Doctor of Ministry

How can your ministry grow with enriched understandings of theology in praxis?

The DMin provides an advanced theological education for experienced leaders that need focused study for their ministry. The concluding project is a fruitful and fitting experience for the minister and the setting.

UNIFYING, LEARNING,
SERVING

EXCELLENCE IN PRAXIS.

The Doctor of Ministry (DMin) at United Lutheran Seminary is designed for experienced pastors to devote intensive study to a task or issue in the practice of ministry. This degree program is designed to enhance the practice of ministry for those who have been serving in ordained ministry of Word and Sacrament for at least 3 years. The DMin program supports the lifelong learning of pastors throughout the church, benefiting individuals, congregations, and denominations.

- 24 credit program, alongside the student's individual project, over 3 to 6 years, according to the student's preference
- Choose a focus within a field of ministry or an area of concentration
- Establish individualized learning goals for your project of choice
- Flexible course offerings, including five-day intensives, distance education, and independent studies
