus during the suspension with the only exception of scheduled meetings with school officials. Suspension is for a given period of time. Out-of-school suspension can lead to expulsion depending on the severity of the act and/or at the discretion of the Principal.

1. Procedure for OSS:

Once an incident report is considered for out-of-school suspension the following steps are taken:

1. Case of indiscipline reported to the Discipline Committee
2. The Principal calls for a meeting with the Discipline Committee
2. Issue of letter of suspension. The letter of suspension from the Principal's desk will clearly state the period and the reason for the suspension
3. Conference with the parent(s)
  1. Parents to be provided with first-hand accounts of the student's violation of the code of conduct, reasons for suspension, details of the incident including statements made by school staff, the expected duration of the suspension and recommendations for helping the student
  2. The school counsellor to be present in the meeting
  3. The student concerned to be present at the meeting
  4. An opportunity to the student concerned to be provided for a hearing attended by the Principal and members of the Discipline Committee
5. An initial suspension may be for a period up to five days. With the approval of the Country Director and the Management of the School, the Principal may extend the suspension at his / her discretion

Expulsion from School Policy

What is an expulsion?

Expulsion is permanent removal of a student from school for violation of school policies and or code of conduct. Expulsion generally follows, but is not limited to, an out-of-school suspension.

The school expels a student as a last resort after trying to improve the student's behaviour through other means. However, notwithstanding the aforesaid, the school may in case of exceptional circumstances decide / take action to expel a pupil for a 'one-off' act.

The decision to expel a student can only be taken by the Principal in consultation with the Discipline Committee and with the approval of the Country Director and/or the Management of the School.

Why expulsion?

Expulsion may be (but not necessarily) a last resort in case of serious act and/or a consequence of (but not limited to) the following acts by a student whether during school hours or after and whether inside the school premises or outside:

10. Any other act or behaviour which in the opinion of the Principal and/or the Discipline Committee is of a serious nature

Procedure for Expulsion

1. Case of indiscipline reported to discipline committee
2. The Principal calls for a meeting with the Discipline Committee
3. Approval of decision by Country Director and/or the School Management
4. Expulsion letter is issued. The expulsion letter from the Principal's desk will clearly state the reasons for the expulsion
5. Conference with the parent(s)
  1. Parents to be provided with first-hand accounts of the student's violation of the code of conduct, details of incident including statements made by school staff.
  2. The school counsellor to be present in the meeting

3. The student concerned to be present at the meeting
4. Principal provides the student and the parent / guardian an opportunity to appear in person before the Board to challenge the reasons for the intended expulsion. The Board shall take the final decision regarding the expulsion of the student after hearing the contentions (if any) put forth by the latter or his / her parent / guardian
5. A written record of the meeting is maintained and the student's future education is a part of the discussion.
6. Once expelled from school the student is not permitted to enter school property, participate in extra-curricular activities, or attend school-sponsored events.

GIIS LANGUAGE POLICY

Introduction

The Language Policy document of Global Indian International School purports to explain how multilingualism is promoted to achieve intercultural understanding and international-mindedness. The document will also provide an insight into how languages are used in the working, formal and informal situations in the school context, taking into consideration the requirements of the various curricula offered and individual student needs. Though it is explicit that there has to be one common language, freedom is granted to the students taking into account the linguistic complexity that prevails in these environs.

School Language Philosophy

GIIS believes that language is the heart of learning and acknowledges that language acquisition and development is crucial to exploring and sustaining cultural identity, personal development, and intercultural understanding. Languages play a vital role in the construction of meaning as it empowers the learner and provides an intellectual structure to support conceptual development, critical thinking and inquiry. Language learning and teaching immerses students in the interplay between learning language, learning through language and learning about language. Although these aspects are inseparable, they are used to support an understanding of how language is learned and used to make meaning.

The Central Principles

1. GIIS identifies language as the supreme mode of communication and strives to equip the students with capabilities to succeed in a multilingual context
2. All students need to be encouraged to use the linguistic and literary aspects of languages to use them to communicate and also comprehend the cultural elements associated with them
3. With a focus on multiculturalism, embracing new beliefs and practices happens through language studies
4. Values of empathy and tolerance begins with better communication, understanding of differences and a respect for cultural and linguistic identity

Working Language

At GIIS students come from backgrounds where English is as widely used as their mother-tongue. All our students being children of expatriates or residents of Singapore, the school needed as its First Language a global and more comprehensive language like English. It is the language in ‘which the organization communicates with its stakeholders and in which it is committed to providing all services needed for the implementation of the programs.’ All communication on the school websites, all promotional material and other official documentation is through English.

As the world grows more mobile and closer, we believe that a student’s First language need not only be the mother-tongue. In fact, in order to forge a better understanding of cultures and in order to equip our students with the proficiency to step out of a monolingual and mono-cultural setting, the school had decided to adopt

English as its First language and the language of instruction.

All teachers at the Global Indian International School are language teachers in the sense that everyone, besides the Second Language teachers, communicate with their students and teach their subjects in English. Hence, the teaching and use of English is not limited to the English classrooms. English is the Language of Instruction and the Response language at GIIS. The teaching of English as a language and literary subject is started early, in the primary years and is gradually increased over the years as the students' progress to secondary classes.

Languages Taught at GIIS

Global Indian International School will provide language education programs based on

1. The principles and practices of NCERT India
2. The principles and practices of IGCSE
3. The principles and practices of IBDP
4. The principles and practices of IB PYP
5. The principles and practices of CLSP
6. The principles of UN Declaration of Human right

The four different curricula offered at the secondary level at GIIS have English as the First language. Consequently, all students who seek admission into the IB Program have at least undergone 10-12 years of education of English as a First Language. The choice of English therefore becomes naturally the A1 (Group1) subject

English

GIIS offers English A: Literature and English A: Language and Literature at both SL and HL levels. Highly qualified and proficient teachers transact the subject. The school ensures that all English teachers receive IB training at workshops. The texts chosen at our school expose our expatriate students to various other cultures.

The English classes seek to promote and develop students' ability to enjoy the experience of reading literature in three major genres, fiction prose, poetry and drama, from different periods and cultures, nurturing in them the abilities to recall, narrate, summarize, select relevant detail, distinguish viewpoints, comment on plot and characterization, draw inferences, state opinions, explore themes, analyse the plot and evaluate and interpret writing using the critical terminology.

Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing skills are developed to improve and enhance communication and presentation. The different literary genres are taught and students are encouraged to emulate structural patterns and forms. The English courses essentially focus on the development of critical reading of a wide variety of literary work.

