
Fourth year in succession:

TRACOE medical donates EUR 5,000 to the Selzlinge inclusion day nursery

(Nieder-Olm, Dezember 2019) Doing good for children at Christmas – TRACOE medical GmbH, headquartered in Nieder-Olm, one of the leading manufacturers of medical devices for windpipe incision (tracheostomy) and larynx removal (laryngectomy) has once again donated EUR 5,000 to the Selzlinge inclusion day nursery. This year the donation was again presented to the head of the day nursery Ann-Kathrin Jung and in.betrieb CEO Michael Huber by Dr. Thomas Jurisch, managing director of TRACOE medical GmbH in the course of a Christmas story-reading session. TRACOE medical has donated this amount for the fourth time. This money will again cover most of the day nursery's electricity costs.

“Christmas customs and traditions make the celebration of Christmas into what we associate with it. It has now become possibly our best tradition to donate to the inclusion day nursery in our immediate vicinity – a loving, lively place for children with and without disabilities. Every year I look forward to this special celebration day in my calendar with these little children and their radiant eyes,” said Dr. Thomas Jurisch. “We are delighted with the generous donation,” said in.betrieb CEO Michael Huber: “It is wonderful to see that the people and companies in our neighbourhood are so closely involved with us and together support and promote the interests of Selzlinge, and children with and without disabilities, with such commitment. Thanks to TRACOE's annual donation, we can plan for the future, which is a great help in times of cash shortages.” The Selzlinge inclusion day nursery is part of in.betrieb gGmbH Association for Participation und Integration.
