

Event Marketing & Social Media Intern

Can you switch from one Twitter account to another? Do you know how to write catchy copy? Are you good at managing different projects at the same time?

We are looking for a hands-on marketing and social media intern!

Thanks to a small and enthusiastic team, you will become a part of the team really quickly and be able to gain many responsibilities, plan and execute projects from A to Z.

You would, among other things, work for the project; The Big Squeeze, a real start-up hotspot where various experts share their knowledge with young founders, where start-ups can showcase their solutions and where the one and only The Big Squeeze awards are handed out.

- Co-develop and implement a social media strategy
- Do content creation and marketing, through different media and partners
- Set up mail campaigns and sign up communication partners
- ...

Is the answer yes to one or more of the questions below?

- Can you navigate easily between all the SoMe channels?
- Do you like to write about the latest tech innovations?
- Can you design a header, banner or infographic in one, two, three?
- Is working with Mailchimp and setting up mailing campaigns easy?

YES!!!

What do you get in return?

An interesting and fun internship in a dynamic environment, in the heart of Antwerp with nice views of the MAS and the Schelde! We like to think along with you about an interesting package of tasks aligned with your goals and interests.

We can provide you with an internship where you can work independently, get a lot of responsibilities and can offer a real added value. And not to forget: coffee as usual, sunny lunches on the roof terrace, the necessary afterwork drinks, sporty team buildings, flexible working atmosphere and the best colleagues!

Want to join forces? Let's connect!

Tell us why you would be a great fit for the team and send over your resume to info@scale-ups.eu. We can't wait to meet you!