

PROJECT: Sunbridge NED Cyrils Drive Ph. 3
RE: National Marine Diving Services
DATE: 3/31/2023

I am writing to recommend the services of National Marine Diving Services that we used to install articulated concrete block matting on the Sunbridge Cyrils Drive Ph.3 project. The company was professional, efficient, and easy to work with throughout the entire project. Their knowledge and experience with the specialized revetment truly streamlined the installation process.

One of the most impressive aspects of this diving service was their excellent communication. From the initial consultation to the final completion of the project, the team was always available to answer any questions we had and kept us updated on the progress of the project. Their communication skills made the entire process stress-free and straightforward.

The team was also very professional, and they took all necessary precautions to ensure the safety of their divers and the surrounding environment. They followed all the necessary protocols and regulations, which gave us the confidence that the job was being done correctly and safely.

The project was completed within the timeframe we discussed, which was impressive given the complexity of the project and the number of hurdles we encountered along the way. The team worked efficiently and effectively to ensure that the project was completed on time without sacrificing quality.

Overall, I highly recommend this diving service for any projects requiring articulated concrete block matting installation. They are an exceptional company, and their professionalism, communication skills, and efficiency make them a pleasure to work with.

Sincerely,