English Learning Support Programme (ELSP) in the PYP and CBSE

CBSE and PYP do not formally offer the ESL program, however, to assist our foreign language-speaking students in keeping pace with mainstream English classes, ELSP is offered for PYP students and CBSE Class 1 - 8. The objective ELSP is

- To improve speaking, writing, reading and listening skills
- To reinforce grammatical concepts taught in mainstream English lesson
- To enable students to use functional English competitively in academic and everyday situations

The teachers instruct a minimum of 2 hours every week and use a variety of language instructional strategies to develop and improve students' language proficiency like story or text retelling, thinking maps, role playing, journal writing, language experience approach (LEA), total physical response (TPR) and others.

All assessments conducted are internal through examinations in CBSE and a combination of formative and summative assessments in the PYP.

In making a decision to exit a student from the ELSP at the end of the academic year, the following will be considered -

- Student's ability to follow along and participate in the classroom lessons and activities without scaffolding and/or modifications for language
- Student performance and work samples, including report cards, internal grade-level assessments, and English proficiency assessment

English as a Second Language - for English Language Learners in the IGCSE and CLSP program

The ESL program is offered to students in IGCSE Grade 9 and 10. The students who are allowed to opt for ESL do not take English as First language.

IGCSE ESL Program is tailored to meet the linguistic, academic, and affective needs of students. Following are the objectives-

- Provides LEP (Limited English proficiency) students with the instruction necessary to allow them to progress through school at a rate commensurate with their mainstream English-speaking peers
- Help students to gain proficiency in functional English to perform successfully in academics.
- Develop learner's ability to use English effectively for the purpose of practical communication.
- Form a solid foundation for the skills required for further study or employment using English as the medium.
- Develop learner's awareness of the nature of language and language learning skills
- Promote learner's personal development by providing international exposure through the curriculum.

The ESL teachers instruct a minimum of 2 hours every week and use a variety of second language instructional strategies to develop and improve students' language proficiency like story or text retelling, thinking maps, role playing, journal writing, language experience approach (LEA), total physical response (TPR) and others.

English as a Second Language is also offered to students in CLSP Grade 6 – 8.

English Learning Support Programme (ELSP) for the IBDP

In the Diploma Programme, non-native speakers are supported in reaching proficiency in English by receiving supported ELSP lessons each week, depending on need. ELSP classes provide students with a supportive, protected environment in which they can try out their language skills and develop confidence in their abilities. This support occurs either in the student's classroom or in a smaller group situation.

In their regular classroom situations, teachers are aware of the needs of the ELSP students and modify or differentiate lessons accordingly. In this way, the student not only achieves competency in meeting academic goals, but is also able to participate in school culture and become a fully integrated member of our community.

The programme includes:

- An initial assessment of a student's English level in the skills of speaking, listening, reading and writing
- Determination of the kind of support the student needs, i.e., in-class support, small group instruction, intensive support in the initial phase, or specific skill focus
- Some initial, intensive language focus on the basics of English, such as terminologies like: letter, word, sentence, paragraph, essay; sentence structure; descriptive words; verbs; greetings; calendar/time vocabulary
- Support for literacy depending on the grade level
- An environment where learners feel comfortable and safe so that they are willing to take risks in learning the new language
- A way to monitor the student's progress and needs through ELSP testing, observing performance within the classroom or small group, and skill development
- Affirmation of the student's home language and continuous improvement of it outside of school
- More appropriately leveled books, books on tape, and videos in English

Teaching hours are allocated accordingly. Activities are designed to provide the language learning opportunities for enjoyment, creativity and intellectual development.

Under IBDP, the recommended number of teaching hours, the depth of syllabus coverage, the study of literature at HL and the level of difficulty and demands of assessment and assessment criteria differentiate SL and HL.

Varied teaching methods such as A/V (Audio & video) clips, debates, and project-based assignments, group discussion, lecture and strategies such as games, group activities like quiz, dialogue, debate, projects assignments using modern technology are used.

French

GIIS offers foreign languages to help increase listening ability, memory, creativity and critical thinking - all of which are thinking processes that increase learning in general. Accordingly, students in GIIS start their language acquisition early, from Grade 1. French is offered in all curricula – CBSE (1 – 10), IGCSE, IBDP, PYP and CLSP.

The primary students in GIIS start with the basics of French as a second language, acquiring over a period of five years, an extensive vocabulary with grammatical and oral skills.

In CBSE, IGCSE, CLSP the syllabus incorporates all the four skills vital to language acquisition, namely - Reading, Writing, Speaking and Listening.

In IBDP the school offers French Ab Initio and French B SL. In French Ab Initio, no previous knowledge of French is assumed. The students learn to deal with everyday situations in a francophone country with an appreciation for French culture and civilization. Different strategies are incorporated in the language learning process using a holistic instructional approach using communicative, AV as well as the traditional grammar - translation methods and the use of Pin Yin

Mother Tongue support

The development of a students' mother tongue is essential for cognitive development and the maintenance of cultural identity. Mother tongue language development is significant for all learners, and any other language used in constructing meaning, is intimately connected to a student's relationship with the world and how they come to feel about the world. We actively include parents in working with teachers, staff and administrators to be a part of and aware of their children's language development. The Primary years programme at GIIS provides a learning environment that furthers intellectual and personal growth, enhances language development, and promotes internationalism through the study of not just the language of instruction but also the additional languages such as Hindi, French and Mandarin (as one of the official host country language.

Impetus for Mother Tongue support

In keeping with the school's beliefs in language acquisition and in line with the IB philosophy, the school provides impetus to language development through the following opportunities throughout the school year -

- Exposure to language stimuli-visual, audio and digital-during enrichment activities outside classes, during weekly school assemblies, debates, spell-o-well competitions, oral presentations etc.
- Allowing the use of mother tongue within the parameters during group work or discussions and special events such as Hindi Divas and International Mother Language Day etc.

A. Introduction & Background

In every community and country, children and adolescents are the most important natural resource. Their well-being, capabilities, knowledge and energy will determine the future of villages, cities and nations around the world. Education today, is no longer teaching the three R's. The aim of education is to help children grow into productive, capable citizens who can help their communities grow and prosper.

To achieve their potential, school children must participate fully in educational activities. To do this, they must be healthy, attentive and emotionally secure. Schools can help promote the health of staff, families and community members as well as the health of students. There is much evidence to support the interrelationship between education and health; at Global Indian International School (GIIS), we believe in holistic development of our students in an inclusive environment.

B. Philosophy: Health promoting school

According to World Health Organization (WHO, 1996), A Health-Promoting School views “health” as physical, social and emotional wellbeing. It strives to build health into all aspects of life at school and in the community. A health promoting school is one that constantly strengthens its capacity as a healthy setting for living, learning and working.

