

Michelle Reed is a Christian counselor in the wider Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo areas. She is in the final process of completing her M.A. in Marriage and Family Therapy and has an M.A. in Theological Studies from Westminster Seminary California. Her love for counseling grew from her experiences counseling alongside her husband Rev. Reed at Trinity URC. She has a Person-Centered approach to counseling wherein she meets with her clients with empathy, creating a nonjudgmental space for each person to feel seen, heard, and able to fully be their self. With her knowledge of theology she applies practical biblical wisdom and insight to life, providing an integrative approach to therapy. Michelle specializes in treating depression, anxiety, panic, eating disorders, trauma, and marriage, relationship, and family issues, but also believes counseling is helpful for everyone, for everyday matters of life. If you are feeling stressed, lonely, unsatisfied with life, or simply want tools for reaching your fullest potential, Michelle is excited to get to know you and work alongside you in your journey of healing and growth.
