

Chris Meroff is the Founder and CEO of Alignment Leadership, a company created to abolish loneliness in leadership and provide ways for employees to find fulfillment in the work they do.

Chris is...

- A passionate business owner that wants to use his past failures, passions, and resources to empower leaders to be the best for their people.
- Author of Align: Four Simple Steps for Leaders to Create Employee Fulfillment releasing in November of 2020.
- A small business leader who pursues every employee in a way that highlights their intrinsic value and helps create fulfillment.

His work has been featured in Forbes, CEO World Magazine, and Medium. He is a member and contributor of the Austin Business Journal Leadership Trust.

Chris' desire is for every company, organization, church, and small group to find fulfillment through alignment and community.

Today we are thrilled to have him here with us (virtually). And now, please welcome... Chris Meroff!

Meroff is pronounced (mer-off). Thank you for reading the introduction as written with energy.

*After Chris' message, feel free to say something like:
"Thank you. For those of you who are interested, Chris has agreed to send everyone a free chapter of his new book. Just email him at info@chrismeroff.com"*