From country to country, even within different regions and communities of one country, GIIS schools have distinct strengths and needs. By building on those strengths and drawing on the imagination of students, parents, teachers and administrators, at every GIIS school can find new ways to improve health and address health problems. This is at the heart of the process of becoming a Health-Promoting School.

As a Health Promoting School, GIIS:

1. Engages health and education officials, teachers, students, parents, and community leaders in efforts to promote health, with

- a. families and community groups involved in the school
- b. school/community projects and outreach
- C. health promotion for school staff

2. Strives to provide a safe, healthy environment, including

- b. freedom from abuse and violence
- c. a climate of care, trust and respect
- d. social support and mental health promotion
- e. safe school grounds
- f. opportunities for physical education and recreation

3. Provides skills-based health education, with

- a. curricula that improve students' understanding of factors that influence health and enable them to make healthy choices and adopt healthy behaviours throughout their lives
- b. curricula that include critical health and life skills, a focus on promoting health and well-being as well as preventing important health problems, and information and activities appropriate to children's intellectual and emotional abilities
- c. training and education for teachers and parents

4. Provides access to health services, with

- a. services of screening for academic, emotional and developmental difficulties
- b. school nurse for providing first aid and monitor and address immediate physical health concerns and injuries
- C. partnerships with local health agencies that will provide services

5. Implements health-promoting policies and practices, such as

- a. an overall policy supported by school administration and management as well as teaching practices that help create a healthy psychosocial environment for students and staff
- b. policies on equal treatment for all students
- c. policies on drug and alcohol use, tobacco use, first aid and violence that help prevent or reduce physical, social and emotional problems

6. Strives to improve the health of the community by

- a. participating in community health projects, GIIS strives towards health promotion and prevention programmes through Universal, whole school programmes and targeted approaches for children with special education needs (SEN).

C. Terminology & Definitions

1. Special education needs

Students have the intellectual capacity to meet all curriculum and assessment requirements. However, they require special arrangements to demonstrate their level of achievement.

They may display the characteristics of one or more of the following special educational needs.

Specific learning issues, language and communication disorders

- a. Difficulty in learning. Learning disabilities refers to ongoing problems in one of three areas, reading, writing and math, which are foundational to one's ability to learn. (for example, problems interpreting music notation, dyslexia, dyscalculia)
- b. Speech and language issues refer to problems in communication and related areas such as oral motor function. These delays and disorders range from simple sound substitutions to the inability to understand or use language. (for example, aphasia, dysphasia, articulation problems)

Social, emotional and behavioural issues

- a. Includes but not limited to attention deficit disorder (ADD)/attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD); autistic spectrum disorders; withdrawn, depressive or suicidal attitudes; obsessive preoccupation with eating habits; school phobia; substance abuse; disruptive antisocial and uncooperative behaviour; and anger, separation anxiety, performance anxiety or anxiety related disorder, frustration and violence

Physical and sensory conditions

- a. Physical disabilities include a wide range of conditions that are not always immediately obvious, but affect mobility
- b. Sensory issues: hearing—embraces an extensive range of hearing loss from mild to profound and can present communication difficulties; visual—includes difficulties with either the structure or function of the eye, affecting vision

Medical conditions

- a. The most common being: congenital heart disease, epilepsy, asthma, cystic fibrosis, haemophilia, sickle cell anaemia, diabetes, renal failure, eczema, rheumatoid disorders, allergies, leukaemia and other cancers

2. The Inclusive School

The fundamental principle of the inclusive school is that all children should learn together, wherever possible, regardless of any difficulties or differences they may have. Inclusive schools must recognize and respond to the diverse needs of their students, accommodating both different styles and rates of learning and ensuring quality education to all through appropriate curricula, organizational arrangements, teaching strategies, resource use and partnerships with their communities. There should be a continuum of support and services to match the continuum of special needs encountered in every school.

Salamanca Framework for Action, 1994

D. Current Provisions in Singapore

Ministry of Education's (MOE) goal for the education of students with Special Educational Needs (SEN) is to enable each student to optimize his potential and prepare him to participate in and pursue a productive and meaningful life in the society. MOE adopts a differentiated approach to cater to the needs of students with SEN by placing them in the appropriate educational setting that can best serve their needs. Students with mild SEN and have the cognitive abilities and adequate adaptive skills to learn in a large-group setting are supported in mainstream schools. Those who require intensive specialized assistance in their education to fully optimize their potential attend government funded Special Education (SPED) schools run by Voluntary Welfare Organizations (VWOs). These schools have customized facilities and specially trained teachers and allied health professionals who cater to the students' specific needs. There are 20 SPED schools which offer customized educational programmes to meet the learning needs of students with disabilities such as Mild Intellectual Disability, Moderate to Severe Intellectual Disability, Autism Spectrum Disorder, Multiple Disability and Sensory Impairment.

E. RESPONSIBILITY

Inclusion is an ongoing process that aims to increase access and engagement in learning for all students by identifying and removing barriers.

(Learning diversity and the IB Programmes: Special educational needs within the International Baccalaureate Programmes, 2010:3)

In keeping with the philosophy of health promotion and responding to the diverse learning needs, the primary stakeholders are:

- a. School administrators i.e. Principal, Academic Supervisors, Coordinators School management and curriculum development team

GIIS concurs with the IB belief that all students should be allowed to demonstrate their ability under assessment conditions which should be as fair as possible.

The school will authorize special arrangements which do not require pre approval of IB Board as detailed in Candidates with assessment access requirements (July2014) whenever it is determined that SEN student is at a disadvantage and cannot demonstrate his/her level of attainment.

1. At the discretion of the coordinator (or head of school), the following arrangements are permitted in examinations without prior authorization from the IB Assessment Centre.

2. A candidate is permitted to take an examination in a separate room if it is in the best interests of the candidate or other candidates in the group. For example, lighting may be a particular consideration for a candidate with a visual impairment, or a room with an echo may be difficult for a candidate with autism. Furthermore, a candidate's condition or the nature of the inclusive assessment arrangement (for example, a scribe, a computer) may disturb other candidates, in which case a separate examination room is justified. If the examination is taken in a separate room, all regulations governing the conduct of IB examinations must be observed. The candidate must be kept under the constant supervision of an invigilator.

3. The coordinator may arrange for appropriate seating to meet the needs of individual candidates (for example, sitting near the front may be appropriate for a candidate with vision or hearing difficulties).

