

Anglican Studies

Do you enjoy the reality of Full Communion partnerships or see yourself working in a unified setting? Do you appreciate the value of Ecumenism and the enrichment that comes from meaningful theological conversation?

You will find your Episcopal Identity welcomed and affirmed within a diverse learning community.

AN ECUMENICAL PARTNERSHIP

United Lutheran Seminary has long enjoyed an ecumenical partnership with the Episcopal Church in the United States of America (ECUSA) through a relationship with the Diocese of Pennsylvania. For more than 35 years, Episcopal seminarians have been receiving theological education at the predecessor schools of United Lutheran Seminary. We welcome those who seek formation, education, and opportunity in both lay and ordained ministry in the Episcopal Church.

Whether beginning your theological education closer to home before placement at an Episcopal seminary or taking the opportunity to study with excellent faculty in an ecumenical environment, we welcome your interest in the Anglican Studies Certificate. In addition to a rigorous curriculum of public theology, the Anglican Studies Certificate offers students the opportunity to flourish in their Episcopal identity with an Ecumenical faculty and courses such as the Book of Common Prayer and Essentials of Anglicanism.

FLEXIBLE LEARNING OPTIONS

ULS offers full-time, part-time, day, night, Saturday, intensive, and distance learning courses, making excellent theological education accessible to a wide range of students. Need- and merit-based financial aid is available to help you grow in your vocation.

For more information about the Anglican Studies Certificate at ULS please contact:

Rev. Dr. Storm Swain, 215-248-7375 or sswain@uls.edu.

 uls.edu

 215-248-7302