

Coronavirus Update April 29, 2020

Fleet Landing considers the health and well-being of our Residents and employees to be our top priority. While we are fortunate that there are no suspected or confirmed cases of Coronavirus (COVID-19) at our community, we continue to take the necessary infection prevention measures and plan for scenarios that the pandemic may bring.

Fleet Landing is a member of LeadingAge Florida who has worked closely with the Governor's office, the Florida Department of Health, the Department of Elder Affairs, the Agency for Health Care Administration, and other state agencies to monitor COVID-19. Our focus has been, and continues to be on prevention, education and training. We are continuously gathering information to ensure we are as prepared as we can be, and to ensure the continued safety and well-being of our Residents. We are attending daily calls with public health officials and clinical and quality experts to discuss best practices for preparation and response to the virus.

Testing Initiative for Team Members

In an effort to mitigate unforeseen risks associated with the Coronavirus, Fleet Landing will proactively begin testing team members this week. Testing efforts will be focused on those working in the Derfer Pavilion, home to our most vulnerable population where the most person-to-person contact occurs. We will be testing approximately 150 team members and anticipate results within three days after the test is administered. As testing becomes more readily available, we will consider expanding our testing efforts to other areas of our community.

We are performing these tests to ensure our Residents' and team members' safety. We are not being required to perform the tests, and we do not currently know of any Resident or staff members experiencing COVID-19 symptoms. Fleet Landing is taking a leadership role in performing these tests and will be one of the very few communities doing this proactively. We believe this investment is the right thing to do for our community.

While it may be difficult to hear, current research and statistics indicate that we should expect that some of our team members may test positive for COVID-19, while showing no symptoms. We feel that it is crucial to the safety and well-being of our Residents and team to be aware of "asymptomatic carriers," so that we can adapt appropriately. In the case that we do receive positive test results, Fleet Landing will notify the appropriate health authorities, and follow their guidance. Fleet Landing is committed to providing updated information, including test results, as it becomes available.