4. An assistant, if necessary a nurse, may be in attendance if this is necessary for the welfare or safety of a candidate. The assistant must not be another candidate or a relative of the candidate.

5. A candidate who normally uses an aid (for example, a coloured overlay, a Braille slate, a sound amplification device, a radio aid, a hearing aid, a low vision aid, a magnifying aid, coloured filter lenses) is allowed to use the aid in examinations. Note: It is in breach of regulations if candidates are found in possession of any other mobile devices in the examination room.

6. A candidate with a hearing condition may receive instructions from a communicator. This arrangement must be confined to explaining the conduct of the examination and the instructions in an examination paper. The communicator must not convey information about any aspect of a question in the paper without prior authorization from IB Assessment centre.

7. If a candidate has difficulties in reading or attention, test directions may be clarified by the invigilator or a designated reader. This arrangement must be strictly confined only to clarifying the directions and the instructions and not the content of the questions.

8. Magnifying devices to enlarge and read print may be used by candidates with vision issues. These may include magnifying glasses and line magnifiers.

9. For a candidate who has colour blindness, the coordinator (or invigilator) is permitted to name colours in an examination paper (for example, on a map in a geography examination). However, no other form of assistance may be given without authorization from the IB Assessment centre.

10. A candidate who is hypersensitive to sound is permitted the use of noise buffers such as headsets, earplugs and individual workstations with acoustic screens. If an individual workstation is employed, all regulations governing the conduct of IB examinations must be observed. The candidate must be kept under the constant supervision of an invigilator.

11. A candidate may be permitted rest breaks if required to do so due to medical, physical, psychological or other conditions. The amount of time permitted for rest breaks is not counted towards the duration of the candidate's examination. Rest breaks must be supervised to ensure that the security of the examination is maintained. There must be no communication with, or disturbance to, other candidates. The amount of rest time and number of breaks permitted must be pre-determined and will depend upon the candidate's circumstances, although 10-minutes per hour is the general recommendation. During a rest break, the candidate is not permitted to read, respond to the examination paper or write notes of any kind. Candidates may be allowed to leave the room for all or part of the rest periods. For example, a candidate with diabetes may be provided rest breaks to check blood sugar levels and take medication. If a candidate's personal examination timetable is such that, with rest periods and additional time more than six and a half hours of examinations would take place in one day, rescheduling should be requested.

12. A candidate may be permitted the use of a prompter due to attention issues, psychological or neurological conditions. A prompter would ensure that a candidate pays attention to the examination. The use of the prompter should not disturb other candidates. The coordinator or invigilator may act as a prompter, but the examination must be conducted according to IB regulations. In all cases, the prompter may only prompt the candidate and not provide any form of assistance. The prompt may be a gentle tap on the candidate's arm or desk/table but should not be given verbally. The prompter must not draw the candidate's attention to any part of the examination paper or script. The prompter should be familiar with the candidate's behaviour so that he/she knows when the candidate is off-task. The candidate should be familiar with the kind of prompt that he/she would likely receive from the prompter. The prompter should be in a position that provides a view of the candidate's disposition rather than his/her work. The candidate should not feel as though he/she is under pressure or scrutiny.

13. At the discretion of the coordinator, a candidate may be given additional time to complete assignments during the two-year programme (for example, the extended essay, the theory of knowledge (TOK) essay) without authorization from the IB. However, if an extension to the deadline for the submission of work for assessment is required, the coordinator must contact IB Answers (See section 4.7 Access to extensions and exemptions).

School will seek prior authorization from the IB Assessment centre for all other arrangements.

If a Diploma Programme candidate has difficulties meeting the requirements for creativity, action, service (CAS), IB Answers will be consulted.

In collaboration with the Counsellor, Parents, School's IB Coordinator and recommendation of outside experts, application for special arrangements is made as outlined in the publication Candidates with special assessment needs. The accommodations can include:

- a. Modifications to exam papers—size of font, coloured paper
- b. Extensions to deadlines
- c. Assistance with practical work
- d. Additional time
- e. Rest periods
- f. Information and communication technology

- g. Amanuenses/scribe and transcription
- h. Readers

In alignment with IB's principle of affirming identity and building self-esteem, the school counsellor carries out the following Universal programmes:

- a. Psychoeducation sessions with all the grades (IB YR 1& 2, IGCSE-8, 9, 10 and CBSE 1 to 12 for promoting personality development. The topics covered in these interactive sessions with participatory methodology are based on an yearly needs assessment. Effort is made to incorporate suggestions and feedback from significant stakeholders (students, teachers, parents)
- b. Students are encouraged to seek individual support from the Student Support Department for the common adolescent development issues related to family, friends, self-esteem, conflicts, relationships, educational choices etc.
- c. Parental awareness and psychoeducational programmes are carried out twice a year to address topical issues such as internet safety, building resilience, and improving communication with adolescents, limit setting etc.

H. Documentation

In line with Role of SEN teachers in IB World Schools as suggested in the document - Towards a continuum of International education 2008, the school counselor maintains a detailed record for all the students with special education needs to monitor their progress and to facilitate communication about their needs. It includes:

- a. A history with background details of past experiences and family situation
- b. Copies of past assessments
- c. Reports from remedial teacher/speech therapist/occupational therapist or other professionals outside of the school
- d. Minutes of meetings with family, student, staff and other professionals
- e. Special interventions and strategies employed so far to assist learning
- f. Record of classroom observations
- g. Record of individual counselling sessions with the student

The documentation is used in making a case for accommodations to the relevant boards as well as to liaison with outside experts who may need school feedback and observation for monitoring progress of the individual.

27 A) Child Protection Policy

1. Philosophy

At Global Indian International School (GIIS) we recognise our duty and responsibility to protect and safeguard the interests of all children. Children have the right to feel safe, respected and secure. Children are able to grow and develop best in an environment that is free from danger, neglect and abuse. GIIS is interested in the well-being of our students and the wider community at all times and will take necessary measures to protect them from all forms of neglect and abuse, be it within or external to the school premises. Our school fully recognises the contribution it must make to prevent abuse of children and to support pupils in school.

2. Terminology & Definitions

Child Abuse: 'Any act of commission or commission by a parent or guardian... (or any other person)... which would endanger or impair the child's physical or emotional wellbeing or that are judged by a mixture of community values and professionals to be inappropriate' (Singapore Ministry of Social and Family Development 2002)

Categories of Abuse: Physical Abuse; Neglect; Sexual Abuse; Emotional and Psychological Abuse.

Safeguarding: The process of protecting children from abuse or neglect, preventing impairment of their health and development, and ensuring they are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care that enables children to have optimum life chances and enter adulthood successfully.

