Business Process and Analysis

Solving Complex Business Problems

Our team of business analysts are naturally inquisitive, with a desire to understand your business requirements and help design the best solutions to improve and enhance your processes.

Disciplined And Delivery Focused

Our analysis and process team has a strong reputation for their excellence in helping our clients achieve their objectives while bringing an outside perspective to challenge the status quo. We use the latest business analyst tools in our engagements which include business process articulation and optimization, gathering and developing detailed requirements and providing business analytics and report design.

Past Mandates

- Assisting with the evaluation, selection and implementation of a variety of commercial software solutions including ERP, Production Accounting, Reserves Management and Land Management
- Developing and providing business intelligence workshops for a large Energy Services business
- Business process optimization for a mid-size North American Oil & Gas business to help standardize, simplify and streamline existing processes and assist in solution configuration and organizational change management
