Petrus Communications is committed to protecting the rights of individuals in line with the General Data Protection Regulation (reference EU2016/679) of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of Personal Data and on the free movement of such data (hereinafter referred as : 'GDPR') as well as each applicable national Personal Data protection laws and regulations (collectively referred as "Data Protection Laws and Regulations").

In order to provide our services to you and to promote our business, we will need to collect and process certain personal information about you. If you have any questions about this policy or the Website, or about how we use and process your personal information, feel free to contact us at dataprotection@petruscommunications.com

WHAT IS PERSONAL DATA?

Personal Data is information that can be used to identify a person either directly or indirectly (hereinafter referred as: 'Personal Data'). A 'personal identifier' is a piece of information that can identify an individual. This definition covers a wide range of personal identifiers to constitute Personal Data, including name, address, email address, identification number, location data or online identifier.

PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT

Information you provide through our Website

When you visit the Website, we automatically collect certain information about your device, including information about your web browser, IP address, time zone, and some of the cookies that are installed on your device. Additionally, as you browse the Website, we collect information about the individual web pages or products that you view, what websites or search terms referred you to the Website, and information about how you interact with the Website.

We collect Device Information using the following technologies:

- "Cookies" are data files that are placed on your device or computer and often include an anonymous unique identifier.
- "Log files" track actions occurring on the Site, and collect data including your IP address, browser type, Internet service provider, referring/exit pages, and date/time stamps.
- "Web beacons," "tags," and "pixels" are electronic files used to record information about how you browse the Site.

Information you provide through our services or direct communication

Through our services and events we organise or attend as well as direct or email communication you provide us with data about yourself and about the purpose for which we can contact you.

HOW DO WE USE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

We use the personal data you provided to us only for specific purposes of the corresponding processing activities and only where we have legal bases to do so (in compliance with the GDPR article 6).

We may use your personal information to:

- To comply with contractual obligations - reply to enquiries you send to us
- As a result of your consent - where you have specifically agreed to this, send you marketing communications by email relating to our work which we think may be of interest to you
- Within the scope of a legitimate interest - improve and optimise our Site as well as improve safety and security (for example for verifying your account, detecting fraudulent activities and anything else that would make our Services more secure)
- On the basis of Petrus Communications' legal obligations or in the public interest – Petrus Communications, as any other company, is subject to legal obligations and regulations. In some cases the processing of your Personal Data will be necessary for Petrus Communications in order to fulfil these obligations

SHARING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We will only pass your data to third parties in the following circumstances:

- you have provided your explicit consent for us to pass data to a named third party;
- we are using a third party purely for the purposes of processing data on our behalf and we have in place a data processing agreement with that third party that fulfils our legal obligations in relation to the use of third party data processors;
- we may share your Personal Information to comply with applicable laws and regulations, to respond to a subpoena, search warrant or other lawful request for information we receive, or to otherwise protect our rights.

In addition, we will only pass data to third parties outside of the EU where appropriate safeguards are in place as defined by article 46 of the General Data Protection Regulation.

HOW LONG WE STORE YOUR INFORMATION

We will only retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

If your Personal Data is no longer required for the performance of the contractual or statutory obligations, these will be erased on a regular basis unless further processing is necessary, for instance, for preserving particular evidence under the applicable Data Protection Laws and Regulations, or in the context of legal statutes of limitation.

In some circumstances, we may anonymise your personal information so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you.

SECURITY

We use technical and organisational security measures in order to protect the data we have under our control against accidental or intentional manipulation, loss, destruction and against access by unauthorised persons. Our security procedures are continually enhanced as new technology becomes available.

YOUR RIGHTS

You may exercise certain rights regarding the data processed by us:

- Withdraw your consent at any time. Users have the right to withdraw consent where they have previously given their consent to the processing of their personal data.
- Access your data. Users have the right to learn if personal data is being processed by us, obtain disclosure regarding certain aspects of the processing and obtain a copy of the data undergoing processing.
- Verify and seek rectification. Users have the right to verify the accuracy of their personal data and ask for it to be updated or corrected.
- Restrict the processing of your data. Users have the right, under certain circumstances, to restrict the processing of their data. In this case, we will not process their data for any purpose other than storing it.
- Have your personal data deleted or otherwise removed. Users have the right, under certain circumstances, to obtain the erasure of their data from us.
- Receive your data and have it transferred to another controller. Users have the right to receive their data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and, if technically feasible, to have it transmitted to another controller without any hindrance. This provision is applicable provided that the data is processed by automated means and that the processing is based on the user's consent, on a contract which the user is part of or on pre-contractual obligations thereof.
- Lodge a complaint. Users have the right to bring a claim before their competent data protection authority.