Significant risk of harm: 'significant risk of harm' is the threshold which justifies compulsory intervention in the best interests of the child.

3. Child Protection Procedure

The Principal is the Designated Person for Child Protection and in his/her absence it would be Vice Principal and if he/she is also unavailable then the senior most member of the Child Protection Committee would serve as the designated person.

3.1 Disclosure of abuse perpetrated outside of school

If a member of staff suspects a child has been abused or neglected by someone outside of school, the following procedures should be implemented:

1. GIS staff will report concerns immediately to their Level Coordinator.

1. The Level coordinator will inform the Designated Person for Child Protection (DPCP). The DPCP (Principal/Vice Principal/ Most senior member of academic team) will involve the relevant members of the Child Protection Committee.

1. The school counsellor records all information and is responsible for keeping all records and evidence safe.

1. In the event of suspected sexual abuse happening, it is a requirement for the school to contact the Child Protection and Service (CPS) or the Police. For cases happening within the context of the family, the family should not be alerted to the allegations being made and the report can either be made with the police or CPS. For sexual abuse cases happening outside the context of the family, the family should be informed of the incident and a report needs to be made to the CPS/Police. The school should record any disclosure factually.

Please Note - The 'paramountcy principle' supports agencies making decisions in the best interests of the child, and this may mean not disclosing information to parents.

1. In the event of other forms of abuse, depending on the risk of harm to the child, the committee can decide to keep a watching brief or discuss the issues with parents or contact CPS for advisory discussion. The School Counsellor will record and follow up with the developments.

1. If there are obvious signs of harm, the student will be taken to the School Nurse immediately. If the student is in need of urgent medical attention, he/she should be taken to nearest hospital. If it is not possible or advisable to obtain parent consent the CPS should be contacted for consultation. Where we suspect the abuse has occurred or is about to occur and the child is unsafe and in imminent risk of further harm, we are committed to reporting the matter to

Child Protection Service

Helpline at 1800 777 0000 (office hours) or the Police

1. Where we suspect that the abuse has been perpetrated by someone close to the family or within the family network, the child protection committee member will contact the family and discuss ways on how the student could be kept safe and managed more appropriately. Full consideration should be given as to whether contact with the immediate family would increase the risk of harm.

3.2 Disclosure of alleged abuse perpetrated by a staff member

The following procedures apply where a member of staff has been implicated:

I. Meeting with Student/Alleged Victim - The Principal/DPCP will communicate with the student/s directly along with the school counsellor. If there is more than one student who has been a victim of abuse, the students will be interviewed individually. A summary of what was learned from investigations will be made by the counsellor.

II. The DPCP/Principal will coordinate interviews with any bystanders/witnesses and notes will be taken for Form 1.

III. Meeting with Accused Staff Member - The accused staff member will be requested to attend a meeting with the Principal/DPCP and questioned regarding the accusations being made. The meeting will be documented. Notes from this meeting will be recorded on the Form 1

IV. Contacting Parent/Caregivers - Parents/Caregivers of the student/s being questioned will be contacted by telephone by the Principal/DPCP and informed of the meetings that took place. The alleged victim's parents will be invited into school to discuss the issue face to face.

V. The Principal/DPCP will be committed to taking action. Consideration will be given as to whether that member of staff should face suspension pending further investigations.

VI. Communication with Child Protection Agency - The Principal/DPCP will report the matter to Child Protection Services Helpline at 1800 777 0000 (office hours) or the police after careful consideration of seriousness of offence. Parents of student victim/s will be made aware of their right to do this also. The Principal/DPCP will keep those directly concerned with the case up to date with developments.

VII. Counselling - With permission from parents/caregivers, student victim/s and the suspected staff member will be offered in-school Counselling. Off-campus professional Counselling contact details will also be offered.

3.3 Disclosure of Abuse by another Student

If a student in the school is suspected of abusing another student, the following steps should all take place within the school day.

I. Initial Record of Concern - The adult who has suspicions of a student being abused by another child, or is approached directly by a student about being abused, completes a written statement, and hands it to the relevant academic level coordinator. The coordinator reaches out to DPCP who involves the relevant members.

II. Meeting with Victim – The Academic level coordinator along with school counsellor will meet with the victim directly. In the case of more than one victim, children will be interviewed individually and a summary of what was learned from investigations will be made by school counsellor.

III. Meeting with Bystanders – The Academic level coordinator along with school counsellor will communicate with possible witnesses, individually, about the abuse that has occurred, and make notes to contribute to Form 1.

IV. Meeting with Accused Student/s – The Academic level coordinator along with school counsellor will meet and communicate with each of the student/s, accused of causing abuse individually. Notes from this meeting will be recorded on the Form 1.

