Juno is a revelation for us. We used to spend a lot of time and money on activities that weren't being used by our staff. Juno's helped us keep our staff productive and engaged and it's saved us a ton of money and time. We were eager to give our employees a helping hand and with Juno we can do just that.

Given the difficult times we are all experiencing combined with the shift to a remote first set up. I wanted to have something in place that would engage and support everyone on the team.

The problem I faced is everyone is different and I ran the risk of not being able to please everyone.

With Juno it was clear that they understood employee support on a deeper level and by exposing my staff to a curated set of experiences and services and giving the team choice to decide what works best for them I would achieve the profound impact I was looking for.
