FOUR WINDS FOUNDATION LTD - BEST PRACTICES STATEMENT

Problem Gambling Awareness and Harm Minimisation training is good for the community and makes good business sense. Four Winds Foundation is proud of its regional New Zealand roots and the benefits the local community gains from our gaming venues. The Four Winds Foundation training policies, and our responsible hosts who operate our venues, combine to ensure that our venues' practices exceed legislation and regulation.

This Four Winds Foundation venue is committed to meeting its social responsibility fully and does not wish to receive monies from players who cannot afford the losses. Gaming machines in hotels and taverns exist purely for the purposes of entertainment and raising funds for the New Zealand community. There is no point in taking money from members of the community that contribute to hardship and suffering in that same community for the purposes of returning the profits back to the affected community.

VENUE PERSONNEL

The law does NOT permit venue personnel (site owners/operators) to be involved in decisions about grants, to manage or to provide applications for grants to the community.

GAMING MACHINES

One gaming machine per player at any time, as regulated by the Gambling Act 2003.
Gaming machines at this venue must not be played by persons under the age of 18.