V. Consultation - Consultation and agreement between the Principal, Academic Coordinator and School counsellor.

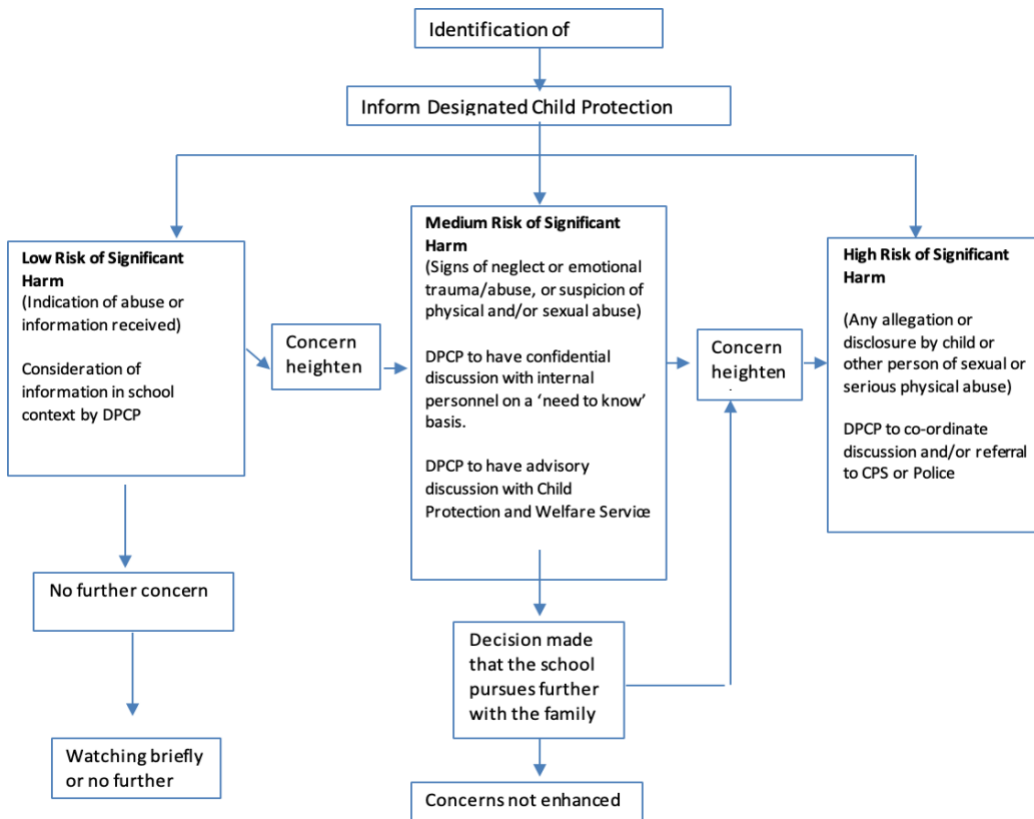

VI. Parents of Accused Student/s Contacted - If abuse by student/s proves to be beyond doubt, the student/s are collected from wherever they are on the school campus and asked to bring their bags to Academic coordinators office. The parents/caregivers of the student/s accused of abuse towards another student/s will be telephoned to attend a meeting with the Principal/DPCP/Academic coordinator before being asked to take their child/children home for the rest of the day. An offer of Counselling for their child will be made.

VII. Parents of Victims Contacted - Parents/Caregivers of the student/s who were abused will be contacted by telephone by the Academic coordinator and informed of the meetings that took place. The course of action will be explained regarding the student/s that carried out the abuse on their child and an offer of Counselling for their child made.

VIII. Action – As per the school discipline policy the Principal will take action. In extreme cases, expulsions will be considered. Further consequences including an apology letter to victim/s, suspension and exclusion from upcoming events will be considered.

IX. Communication with Child Protection Agency - The Principal and/or DPCP may report the matter to Child Protection Service Helpline at 1800 777 0000 (office hours) or the police after careful consideration of seriousness of offense. Parents of student victims will be made aware of their right to do this also.

3.4 Child Protection Process Chart

4. Record Keeping

The School Counsellor should use Form 1 to record all information concerning a suspicion, allegation or disclosure of child abuse. All prior notes should be attached to this document. Form 1 should contain facts regarding the issue, the actions the school took and the actions the school decided not to take with explanation.

All records of Child Protection allegations, suspicions, or disclosures are maintained by the school counsellor and kept securely under lock and key.

1. Introduction

The statistics about suicide are alarming, yet largely unrecognized. In India alone, in 2016 the number of suicides in India had increased to 230,314. Suicide was the most common cause of death in both the age groups of 15–29 years and 15–39 years. To understand and act on the matter of suicide it is necessary to know the various terms and their definitions:

Ø Suicide: is defined by the American Psychological Association as the act of killing yourself, most often because of depression or other mental illness.

Ø Suicidal ideation: is a term used by mental health professions to describe suicidal thoughts and feelings (without suicidal actions). For example, people experiencing suicidal ideation commonly report that they feel worthless, that life is not worth living, and that the world would be better off without them. The presence of suicidal ideation, occurring alone in the absence of any plans to act out actual suicide, anchors the low/less-dangerous end of the suicide risk continuum. The potential for someone engaging in suicide is still there, but the risk is not acute (i.e., immediate).

Ø Suicide Gesture/ Attempts: Actual attempts to kill yourself are labeled "suicidal gestures" or "suicide attempts" by mental health professionals, no matter how ineffective those attempts may ultimately be. Suicidal gestures may be acted out with full lethal intent, or they may be acted out half-heartedly, more as a means of communicating the depths of your pain to others around you than an actual effort to end your life. Regardless of the intent and degree of seriousness that motivates them, suicidal gestures are often dangerous events. Even ambivalent, half-hearted suicidal gestures can result in a completed suicide.

2. Warning Signs of Suicide

Schools play an important role in the development and protection of mental health for the students. Teachers and peers in the school have the opportunity to identify signs of suicide, and take the necessary actions. The following diagram lists out the signs to be aware of that may hint at suicide.

3. When a Student Verbalizes Suicidal Thoughts at School

(To be used by school counselors, school psychologists and school administrators.)

4. Suicide Risk Screening Form

Ø The following adobe document is a link to the suicide risk screening form.

Ø The student should fill this in if he shows warning signs of suicide and is believed to be at risk of suicide.

Ø Accordingly the student should be deemed either at a high, medium and low risk.

Ø After which the above-mentioned steps can be followed.

5. Safety Plan

When a student shows the warning signs of suicide, a suicide safety plan should be worked on mutually with the student and shared with the respective authorities.

6. School Re-entry Protocol

Consider a comprehensive plan if the student who attempted suicide is to return to school. Follow the below mentioned checklist:

- ☐ Obtain an official consent for re-joining school from the student's therapist or medical aid.
- ☐ Designate a school contact person for student re-entry following a suicide attempt.
- ☐ Plan when and where the student will check-in with site contact.
- ☐ Anticipate the need for additional counseling. Consider what resources are available for onsite counseling support if needed.
- ☐ Obtain an authorization to release medical information to coordinate with outside service providers.
- ☐ Inform necessary teachers regarding the student's absence and re-entry plan. Teachers should work with the student to make up missed assignments.

☐ If key students are affected by the student's absence, provide them with appropriate resources and/or information.

☐ Clarify the plan for regular contacts with a parent/guardian if appropriate.

☐ Clarify with student's family regarding what information (if any) they feel appropriate to share with the student's peers/classmates and teachers.

Any number of issues are likely to surface and will need to be considered on a case-by-case basis and addressed at the re-entry planning session. It is very likely that some of the school staff, the family, the mental health professional and the student will express concerns.

Some of the more common issues are listed below:

Issue

e: Social and Peer Relations

Options:

Ø Schedule a meeting with friends prior to re-entry to discuss their feelings regarding their friend, how to relate and when to be concerned.

Ø Place the student in a school-based support group, peer helpers program but not as the helper, or buddy system.

Ø Be sensitive to the need for confidentiality and how to restrict gossip.

Issue

e: Transition from the hospital setting

Options:

Ø Visit the student in the hospital or home to begin the re-entry process with permission from the parent/guardian.

Ø Consult with the student to discuss what support he/she feels that he/she needs to make a more successful transition.

Ø Seek information about what the student would like communicated to friends and peers about what happened.

Ø Request permission to attend the treatment planning meetings and the hospital discharge conference.

