

Angelitha L. Daniel

Angelitha L. Daniel is the Director of Minority Engineering Programs (MEP) in the College of Engineering at North Carolina State University. In her role, Daniel works to boost the number of underrepresented minorities entering and graduating from the College. Programs include recruitment, retention, outreach and student success initiatives.

Daniel serves as an advisor to the NC State chapters of the American Indian Science and Engineering Society, the National Society of Black Engineers and the Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers. She is a past recipient of the Pride of the Wolfpack Award.

She received her bachelor's degree in materials science and engineering from the University of Pittsburgh in 1998.