

26/10/2020

In this policy “we” or “us” shall mean Sharesy Ltd. In this policy “you” refers to any individual whose personal data we hold or process.

Cookies

Like most websites and applications, we use cookies to help provide you with the best experience whilst using our service. The cookies we use are split between the following categories:

- Strictly Necessary cookies - which are an essential part of our service and affect the way you can use our site (e.g. security & authentication)
- Performance cookies - which are used for analytics (e.g. understanding usage on our website)
- Functionality cookies - which collect information about your device to help you customise our service (e.g. remembering your time zone settings or accessing inline help)

On your first visit to our site from your browser we will display a notice to notify you that we are using cookies. We will only load the Strictly Necessary cookies and Functionality cookies until you have clicked the “Accept” button on our cookies notice. If you click the “Accept” button our Performance cookies will be loaded.

Below is a list of the cookies currently set by us:

Cookie Category	Option (s)	Details	Cookie Contents	Description	Duration
Strictly Necessary	Always on	cookieconsent_status	Dismiss (inform mode), accept or deny (opt-in, out mode)	The cookie records the permission granted by the User.	1 year from the time the accept or decline button is clicked.
Functionality cookies	On/off	wf_auth_page	Password status flag	This cookie will exist for Sharesy Staff and	Per session

				Partners. It is not intended for general use and will not be present for public users.
--	--	--	--	--	--

Third-Party Cookies

As well as cookies that are set by domains we control (first-party cookies), you may also see cookies set by a third party (third-party cookies). These are set when you interact with certain parts of our service and are used by these third-party services to understand your preferences and sometimes tailor content, they show you.

Refusing Cookies

The majority of browsers are set up to accept cookies by default, but you can change the way your browser handles cookies if you wish. You could reject them by default or be notified when a website is trying to set or update cookies. Exactly how you disable cookies depends on the browser or device you are using. The help feature on most browsers will tell you how you how you can manage and or disable cookies. If you disable cookies on your browser, certain features or parts of our service may not function correctly or will have a degraded experience.

Tracking and Analytics Cookies

We do not currently use any tracking or analytical cookies. However, we will update the policy if this changes, therefore, we recommend checking it from time to time.