Ø Arrange for the student to work on some school assignments while in the hospital. Include the therapist/counselor in the school re-entry planning meeting.

3.

Issue

e: Academic concerns upon return to school

Options:

Ø Ask the student about his/her academic concerns and discuss potential options. Arrange tutoring from peers or teachers.

Ø Modify the schedule and adjust the course load to relieve stress.

Ø Allow make-up work to be adjusted and extended without penalty. Monitor the student's progress.

4.

Issue

e: Medication

Options:

Ø Alert the school nurse to obtain information regarding prescribed medication and possible side effects.

Ø Notify teachers if significant side effects are anticipated.

Ø Follow the policy of having the school nurse monitor and dispense all medication taken by the student at school.

Issue

e: Family concerns (denial, guilt, lack of support, social embarrassment, anxiety, etc.)

Options:

Ø Schedule a family conference with designated school personnel or homeschool coordinator to address their concerns.

Ø Include parents in the re-entry planning meeting.

Ø Refer the family to an outside community agency for family counseling services.

Issue

e: Behavior and attendance problems

Options:

Ø Meet with teachers to help them anticipate appropriate limits and consequences of behavior.

Ø Discuss concerns and options with the student.

Ø Consult with discipline administrator.

Ø Make home visits or regularly schedule parent conferences to review attendance and discipline record.

Ø Arrange for counseling for students.

Issue

e: On-going support***

Options:

Ø Talk to the student about his/her natural contact at school – try to assign the person who already has a relationship with the student.

Ø Maintain contact with the therapist and parents.

Ø Ask the student to check in with the school counselor daily/weekly.

Ø Utilize established support systems, Student Assistance Teams, support groups, friends, clubs and organizations.

Ø Schedule follow-up sessions with the school psychologist or home school coordinator. Provide information to families on available community resources when school is not in session.

8. Document for Parents with at risk students

It's important to learn about the factors that can put a teen at risk for suicide. Spend some time reading these ten ways you can help prevent a tragedy from occurring. The more you know, the better you'll be prepared for understanding what can put your child at risk.

1. Don't let your teen's depression or anxiety snowball.

Maybe your child is merely having a bad day, but maybe it's something more if this mood has been going on for a couple of weeks.

● Fact: 9 in 10 teens who take their own lives met criteria for a diagnosis of psychiatric or mental health condition or disorder—more than half of them with a mood disorder such as depression or anxiety.

Depressed people often retreat into themselves, when secretly they are crying out to be rescued. Many times, they are too embarrassed to reveal their unhappiness to others, including Mom and Dad. Boys in particular may try to hide their emotions, in the misguided belief that displaying the feeling is a fifty-foot-high neon sign of weakness.

Let us not wait for children or youth to come to us with their problems or concerns. Knock on the door; park yourself on the bed, and say, "You seem sad. Would you like to talk about it? Maybe I can help."

2. Listen—even when YOU ARE teen is not talking.

Not all, but most kids who are thinking about suicide (this is called suicidal ideation) tip off their troubled state of mind through troubled behaviors and actions. Studies have found that one trait common to families affected by a son or daughter's suicide is poor communication between parents and child.

However, there are usually three or more issues or factors going on all at once in a child's life at the time when he or she is thinking about taking his or her life.

These include but are not limited to:

- Major loss (i.e., break up or death)
- Substance use
- Peer or social pressure
- Access to weapons
- Public humiliation
- Severe

ere chronic pain

- Chr
onic medical condition
- Imp
ulsiveness/aggressiveness
- Fam ily history of suicide

If your instinct tells you that a teenager might be a danger to himself, heed your instincts and don't allow him to be left alone. In this situation, it is better to overreact than underreact.

3. Never shrug off threats of suicide as typical teenage melodrama.

Any written or verbal statement of "I want to die" or "I don't care anymore" should be treated seriously. Often, children who attempt suicide had been telling their parents repeatedly that they intended to kill themselves. Most research supports that people who openly threaten suicide don't really intend to take their own lives; and that the threat is a desperate plea for help. While that is true much of the time, what mother or father would want to risk being wrong?

Any of these other red flags warrants your immediate attention and action by seeking professional help right away:

- "No thing matters."
- "I wonder how many people would come to my funeral?"
- "So metimes I wish I could just go to sleep and never wake up."
- "Ev eryone would be better off without me."
- "Yo u won't have to worry about me much longer."

When a teenager starts dropping comments like the ones above or comes right out and admits to feeling suicidal, try not to react with shock ("What, are you crazy?!") or scorn ("That's a ridiculous thing to say!"). Above all, don't tell him or her, "You don't mean that!." Be willing to listen nonjudgmentally to what he or she is really saying, which is: "I need your love and attention because I'm in tremendous pain, and I can't seem to stop it on my own."

To see your child so troubled is hard for any parent. Nevertheless, the immediate focus has to be on consoling; you'll tend to your feelings later. In a calm voice, you might say, "I see. You must really, really be hurting inside."

4. Seek professional help right away.

If your teenager's behavior has you concerned, don't wait to contact your pediatrician. Contact a local mental health provider who works with children to have your child or youth evaluated as soon as possible so that your son or daughter can start therapy or counseling if he or she is not in danger of self-harm. However, call your local mental health crisis support team or go to your local emergency room if you think your child is actively suicidal and in danger of self-harm.

5. Share your feelings.

Let your teen know that he or she is not alone and that everyone feels sad, depressed, or anxious now and then, including moms and dads. Without minimizing his anguish, be reassuring that these bad times won't last forever. Things truly will get better and you will help get your child through counseling and other treatment to help make things better for him or her..

6. Know the warning signs

- Pay attention to children talking about wanting to die or kill himself or herself, feeling hopeless, having no reason to live, or being a burden to others.
- Suicide notes are a very real sign of danger and should always be taken seriously. These notes may be in the form of letters, emails, social media posts or text messages.
- If someone has attempted suicide in the past, they are more likely to try again.
- Watch for children making final arrangements like saying goodbye to friends; giving away prized possessions; or deleting social media profiles, pictures or posts.
- Making sudden dramatic changes can be a sign too. Watch out for teens withdrawing from friends and family; skipping school or classes; becoming less involved in activities that were once important; avoiding others; having trouble sleeping or sleeping all the time; suddenly losing or gaining weight; or showing a disinterest in appearance or hygiene.
- A suicidal child or adolescent may show an increased interest in guns and other weapons may seem to have increased access to guns or pills, or may talk about or hint at a suicide plan.
- Sudden risky behaviors can indicate suicidal thoughts. Watch for increased use of alcohol or drugs, showing rage or talking about seeking revenge. Self-injury is also a warning sign for young children and teenagers.

