COVID-19 emergency relief— by and for immigrants.

What is the fund?

The Washington COVID-19 Immigrant Relief Fund provides COVID-19 relief money to immigrants who are not eligible for federal stimulus funds or unemployment insurance because of immigration status. If you apply, you can receive a $1,000 one-time direct payment (up to $3,000 per household).

How does it work?

You can apply online, by phone, or by mail. All three options are available in several languages. You can receive the one-time payment by check or gift card.

Who runs the fund?

The fund is run by immigrant-led community organizations in Washington. They handle applications and distribute money. The program is supported by the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services.

Is my information safe?

Yes. We are immigrants supporting immigrants. Nothing in your application will ever be voluntarily shared with the government, ICE, or law enforcement.

Does the public charge rule apply?

No. This fund is considered one-time disaster relief and should not prevent you from getting a visa or green card in the future.
