INSURANCE ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

No Guarantee of Benefits: If we are in-network for your health plan, we will bill your health insurance company directly for our services. Verifying your insurance coverage and benefits is your responsibility. If we are out-of-network with your plan but you have out-of-network health insurance coverage, upon your request, we will provide the documentation necessary so that you may submit a claim to your insurer. You are responsible for paying any amount that your insurance company does not pay, which may be 100% of our fees.

Initial: _____ I understand this billing policy, and I agree to be bound by it.

Contracted Rate: If your provider is in-network with your insurance, s/he has agreed to a rate with your insurance company. Your provider cannot charge you for the difference between the fees listed in our Fee Schedule and the fee covered by your insurance. You will always be responsible for the co-pay and/or any deductible amount required by your insurance.

Initial: _____ I understand this policy, and I agree to be bound by it.

IF YOU DO NOT WANT YOUR INSURANCE BILLED, PLEASE COMPLETE THIS SECTION:

I am uninsured. I have insurance, but I do not want them to be billed.

SELF-PAY ACKNOWLEDGMENT

If you do not have insurance or you do not want Landstrom Center to bill your insurance for our fees, you may pay us directly at the time of service. This means that payment is due at the time of your appointment. Landstrom Center has not collected or verified your insurance information, and we thus do not guarantee that you can receive partial reimbursement from any third-party for our fees.

Child Treatment Approach & Expectations

This document provides important information regarding our treatment approach and policies for the treatment of minors, so please read it carefully. Under the law, people who are under the age of 18 are referred to as “children” “minors” or “dependents,” so we’ll use those words here too. But, in many instances, this nomenclature does not accurately reflect a person’s maturity or self-determination. We strive to respect each person’s autonomy to the greatest extent possible. Also, because each family is different, a child’s guardian may also be a child’s parent, but we’ll use “guardian” here.

Treatment Disagreements

Sometimes disagreements arise among a child’s guardians, or between guardians and the therapist concerning the best course of treatment for a child. In such cases, it’s vital that all parties listen to other perspectives and work to resolve disagreements. If a child’s guardian or therapist concludes that therapy should be discontinued, we strongly recommend at least one final session to appropriately end the therapeutic relationship.

Trust & Zone of Privacy

Mutual trust between a child, guardians, and the therapist is crucial for effective therapy. One way to build trust is to respect a child’s privacy by creating a zone of privacy between the therapist and a child, where a child feels safe to share personal concerns without fear of reprisal. This is particularly important for children ages 12 through 18, as it’s typically during this period of growth when children develop a greater sense of independence and autonomy, as they approach adulthood. We strongly urge guardians to respect the zone of privacy.

During treatment, a child may discuss their sexual contact, alcohol or drug use, or other behaviors. Depending on the behavior and the age and disposition of the child, the behavior may be considered typical and less concerning, and thus addressable by the therapist. In other situations, the behavior may require guardian intervention. We’ll carefully evaluate and discuss such instances as we deem necessary.

Sharing Child Treatment Information

Upon receiving a written request to inspect or copy a child’s records, we will share information with the following individuals: (a) A guardian, if the child is under 12 years old; (b) the child if the child is 12 years or older; or (c) a guardian if the child is 12 years or older but only if the child does not object and we do not find a compelling reason to deny access.

We'll also share with guardians: (a) the child's general treatment status, i.e. whether the child is improving or struggling; (b) if the child misses a scheduled appointment; (c) if we believe that the child should be treated by another provider; and (d) a treatment summary at the conclusion of treatment, describing the general issues discussed, progress made, and areas of future focus.

We will act immediately if we believe that a child is at serious risk of self-harm or harm to others.

Agreement to Confidentiality

By participating in any session, the guardian agrees to hold in strict confidence the substance of such session and specifically agrees not to: (a) attempt to gain any advantage in any legal proceeding related to the substance of our treatment of the child, including any dispute between another parent, guardian, or divorced parent or guardian; or (b) seek any of the Practice's providers' testimony relating in any way to my treatment of the child in-person, through subpoena, or by affidavit.

If a court appoints a custody evaluator, guardian ad litem, or parenting coordinator, we will cooperate only to the extent required by law. Time for any required attendance will be billed at $350 per hour for all travel, preparation of testimony or reports, and any related activity.

Agreement & Acknowledgement

By signing below, the child and guardian(s) agree to the above policies.

Notice of Privacy Practices

Landstrom Neuropsychological Center, P.C.

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information.

Please review it carefully.

Patient Rights

You have the right to:

- Get a copy of your paper or electronic medical record
- Correct your paper or electronic medical record
- Request confidential communication
- Ask us to limit the information we share
- Get a list of those with whom we've shared your information
- Get a copy of this privacy notice
- Choose someone to act for you
- File a complaint if you believe your privacy rights have been violated

Patient Choices

You have some choices in the way that we use and share information as we:

- Tell family and friends about your condition
- Provide disaster relief
- Include you in a hospital directory
- Provide mental health care
- Market our services and sell your information

Our Uses and Disclosures

Landstrom Center may use and share your information as we:

- Treat you
- Run our practice
- Bill for your services
- Help with public health and safety issues
- Do research
- Comply with the law
- Respond to organ and tissue donation requests

- Address workers' compensation, law enforcement, and other government requests
- Respond to lawsuits and legal actions

Patient Rights: In Detail

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights.

This section explains your rights and some of our responsibilities.

Get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record

You can ask to see or get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record and other health information we have about you. Ask us how to do this. We will provide a copy or a summary of your health information, usually within 30 days of your request. We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee.

Ask us to correct your medical record

You can ask us to correct health information about you that you think is incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this. We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days.

Request confidential communications

You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address. We will say “yes” to all reasonable requests.

Ask us to limit what we use or share

You can ask us not to use or share certain health information for treatment, payment, or our operations. We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care. If you pay for a service or health care item out-of-pocket in full, you can ask us not to share that information for the purpose of payment or our operations with your health insurer. We will say “yes” unless a law requires us to share that information.

Get a list of those with whom we've shared information

You can ask for a list (called an “accounting”) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with, and why. We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one accounting a year for free but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months.

Get a copy of this privacy notice

You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly.

Choose someone to act for you

If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information. We will make sure the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action.

File a complaint if you feel your rights are violated

You can complain if you feel we have violated your rights by contacting us. You can file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights by sending a letter to 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201, calling 1-877-696-6775, or visiting www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/complaints/. We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.

Patient Choices: In Detail

You can tell us your choices about what we share.

If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to:

Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care, share information in a disaster relief situation, and include your information in a hospital directory If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may go ahead and share your information if we believe it is in your best interest. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety.

In these cases, we never share your information unless you give us written permission: Marketing purposes, sale of your information, and most sharing of psychotherapy notes

Uses & Disclosures of Landstrom Center
