

Summer of Community Investment

We are halfway through our Summer of Community Investment and the 3Raptor Consulting staff is honored to have the opportunity to invest in people, businesses, and our community. We are committed to investing through July and into August.

So we can better meet our community's needs, we would like to know what you want. Are there classes, series, and sessions you are looking for? Is there a skill you would like to learn or develop? What resources can we share to help you achieve your goals? 3Raptor is looking for your input to make sure our Summer of Community Investment continues to get stronger. Our goal is to offer what is truly needed now.

Please ask your peers, business partners, and neighbors. Share with us what you learn, and we will do our best to meet these needs.

We have designed six unique series which cover different aspects of business, providing tools and resources for you to use as you work to rebuild your business. In addition to these classes, we are sharing resource sheets designed to empower you to achieve your short- and long-term goals.

Help us as we invest in our community. Join us as we work to create the business world each of you has dreamed of. Allow us to help you achieve your dreams.

Power of Partnerships

Small business partnerships help provide extended budgets, allows for improved services to your clients, all while lowering your overhead. These strategic partnerships allow businesses to combine marketing dollars, share employees through collaborative efforts, or needed services. A partnership should add value to all businesses involved. For example, two businesses located on the same block or building could develop co-branded marketing materials. By combining their marketing budgets, they can purchase larger ads, advertise in more places, and reach a larger group of potential customers. A partnership like this also provides you with resources to share with your customers. When you refer customers to a quality business for a service you do not provide, this increases their loyalty with you, and your business becomes known as a resource, as well as a quality business.
