At 3Raptor Consulting we published two blogs in the last month:

- August 08: Resiliency, how important is it for a business owner? by Sara Paape
Resiliency can be defined as the ability to recover quickly from setbacks, difficulties, challenges, and roadblocks. As a business owner, having the capacity to quickly overcome a challenging situation is key, we do not have the luxury of stewing in our disappointment or licking our wounds. Rather, we must maintain the momentum which started the business, and for better or for worse, we must continue placing one foot in front of the other.

- August 22: Earning the respect of your employees and your community by Gus Orellana
This is the first in a series of three blogs dealing with key components for the success of any business or non-profit, us as individuals or business leaders, and our communities.

Upcoming Events, Training, and Blogs

Upcoming Events

We have partnered with Grady Brewer's Bad Boys Boxing and Fitness to organize and direct the boxing exhibition that will mark the beginning of the Grady Brewer Foundation.

Grady Brewer, a Lawton native, is hosting an Inaugural Boxing Exhibition on September 11 at 7:30 pm at Bad Boys Gym located at 118 SW B Street, Lawton, OK. The sparring match, featuring local amateur boxers, all trained by Brewer, will raise money for the Grady Brewer Foundation. Choosing to invest his talent in the youth of Lawton, Brewer's Foundation will provide scholarships for local youth to attend classes and train at the gym.

A Lawton native, Brewer owes his boxing fame to the community. Discovering boxing at a young age, Brewer attended a community program, developing a love for the sport. Striving to advance his professional sports career, his focus kept him out of trouble. Wanting to invest in his community, Brewer has turned his love of boxing into a program designed to engage our youth and give them a hope for the future.

Blogs scheduled for September

During the month of September we will be posting the following blogs:

September 5: What does failure mean to you? by Sara Paape

What does failure mean to you? When plans do not go as expected, when a deal falls through, when no one enrolls in a program, how do you define this? The larger question is how do you feel in the aftermath, do you feel like a failure and stop, or do you look at the larger picture and keep going?

September 19: Earning Customer Trust by Gus Orellana

This is the second in a series of three blogs dealing with key components for the success of any business or non-profit, us as individuals or business leaders, and our communities.

In order to be successful as business owners we must be able to earn the trust of our customers before we can succeed in our professional lives and endeavors.

You can view these in our web site on the posting date.

About us

Introducing our newest intern

Selina Comida - Happiness and Well Being Officer

Selina Comida was born February 3, 2021 in Oklahoma, and joined our interns May 6, 2021.

Like the rest of our interns she is a rescue dog, she survived Parvo at a tender age which slowed her growth, and she is doing very well now.

Selina Comida has been named Happiness and Well Being Officer, one of her great talents is to get our attention when it is time to laugh or to take a well-deserved and needed break. When not in her officer role she has demonstrated an immense amount of energy, her drill-sergeant voice carries well and gets everyone's attention.

We are very proud and happy to have her as part of our team in such a specific role.

First Monday in September: Labor Day. The first governmental recognition came through municipal ordinances passed in 1885 and 1886. From these, a movement developed to secure state legislation. The first state bill was introduced into the New York legislature, but the first to become law was passed by Oregon on February 21, 1887. During 1887, four more states – Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York – created the Labor Day holiday by legislative enactment. By the end of the decade Connecticut, Nebraska, and Pennsylvania had followed suit. By 1894, 23 more states had adopted the holiday, and on June 28, 1894, Congress passed an act making the first Monday in September of each year a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and the territories.
