ELTON JOHN SELLING LATE MOTHER'S LUXURY BUNGALOW

Elton John is selling the luxury bungalow he bought for his late mother Sheila Farebrother at the height of their near decade-long rift. The singer fell out with his mom in 2008 after she refused to cut off contact with Bob Halley and John Reid, his former friends and employees. Mother and son formally reconciled before her death last year at the age of 92. The two-bedroom property on the coast in West Sussex, England, which is located in a private estate and has electric gates, manicured gardens, a summerhouse and a conservatory, is listed for sale at US$1.7 million. According to the Daily Mail, Elton bought the home for his mom in 2010, paying $1.14 million. The newspaper adds he still provided for her with a pension despite their rift. WENN

LAKEFIELD LISTING HAS TRADITIONAL AND MODERN FLAIR
A well-cared for, well-loved generational cottage, 3153 Fire Route 53 is a place to create memories, says listing agent Jay Burton. "It's the perfect family cottage," he notes. The traditional residence still has original features, such as a stone fireplace, wood walls and ceilings and an enclosed sun porch. It also has a newer addition. A separate dining room provides a place to enjoy a meal together, while the eat-in kitchen offers a more casual place to nosh. The kitchen also has built-in appliances. Most of the furniture in the home is included, so it will be easy to move in and enjoy right away. The property has 107 feet of water frontage, a detached two-car garage and a wet slip boathouse. It's close to amenities in Lakefield and is on the Trent Severn system. The Peterborough Sailing Club is within walking distance. CONTEMPORARY DIGS MESH WITH SUPERIOR LOCATION

For those who want a contemporary spin on cottage living, "this is a perfect orchestra of superior location in harmony with superior craftsmanship and architecture," says listing agent Sandy Waldie. "It's contemporary chic meets exclusive South Rosseau." The 6,000-square-foot cedar cottage has full-height, wall-to-wall windows and doors that create a seamless transition from inside to out. Designed by architect

Peter Berton, the living space features northern white oak flooring and vaulted cedar ceilings and a contemporary concrete fireplace. "This cottage was not built on spec. It was carefully customized with the finest of finishings," Waldie says. The kitchen has natural stone counters and white cabinetry. An open-riser staircase with glass railings crosses in front of a window. This home also offers plenty of other goodies including a wine room, built-in appliances and geothermal heating. The property has 310 feet of water frontage, a four-slip two-bedroom boathouse and a separate garage. Listing broker: Chestnut Park Real Estate (Sandy Waldie and Samantha Waldie)
