

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

2021 Open to Ideas

→ A curated community based program in celebration of design

Design Talks NOW™ uncovers why design matters NOW through the exploration of current tones and shared human experience as we face a drastically changed world.

In the tradition of Design Talks™, the virtual NOW series addresses current topics pointing to the future, resiliency, sustainability, regeneration and humanity as touched by design, featuring architecture, design, art and civic vision by creative leaders, forward thinkers and innovative dreamers.

We invite

Visionary architects, designers, engineers, educators, filmmakers, scientists, makers, manufacturers and retailers to sit at the table and to confront the challenges we face, brainstorm solutions, and identify new opportunities that will connect us.

Functional Solutions by Design

2021 Design Talks NOW explores what the future will look like; how pathfinders in their respective fields are dealing with lifestyle and business changes; and how we will reenergize creativity.

Speakers must be inspiring, and topics may include:

- Teaching Solutions
- Creativity
- Health+Wellness
- Hospitality
- Entertainment
- Sustainability+Regeneration

Your proposal must include

- Suggested title
- Suggested speaker(s)
- Brief topic description

The formats we seek are
