

Networking Rule

No one person or company may be in multiple non-compete networking groups precluding another person/company of the same business category from entering. If a person/company in the same field requests entry into one of these networking groups, the sitting person/company shall vacate membership in their choice of the multiple non-compete networking groups to leave so that the new person/company may join. Alternatively, the new and sitting persons/companies in the same business category may mutually agree to share the category in a non-compete networking group.

Procedures

- We will allow 30 days for the vacating member to make their transition.
- Any dues paid by vacating member shall be refunded at a prorated rate by the networking group.
- If all non-compete networking groups are full - with members/businesses singularly - then the non-compete networking groups rules will govern in the case of potentially sharing a business category. These cases are overseen by the group's chairperson.
