- (1) by adding Grade Canada 1 skim-milk powder, or evaporated or concentrated skim-milk, or both, to buttermilk, flavoured partly-skimmed milk, flavoured skim-milk, milk beverages, standard milk, partly-skimmed milk or skim-milk; or
 - (2) by removing water from buttermilk, flavoured partly-skimmed milk, flavoured skim-milk, milk beverage, standard milk, partly-skimmed milk or skim-milk,
 - (a) except in the case of a milk beverage, the fluid milk product obtained under subsection (1) shall contain at least 10 per cent milk solids other than milk-fat.
- Production and manufacturing of fluid milk products
12. During production or manufacture of a fluid milk product, no person shall,
- (1) add to the fluid milk product any substance that this Order does not require or permit; or
 - (2) remove from a fluid milk product any substance, except milk-fat or water to the extent required or permitted by this Order.
- Products deemed for sale
13. A fluid milk product having a composition other than as permitted by this Order, that is found on the premises of a manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer, shall be deemed to be for sale if it is,
- (1) packaged in consumer-sized containers; or
 - (2) in bulk or in containers other than consumer-sized containers and is not labelled "Not for Sale".
- Detention of products
14. (1) If a fluid milk product has been manufactured or sold in contravention of this Order, an inspector may detain the product at the risk and expense of the person in possession of it.
- Detention tag
- (2) An inspector who detains a fluid milk product shall attach to the container or package of containers a detention tag and deliver or send by registered mail on the day of detention a notice of the detention to,
- (a) the person in possession of the product; and
 - (b) the manufacturer, if any, whose name or number appears on the container or package of containers.
- Idem*
15. No person shall,
- (1) offer for sale, sell, or move a detained product; or
 - (2) remove a detention tag.

Apply for release of product

16. (1) The person in possession of the product or the manufacturer may apply to the Board for release of the product from the detention.

Application

(2) An application under subsection (1) must contain a statement of the facts and reasons on which the applicant relies and must be received by the Board not later than 10 days after the detention was made.

Removal of detention tag

17. (1) If the Board is satisfied, without a hearing, that the product under detention was not manufactured or sold in contravention of this Order, the inspector shall remove the detention tag and release the product.

Board hearing

(2) If the product is not released from detention under subsection (1), the Board shall hold a hearing as soon as reasonably possible to determine whether there has been a contravention of this Order.

Product
disposal or release

(3) If, after a hearing, the Board determines that the product under detention was,

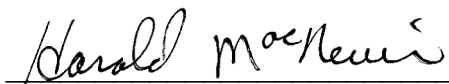

(a) manufactured or sold in contravention of this Order, the Board may order that the product be disposed of; or

(b) not manufactured or sold in contravention of this Order, the Board shall order that the detention tag be removed and the product be released from detention.

Commencement

18. This Order comes into force on the 1st day of August 2012.

DATED at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, this 10th day of July 2012.