● Social Media & School Network Guidelines

Social media is an evolving and rapidly growing communication platform, allowing for two-way social interaction between people and organisations. In short, social media is about people. Use of social media is reflective of individuals and of organisations they are associated with. The spread and reach of content posted on social media channels is vast; postings are available and can be viewed by people worldwide in seconds.

Social media is changing the way we use the internet to interact with one and another. It is rapidly becoming a part of our daily lives. Social media refers to online community sites including Facebook, MySpace and LinkedIn, file sharing sites such as Google Photos and YouTube; blogs, forums and micro- blogging sites like Twitter. These guidelines would be updated from time to time as new social media platforms, communities, trends and cultures develop.

The Global Indian International School's Marketing & Communications Team, along with assigned staff co-ordinators, are authorised to post content on its social media channels. GIIS recognises that social media is a two-way engagement and interaction platform, which facilitates an open dialogue and discussion of ideas that are beneficial for the organisation, and/or individuals in their learning capacity. Always be considerate and transparent about your engagement on social media channels, as you represent GIIS as an employee or student. Your online behaviour impacts the organisation's reputation and we encourage you to positively engage in sharing views and ideas on social media channels. As employees and students of GIIS, it becomes critical for us to stay connected and relevant.

Keeping the above in mind, remember:

- 1. Protect your own Privacy - Do not upload post or divulge any information that will compromise your privacy or professional confidentiality. Beware of scammers and identity thieves. Only accept invitations to share information from people you know. Utilise privacy settings to control access to your network, web pages, profile, post blogs, etc.
- 2. Identify with your own Identity - Always use your real name to post or share content on social media. If you are sharing or posting content on behalf of GIIS, and wish to promote school activities or achievements identify yourself as a student or staff member.
- 3. Maintain respect - Sharing content, thoughts and views with others is the ideal of engaging in social media. Always be respectful and avoid inflammatory, racist or offensive language. Do not upload offensive or explicit written, audio and video content.
- 4. Be responsible online - You are responsible for any content or comments personally made by you. Always maintain a clear and calm-minded approach for sharing any content online. Ensure that you always protect your privacy and do not insult, threaten or deride anyone on the grounds of caste, religion, race, nation, gender or circumstances in a manner that goes against GIIS' code of conduct.

5. Think before making any post - Social media has a strong 'viral' quotient, making any comment, post or sharing of thoughts, ideas or events reach out to people worldwide in a matter of seconds. Be mindful of what you post. Search engines and archival systems save information, which can be retrieved years after the post has been made.

6. Cyber Bullying - Cyber bullying is considered as an act of harassment. Do not indulge in this crime in any manner whatsoever.
7. Maintain Personal and Organisational Confidentiality - Do not post any information that is confidential personal or commercial information about GIIS, its students, teachers or staff members. Posting the same may breach legal obligations or GIIS' policies and procedures.
8. Privacy Settings - Only accept invitations to share information from people you know. Utilise privacy settings to control access to your network, web pages, profile, posts blogs, etc.
9. Manage your time spent online - Users should allocate a certain amount of time using social media to avoid over usage and manage time for studies, co-curricular activities and other important work.
10. Plagiarism - Publishing your opinions, art, writing and other works makes them subject to plagiarism. Although an effective way to share your work, content online is public and can be used without prior permission and knowledge of the user. Users must be cautious of what is published to maintain the genuineness of their work. At the same time users must also not plagiarise online content and must be aware that it is important to give appropriate citations and references.
11. Precautionary use of photo uploads - Social media involves photo-based communication, and a large number of images. These can be manipulated and used in other areas without the user coming to know. Hence, caution should be exercised to protect your identity, and above all, integrity.

Guidelines for posting on Facebook and other Social Media platforms

Any post on school page that is offensive, defamatory, off subject, abusive, or selling external services, events or activities will automatically be marked as spam and removed.

No parent or student shall give misleading facts / opinions or any blog(s) / website(s) / social media channel(s) about the school or any teacher. If they are defamatory in nature, or deemed to be so by the Internal Review Committee (IRC), it would be considered as a serious breach.

Use of school logos, images or photographs on personal social profiles is strictly prohibited. If a user has any question or feedback to share in relation to classes, activities or any school-facilitated service, he/she is requested to contact the respective teacher-in-charge or Campus Principal through the official GIIS web portal, www.mygiis.org

Parental Consent will be taken before using photographs of their wards in the school's social media publications.

School Internet

Global Indian International School provides internet access as a facility to supplement the delivery of its learning programmes. The benefits of having access to the internet are invaluable for both educators and students.

Amongst the vast resources on the internet are some materials that are not suitable for school-aged children. It is not appropriate to locate material that is illegal, defamatory, or offensive. Such conduct will lead to the immediate loss of network access and disciplinary actions.

Users Can

- Participate in projects using the Internet in a directed manner to support curriculum and research activities.
- Use the internet to locate materials to meet educational requirements.
- Access a variety of information including news resources, information databases, the holdings of other libraries, etc.

Users Cannot

- Locate material that is illegal, defamatory, or offensive.
- Use the network for commercial or for-profit purposes.
- Use the network for any illegal activity, including violation of copyright or other contracts.
- Resort to cyber bullying or harassment.
- Use the network to access obscene or pornographic material.
- Damage computer, computer systems or computer networks.

- Fee Protection Scheme (FPS)

The Council of Private Education, under the Enhanced Registration Framework, requires all Private Education Institutions to protect the fees paid by the students.

The Fee Protection Scheme (FPS) serves to protect students' fees in the event a private education institution is unable to continue operating due to insolvency, and/or regulatory closure. The Fee Protection Scheme also protects students if the private education institution fails to pay penalties or return fees to the student arising from judgments made against it by the Singapore courts.

EduTrust-certified private education institutions are required to adopt the Fee Protection Scheme to provide full protection to all fees paid by their students. All fees refer to all monies paid by the students to be enrolled in a private education institution, excluding the course application fee, agent commission fee (if applicable), miscellaneous fees (non-compulsory and non-standard fee paid only when necessary or where applicable, for example, the re-exam fee or charges for credit card payment, etc.) and GST.

Fee Protection under the Insurance Scheme

Under the fee insurance scheme, private education institutions will purchase insurance protection from any one of the Council for Private Education-appointed insurance companies for every one of their students to protect their fees.

GIIS has appointed LONPAC INSURANCE BHD, as the insurance company, for protecting the fees under Fee Protection Scheme.

Students studying in an EduTrust-certified private education institution need to pay fees of up to a maximum of 12 months of their course duration to their private school.
