

Arizona Veterinary Oncology and PetCure Oncology: The Ideal Partnership to Help Pets with Cancer

About Arizona Veterinary Oncology

Serving the greater Phoenix area, Arizona Veterinary Oncology is fully staffed with board-certified medical and radiation oncologists. This three location practice is the only one in the Phoenix metro area that provides complete oncological care, including diagnostics, chemotherapy, and radiation therapy. Arizona Veterinary Oncology will work as a team with you, your pet, and your family veterinarian to provide oncological care and ensure the best quality of life for your pet.

About PetCure Oncology

PetCure Oncology is the first to make the revolutionary radiosurgery treatment available to pets through a national network of radiation therapy centers. Led by renowned experts, PetCure Oncology is setting the standard for the delivery of cancer care.

The Partnership

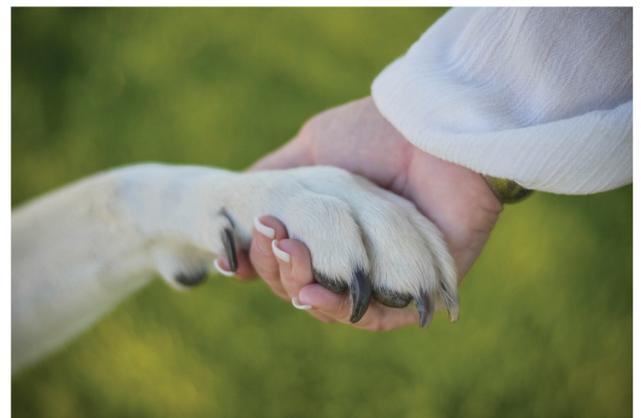

The Arizona Veterinary Oncology and PetCure Oncology partnership offers a radiation therapy program incorporating the Varian Trilogy® linear accelerator. This equipment, along with a team experienced in the administration of radiosurgery, provides access to a treatment that delivers precise dose radiation with a curative intent. Together we are bringing new hope to pets with cancer.

SRS

Stereotactic radiosurgery (SRS) is transforming the way in which we approach the treatment of many types of cancer in pets.

The partnership between Arizona Veterinary Oncology and PetCure Oncology is revolutionizing the delivery of care by offering the most advanced treatment options available.

We are certain you will find new reasons to hope —not just for an improved quality of life but for a cure.

A New and Better Way to Treat Cancer in Pets Is Here

Your pet's cancer diagnosis may be one of the most frightening things you will ever experience. Take comfort in knowing that new therapies are transforming the way in which we treat most cancers in dogs and cats.

One of these therapies is stereotactic radiosurgery (SRS). This advanced type of radiation therapy has been extremely effective in treating humans with cancer. Now, PetCure Oncology, in partnership with Arizona Veterinary Oncology, is revolutionizing the delivery of radiosurgery for pets.

What is Radiosurgery?

Radiosurgery is a non-invasive, non-surgical, painless treatment in which high doses of precisely focused radiation beams destroy the cancerous tumor—without damaging nearby healthy tissue. This breakthrough technology is making an enormous difference in the lives of pets and their families.

Varian Trilogy®

Proven – Safe – Precise – Convenient
> Providing Hope for a Cure

If your pet has been diagnosed with cancer, we are here to help. Talk to your primary care veterinarian about the options available at Arizona Veterinary Oncology through its partnership with PetCure Oncology.

Consider the Advantages of Care at a PetCure Oncology Center

Compare Equipment, Training, Expertise, Experience, and Service	PetCure Oncology	Standard Radiation Therapy Facility
Conventional radiation therapy: 15-20 treatments	⊙	⊙
Stereotactic radio surgery (SRS): 1-3 treatments	⊙
- SRS minimizes number and length of anesthesia: increased safety	⊙
- SRS minimizes normal tissue exposure to radiation: less side effects	⊙
- SRS offers more precise delivery of radiation to tumor	⊙
- SRS provides the ability to treat previously "untreatable" tumors	⊙
RapidArc therapy: 1-3 treatments, very short treatment time	⊙
Image-guided therapy: greatly improves accuracy	⊙
Real-time CT: improves treatment of tumor while minimizing setup	⊙
Clinical team with advanced experience in radiation therapy	⊙
A national network of radiation therapy centers	⊙
All inclusive service including assistance with pet-friendly travel accommodations	⊙

PetCure Oncology has the ability to provide many types of radiation therapy, ensuring your pet can receive the best possible treatment option for their specific type of cancer.

For more information on the indications for radiosurgery, please visit our websites, PetCureOncology.com and ArizonaVeterinaryOncology.com, or call 480.327.6690.