

ABOVE & BEYOND

Katherine Aberle, M.D.

While she was on extended maternity leave due to Covid, Dr. Katherine Aberle, a surgeon at Ascentist Ear, Nose & Throat, wanted to keep her hand-eye coordination and finger dexterity sharp, so she started to sew. When she went back to work in September, she couldn't help but notice that her colleagues' surgical caps were hanging together by a thread. "The normal, disposable surgical caps are in short supply because all those materials that are used to make surgical caps are being diverted to make masks," she says. Dr. Aberle ordered ten yards of Wonder Women scrub caps online and made scrub caps to be distributed at Advent Health Shawnee Mission. "I think Wonder Woman symbolizes empowerment and doing something for the greater good and helping others."
